Similar to this is the spirit evinced verely, and thirty-four slightly wounded can party. Never have we known a party which has-not been defeated. but simply failed of complete success - to feel so proud of their Cause and of their Standard bearers. Not they who glory in the fact that they voted for the defeated HENRY CLAY-nor those who recur with heart-felt satisfaction to the ballot they deposited for WINFHELD SCOTT-rejoice more in the recollection than we who at the last election confided our suffrages to JOHN CHARLES FREMONT. We glory in the Man and in the Cause.

From every part of the Free States we see proofs of this spirit. Re-organization of Clubs, and re-nomination of Fremont, is the common, sympathetic movement. And while our party firmly believe the legal majority of our countrymen have misjudged the momentous issue, "we bate no jot of hope" for the welfare of our common | country.

" Freedom's battle, once begun, Bequesties d from bleeding size to son, Though halled off, is ever son." The veteraus in the cause may echo
