AN HONEST MAN.

I care not if a man has wealth,
Like Croesus, famed of old;
The wealth of land, the wealth of ships,
Or silver, or of gold;
Though fortune claims him for her own,
Success attend each plan;
He's not the noblest work of God,
Unless—an honest man.

I care not if a man is wise,
Like Solomon of old;
Or if for wit, or eloquence,
Or learning, he's extolled;
Though he should know all men could teach
Since first this world began,
He's not the noblest work of God,
Unless—an honest man.

I care not if to suffering poor
A man his aid extends,
And gives the homeless and oppressed
The warmest, truest friends;
And though, degraded, he may strive
To raise them all he can,
He's not the noblest work of God,
Unless—an honest man.

A man may gain his worldly wealth
'Gainst laws of man and God;
A villain may seek learning's store
To near mankind applaud;
A man of crime, for pardon's sake,
May do what good he can;
No one can be the noblest work
Unless—an honest man.

But he who gives each man his due,
Who no past claims will slight,
But always acts in everything
As conscience says is right,
Who treats each one with whom he deals
As fairly as he CAN;
He is the noblest work of God—
He is an honest man.

Extracts from a Great Historical Novel, now in press, entitled

ANNERLISER!!!

OR,

The Bandit of Gumbile Island!

'Twas night!—gloomy, dark and silent night. The stillness sonaghing around the Island was unbroken. Within the castle, on her virgin couch, lay Annerliser; but sleep came not to her eyes, nor slumber to her eyelids. Restlessly she tossed to and fro on her downy bed. At length she rose—desperation in her eye, determination in her walk, and a jacknife in her hand. She proceeded to the kitchen, and, stooping over the hearth, she gathered some splints of wood, and proceeded, with demoniac eagerness, to form points fo them with the aforesaid jacknife.

"What horrors was she about to perpetrate?" Were the dread scenes of the Spanish Inquisition about to be re-enacted, and were those splinters destined to pierce the tender flesh of her sire's unfortunate prisoners?

Suddenly a sound was heard near her—a strange, mysterious sound! Looking up from her unholy work, she beheld the stern features of her sire.

"Who is it that thus dare intrude upon the midnight silence of Castile Gumbile? It is you, oh! my daughter: and what calls my child from her bed at this dread hour of night? Some duty unperformed, perhaps, for methought I heard the steady, pulse-like strokes of the knife."

Slowly and sobbingly, the maiden's answer came forth: "Oh, my father, the fact of the business is, I am trying to plug up this infernal old coffee-pot, so that it will hold agin morning!"

The parent's anxious heart was satisfied. Embracing his beauteous, self sacrificing child, and seizing a corn-dodger and a pickle, he quickly left the room!

IN A SQUALL!—To get smashed up on the Allegheny, in a high flood, is no desirable job. One wishes that he was safely out of the snap and he is sure he will never be fool enough to be caught on a raft again. But the tightest place to get into was found by a crew last week. They had a family on board. One woman, (as women sometimes do) had along with her a baby. The raft stove. She, with woman like curiosity, ran back to see what was up, leaving the "little 'un" asleep in the "shanty." All at once the raft parted, leaving four men, one woman and no baby on one piece, and two men, one "shanty" and one baby on the other. Of course it squalled and she squalled, while the men had all they could do without trying to manage the "weaker vessels." Luckily, however, a skiff was procured and the mother was restored to the "shanty" and the baby, "beas its 'ittle heart!" She hasn't left it since!—Warren Mail.

Gen. Houston—who has long been a practical temperance man—surprised the U. S. Senate, the other day, by introducing into that body a large bowl of coffee, standing upon a huge saucer, from which as he spoke against the action of the late Naval Board, he would take a sup now and then. There would not have been much "surprise" manifested had it been a bowl of whiskey or brandy.

KEEPING UP THE JOKE.—One of our Fillmore and donelson exchanges says: "The union of the true and trusted Americans in the support of the National Ticket is PERFECT. Our candidates are gaining strength daily." Enough said—Roorback may retire to private life.

Dunning, afterwards Lord Ashburton, was "stating the law" to a jury at Guildhall, when Lord Mansfield interrupted him by saying, "If that be law, I'll go home and burn my books." "You had much better go home and read them," said Dunning.

