The Great "Unsettled."

James Buchanan is the man that never settled anything. He "settled" down a Federalist in early life—but his conscience becoming "unsettled," he turned out a full fledged Democrat. As a diplomatist he undertook to "settle" the Oregon controversy, by holding out for "54 40" as "clear and unquestionable"—but his claim in that business, was awfully "unsettled" by the acceptance of some five degrees less. He "settled" the question that Slavery ought never to be admitted into Missouri even; was clearly "settled" that it should never extend any further; next "settled" that it might have all south of 36 30, even to the Pacific ocean; but, "everything by turns and nothing long," he is now "settled" in his conviction that Slavery may have all it can get north of that line. He was "settled" in his opinion that the Tariff of '42 was safer in Polk's hands, than in Clay's; and also "settled" into unresisting acquiescence when Polk devoted all his power to "unsettle" that Tariff. He tried to "settle" the Cuban question, at Ostend, and declared that the Slavery interest demanded its acquisition: but, failed, and left it an "unsettled" question. He was "settled" in his opinion that the U. S. Bank was a good and necessary thing; and just as "settled" that it was a bad and unnecessary thing. He was "settled" in his conviction that "foreigners" were a curse to our country; and afterwards "settled" that they were an honor and a blessing. He "settled" on a grand estate at Wheatland, but never more than a quarter "settled" it, for there is no "settler" in partnership, and no little "settlers" rising up to give it a "settled" appearance. He thought the Compromise of '50 "settled" everything, and that the election of Pierce confirmed the "settlement," but now thinks the Repeal of the Missouri Compromise was necessary to perfect the "settlement," and that his election is now necessary to make a complete "settlement" plu-perfect. He went to England, but "settled" nothing. He came away leaving everything "unsettled." He tried to, but did not, "settle" the Enlistment dispute. He did not "settle" the Central American question. He did not "settle" the disputed arbitration of the Clayton Bulwer Treaty. In short, he "settled" nothing. Altogether he has led a very unsettled life. Heaven—and we don't believe he ever will. He told his friends in the Cincinnati Convention that they might "settle" the Platform of the party just as the South wanted it, if they would only "settle" on him for President. The "Settlers" of Kansas and their sympathizers will "settle" his disordered ambition, and thenceforth be and Pierce will be permanent fixtures—"SETTLED" AT HOME FOR LIFE!

A Limit to Power.

Many of the political friends and adherents of Gen. Jackson, during his administration, believed that the old hero was equal to any undertaking, however difficult or desperate. A Virginia drover, however, once expressed an opinion during the height of old Hickory's popularity, that there actually was one thing, which even he was unable to do. The story is thus related:

"As a delegate to the Abington Railroad Convention was returning home, he overtook a drove of several hundred cattle, when the following dialogue passed between him and some of the drovers:

Delegate.—Well, gentlemen, you have mustering times of it; but in a few years you may possibly have a better way of getting cattle to market.

Drover—In what way, stranger?

Delegate.—Why haven't you heard that a railroad was to be made from Knoxville down to Lynchburg?

Drover.—Well, what has that to do with driving cattle? I suppose they can't travel on a railroad?

Delegate.—No; but it is said they may be taken in pens on a railway. What would you think of a large pen, containing fifty or a hundred beef cattle, mounted on wheels, and traveling along a railroad at the rate of ten or fifteen miles an hour?

Drover.—Now, stranger, do you think it possible for such a thing as that to be done?

Delegate.—Why, such things are spoken of.

Drover.—Well, it may be so—I never saw a railroad—but I'll be shot if General Jackson himself could do it!"

A SCHOOL DEMONSTRATION IN OHIO.—The State Association of the Teachers of Ohio, held at Mansfield, last week, their semi-annual meeting. We are told that about five hundred teachers were present. The citizens of Mansfield gave them a splendid entertainment on Thursday evening. One of the toasts prepared for the occasion, was "Free soil, free men, free schools." As the President of the evening announced this toast, the whole assembly, as with one voice, shouted out, "And Fremont!"

QUITE A DIFFERENCE.—Some reckless opponents of Fremont have got a rowdy as reckless as they to testify that Fremont "attends Mass." The statement is a malicious fabrication, but it is certain that the "masses" attend Fremont!

Frank'n Pierce was elected to the Presidency by an overwhelming majority of the nation because he was not known. He has been dropped by general consent because he is.—Washington Organ.

