For the Lewisburg Chronicle. The Song of the Conservative, OR, " NEUTRAL IN POLITICS.

O for the halovon days Of Hunker reign ! The noise Reformers raise Distracts my brain ! As things may chance to start,

So let them go. Why should the wrongs of Man Afflict us so !

The Ouster is a same Far down he lies And to the storms above He shuts his eyes.

Or, if he has no eyes, He shuts his shell, And who'll be President He can not tell !

The Clam's conservative. He'll never " jaw," And who is right or wrong Cares not a straw.

The Clam, the Oyster, be My patterns dear : To all discussions 'round I'll close cach ear!

Republicanism in the South.

He says the men of the South who favor FREMONT are numerous, but they dare not make an organized movement to give force to their sentiments, as the dominant opinion is fieudishly intolerant. He mentioned that he knew, personally, one gentleman in Mississippi, a very wealthy citizen, and the owner of 200 slaves, who is an open and ardent advocate of the election of FRE-MONT. His wealth and social position protected him in the enjoyment of freedom of speech-giving him the especial privilege of talking as he pleased. The same feeling is growing in Tennessee. Col. THORN-TON having lately stated in a speech at Memphis that there were three hundred Fremont voters in that city, Foulke's Financial Express of the 6th inst. says :

"We take no great interest in politics; we leave this for those who want office, and who have more toste, and greater information of politicians and public measures, than we have or profess to have. We believe that we have full five hundred voters who prefer Fremont to either Fillmore or Buchanan in this city and county, and would cast their votes for him, in preference to either of the other candidates for the Fresidency, provided there was a Frein at ticket in the State. We think the hives, honey-basis and chambers. The work and progress of the Bees may be seen in the hives, honey-basis and feed-drawers. 639 opiaion expressed by Col. J. B.
