Well neighbor, they were thought to be much better, when together, than Northumberland ; and how a nearly equal division by a natural boundary, leaving near Four Million of taxable property on one side, and Three Million on the other, can appear "insignificant," don't appear evident to reason and common sense.

The Gazette also says, "The people of Lewisburg now talk of undertaking a fillibustering expedition into Lycoming, with longed to Union before the Court was taken to New Berlin. All wrong, again, neighbor : if the reannexation ever takes place, it will be only by the free act and will of the people themselves, regardless of the wishes of either Lewisburg or Williamsport.

KANE BACKING DOWN .- Well, John K. Kane consents that Passmore Williamson may come before him and "purge himself of contempt" by "making true answers to such interrogataries as may be addressed him by the Court." We hope he will do it ; but have no idea that he can make any more "true answers" than he has. Kane, we think, dare not confine him longer. And when he liberates him, we hope Wilhim for false imprisonment, and Congress impeach him for misdemeanor in office. "Cain I where is thy brother ?"