The Boston Post is in a great deal of trouble because Fremont and his companions were once obliged to "eat dog flesh." Better eat dog than dirt, Mr. Post.—Boston Atlas.

Great Improvements!

Hussey's American Reaper & Mower

FOR 1856....This Machine was put in succesful operation in 1833, and continued to be the only Reaper and Mowing Machine in the World of any pratical value up to 1845—twelve years after its introduction. Other Reapers are now offered with glowing Advertisements and Certificates of Gold and Silver Medals. But the Farmer, in search of the best Reaper, and not posted in the matter, had better see a little further. One of the other Reapers took the great medal in England, at the premature trial in 1851; before the close of the harvest of the same year, however, it was totally beaten by a HUSSEY REAPER which received the unanimous award of an impartial Jury of twelve English farmers. The fact is that Hussey's machine is achieving a series of triumphs in England and rapidly obtaining that proper seat position there, which it has already secured in the land of its origin.

If there is any value in 23 years' experience in building Reapers, and using them in the harvest field, OBED HUSSEY, the Father of Reapers, can claim it. All who are satisfied with the HUSSEY REAPER AND MOWER can be supplied by sending their orders early in the season, as the crops indicate a large demand, and we can not have over 200 Reapers ready for the vast harvest of 1856.

We would refer to the following gentlemen, who have used Hussey's machines for several years, and will testify to their superiority:

FIRE PROOFS!

The Salamander Safes, of Philadelphia, against the World!

EVANS & WATSON, No. 26, S. Fourth St., Philad., have had the surest demonstration in the following Certificates, that their manufacture of Salamander Safes has at length fully warranted the representations which have been made of them, as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element:

PHILADELPHIA, April 12, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON—I affords us the highest satisfaction to state to you, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we purchased of you some few months since, we saved a large portion of our Jewelry, Books, Papers, &c., exposed to the calamitous fire in Banstead Place, on the morning of the 11th inst.

When we reflect that those Safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied, and that they fell subsequently into a heap of burning ruins, where the most concentrated of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of the valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes.

We shall take much pleasure in recommending them to men of business as a sure defiance against fire.

GEORGE W. SIMONS & BRO.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON—I have to offer you my testimony in favor of the great security afforded to my entire stock of jewelry, books, papers, &c., during the recent disastrous conflagration in Banstead place, from the fact that the same were concluded in two of the Salamander Safes now contained by you.

Having fallen from the fifth story of the Artisan Building, where they were originally placed and exposed to a west heat for a long time, the preservation of the valuable deposits seemed to every one who witnessed the opening and interior examination, a matter of profound astonishment.

To all who may require a perfect protection from the ravages of fire, I shall not hesitate to recommend the use of your Safes as I consider they have now undergone the most trying test.

N. E. MORGAN.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14, 1856

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON—Gentlemen—No doubt you will be deeply gratified to learn the good condition in which I discovered my book, policy of insurance, certificates of stock, and other valuable documents, when on Friday last I opened the safe made by your firm.

With my knowledge of its great exposure, both to the intensity of the heat from so hot a fire as that which destroyed the Artisan Building, as also from the force of the fall from its former elevated position in the third story, I could entertain but slender hopes prior to its interior inspection, that the contents which I once so highly prized would ever be of any service to me, but as these fears are now happily removed, I feel it only due to say to you, that I can best testify to the merit of your Safes to all who may wish to feel a confidence in the perfect security which such means provides against so frightful an element.

The peculiar improvement in the construction of this Matress is, that all the clumsy and heavy wooden frame work is entirely dispensed with, and its place supplied by a lighter and much more durable frame, the springs are all connected by harness-leather hinges, securely riveted, rendering it impossible for a single spring to fall down or get out of place, and making a Bed so elastic that any part may be raised or bent up, and is thus admirably fitted to the wants of the sick or asthmatic who may require a sitting posture, having the luxurious softness of the best Feather Bed with the lightness and facility of handling of the common Hair Matress.

These improved Spring Beds are invariably made of the best materials, and will last many years without repairs.

Persons having Hair Matresses, can have them altered into Spring Beds.

These Beds are well adapted for Hotels, berths of Ships, Steamboats and Hospitals.

Spring Seats for Chairs, Carriages or Church Pews and Hair and Husk Matresses made to order.—Also an extensive assortment of highly ornamented (in enamel) and plain finished