In the Roman Catholic college, Maynooth, (Ireland) the Students are absolutely prohibited from reading Newspapers. (Want to make 'em genuine K. N.'s.)

Great Improvements!

Hussey's American Reaper & Mower

FOR 1856....This Machine was put in successful operation in 1833, and continued to be the only Reaper and Mowing Machine in the World of any pratical value up to 1845—twelve years after its introduction. Other Reapers are now offered with glowing Advertisements and Certificates of Gold and Silver Medals. But the Farmer, in search of the best Reaper, and not posted in the matter, had better see a little farther. One of the other Reapers took the great medal in England, at the premature trial in 1851, before the close of the harvest of the same year, however it was totally beaten by a HUSSEY REAPER, which received the unanimous award of an impartial Jury of twelve English farmers. The fact is that Hussey's machine is achieving a series of triumphs in England, and rapidly obtaining that pre-eminent position there, which it has already secured in the land of its origin.

If there is any value in 23 years' experience in building Reapers, and using them in the harvest field, OBED HUSSEY, the Father of Reapers, can claim it. All who are satisfied with the BEST REAPER AND MOWER can be supplied by sending their orders early in the season, as the crops indicate a large demand, and we can not have over 200 Reapers ready for the vast harvest of 1856.

We would refer to the following gentlemen, who have used Hussey's machines for several years, and will testify to their superiority:

FIRE PROOFS!

The Satamander Safes, of Philadelphia, against the World!

EVANS & WATSON, No. 26, S. Fourth St., Philad'a, have had the surest demonstration in the following Certificates, that their manufacture of Salamander Safes has at length fully warranted the representations which have been made of them, as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element:

PHILADELPHIA, April 12, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON—Gentlemen—It affords me the highest satisfaction to state to you, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we purchased of you some few months since, we saved a large portion of our Deeds, Books, Papers, &c., exposed to the calamitous fire in Rainbird Place, on the morning of the 11th inst.

When we first had those Safes we located in the fourth story of the building we occupied, and that they fell subsequently into a heap of burning ruins, where the most concentration of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of the valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes.

We shall take much pleasure in recommending them to men of business as a sure reliance against fire.

GEORGE W. SIMONS & BRO.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON—I have to offer you my testimony in favor of the great security afforded to my entire stock of jewelry, books, papers, &c., during the recent disastrous conflagration in Rainbird place, from the fact that the same were contained in two of the Salamander Safes so manufactured by you.

Having fallen from the fifth story of the Artisan Building, where they were previously placed only exposed to a west heat for a long time, the destruction of the building did not seem to every one who witnessed the opening and interior examination, a matter of profound astonishment.

To all who may require a perfect protection from the ravages of fire, I shall not hesitate to recommend the use of your safes, as I consider they have now undergone the most trying test.

N. E. MORGAN.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON—Gentlemen—No doubt you will be deeply gratified to learn the good condition in which I discovered my book, policy of insurance, certificate of stock, and other valuable documents, when on Friday last I opened the safe made by your firm.

With my knowledge of the great expansion, both to the interiors of the heat from so fierce a fire as that which destroyed the Artisan Building, as also from the force of the fall from its former elevated position in the third story, I could entertain for a moment no hope prior to the interior inspection, that the contents which I once so highly prized would ever be of any further use to me. Instead of these fears are now happily removed. I feel it only due to you, that I can less efforth to recommend the use of your Safes to all who may wish to feel a confidence in the part of security which such means provides against so frightful an element.

The peculiar improvement in the construction of this Matress is, that all the clumsy and heavy wooden frame work is entirely dispensed with, and its place supplied by a lighter and much more durable frame, the springs are all connected by harness leather hinges, securely riveted, rende ing it impossible for a single spring to fall down or get out of place, and making a Bed so elastic that any part may be raised or bent up, and is thus admirably fitted to the wants of the sick or asthmatic who may require a sitting posture, having the luxurious softness of the best Feather Bed with the lightness and facility of handling of the common Hair Matress.

These improved Spring Beds are invariably made of the best materials, and will last many years without repairs.

Persons having Hair Matresses, can have them altered into Spring Beds.

These Beds are well adapted for Hotels, berths of Ships, Steamboats and Hospitals.

Spring Seats for Chairs, Carriages or Church Pews and Hair and Husk Matresses made to order.—Also an extensive assortment of highly ornamented (in enamel) and plain finished
