"The Saw-Log Man's" Speech

AT THE PITTSBURG REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. Ind, and Reemelin of O. (the latter late Kline's Hotel, from Germany) bore down quite severely upon "SAM."

When Mr. Julian took his seat, a large, well dressed person, with a long nose and genuine Yankee countenance, mounted the audience was convulsed with laughter. He was introduced as "Hon. David Ripley, of New Jersey, the Saw Log man."

When order was somewhat restored, Mr. Ripley said he did not intend to speak to this 'ere convention ; he had been called out two or three times, but wasn't a goin' to sperchify, because he hadn't edication enough. But when he heard the abuse of Know Nothings, he was bound to speak cout, and he would speak cout. (Laughter long and loud.) I tell you, Mr. President, if it hadn't been for Know Nothingism, you wouldn't a had this 'ere Convention ! (Cries of "louder." As Ripley was speathis call caused a big burst of laughter.) this call caused a big burst of laughter.) I didn't come here to make a speech, but I guess I have a little gumption. Neow I'll blican President elected, everybody, even that gray-headed colored man there, will be willing to take by the hand Know Nothings, Know Somethings, or Know Apythings ! (laughter.)

As I said to Horace Greeley once, when he was a talkin' about these Know Nothings-and he abused 'em puty awful, toosays I, " Friend Horace, have they done any good ?"

"Why, yes," says Horace.

"Well, then," says I, "touch 'em light ! (more convulsions) ; but," says I, "Horace, if they do anything bad"-

A Voice : "Stick it to 'em !"

Ripley : Yes, that's it !... Gentlemen, I had the good fortune to be born in old Connecticut, (laughter); ain't she a State? But I wanted to say something about the Dutchman (Reemelin) that talked down on the Know Nothings so hard this afternoon. I was a good deal in his sitewation, once. Neow, (laughter at the deliberate and emphatic "neow") bere's brother Hall of New York, he says, Give us your platform. Neow I'll give you my platform. It was made thirty years ago. My platform I would fight for till I hadn't anything to fight with. My platform-thirty years and the Devil ! (Prolonged merriment.) I have always stuck to that platform. It's a good platform to swear by. When I made it. I was working for fifty cents a day, but I give something to them causes, and when I couldn't give cash I give work. (applause.) I am a worker, I tell yeou. I come here as a worker. I ain't edicated, nor got much larnin', but I generally know what's what. I wouldn't have said any-what's what. I wouldn't have said any-Farm in Kelly Tp., near Lewisburg. Aug. 10, 1855. GEORGE MEIXELL. pitched into the K. N.'s. Noow, then, it

City of the West. This Institution, although ret in its infancy, has no superior in the Great West, and has already annually more Students than the four other Medical Collegee of Cincinnati combined. It is sending physicians to all parts of our globe, and in Ohio, Indians, Ac, they will soon be more numerous than any other class of physicians. The principal difference between the Reformed (new) or Eelectic, and the old Alfopathic system of medicine, is this the New School uses no medicinal agent that is in any way injurious to the human system, such as Calomel, Arsenic, Antimony, Ac; for superior and harmless agents have of late years been discotretel, (by the ever liberal and progressive physicians of the New School.) that are complete subulitates for those deleterious melhines. PRECOMPLAY DATIONS. PREASA, Aug 13, 1847. I have this day carefully inspected a conductor of Liphtning Rod, with vane and index, erected by Mr. Thomas Armitage, on Belleue House, Gloucester, and have no hesitation in eaving that it is not only the best i have ever seen, but that it is the only one I have yet examined that is constructed on strictly scientific price ples. It is with much pleasare that I recommend his conductor to the attention of owners of buildings. H. MCMURTRIE.

conductor to the attention of owners of buildings. I. MCMURTHIN I. am well satisfied that the Magnetic Liphtning Red manufactured by Mr. Thomas Armitage, of Philadelphia is the best that has ever been male. Thevergent several remarks in the study of the have of electricity and magnet-ies and have no hesitation in a sying that these flods are constructed upon the only principle of sadisty. The electric shock is received and dispersed by the magnet at the top of the red, and it would be impossible, according to the law of attraction and repulsion, for a building to be injured by a stroke of lightning when protected by one of these rods. I have been negutined with Mr. Armitage for several years, and before be commenced the manufa-ture of these rods and the convinced that their adoption would be attended with complete success. The increasing demand for these rods and the extensiverales in all parts of the country, is ample commendation of their utility and superiority. TRACY & WALLER, M. D.
