

Lewisburg Chronicle.

DECEMBER 19, 1856.

BY O. N. WORDEN & J. R. CORNELLIS.

FOR PRESIDENT: JOHN C. FREMONT

FOR VICE PRESIDENT: WM. L. DAYTON

With next week's paper—No. 663—will close the NINTH year of the CHRONICLE under the present Proprietor, and the 24th of the existing Firm. It also closes a year paid for by many.

It is in accordance with our rule—which we find more and more approved, as it is tried—we shall not send the paper abroad on credit to any one, unless we know it desired and secured. Prompt payments in advance, is the printer's golden rule.

We think we have as fair a lot of paying patrons as any other printer; and yet, on looking over our books, we find enough due us from responsible men to pay all our debts—a matter of interest to others as well as ourselves, for all like to see "a good joke go round."

The New Year is a proper and convenient time for the settlement of all accounts, and while about it, don't forget that little bill of the Printer's!

COURT.—The commission of Jno W. SIMONSON as Associate Judge was read at the opening of Court, and he took his seat.

The commissions of SAMUEL ROUSN, Prothonotary, were also read.

JAMES B. HAMILIN, Esq., was sworn in as District Attorney.

Thomas Cornelius was appointed Foreman of the Grand Jury, which found little business before it, and was discharged on Tuesday. They visited the Court House, and appeared to be pleased with it.

The first Jury Trials were the two of Commonwealth vs. David B. Kaufman. Verdicts—Not Guilty.

Kremer vs. Brien—Jury find $840 for PIF.

Com'th vs. D. & S. Weidensaul—Jury out.

Com'th vs. Frederick Worman—Jury out.

Freedom for Kansas!

With all parties at the North, during the late Presidential canvass, the battle-cry was FREEDOM FOR KANSAS!

And there were many thousands in the South who sympathized with the sentiment. The election having passed, all who REALLY desire to secure that fair land from the great evil, should still labor for that end.

As a direct, PRACTICAL effort, it is thought that fair land from the great evil, should still labor for that end.

PAID UP.—The following Collectors of Union county have settled up their Duplicates for the current year: George Kleckner, West Buffalo. Christian Winter, New Berlin. Jacob Keiser, Kelly. Andrew Kennedy, N. W. Lewisburg. Wm. Cameron, pr A. K., S. W.

East Buffalo will doubtless be on hand by the time of the County Settlement; and can not the first year of our new organization be characterized by a settlement of ALL the Duplicates, as is done yearly in several counties less wealthy than ours?

SNYDER COUNTY.—Of the five prisoners in Jail last week, one was bound over, the others acquitted.

The Grand Jury voted to accept the new County Edifices from the Building Committee: but a majority of the Judges did not concur.

John Kahler, of Beaver Tp, aged 40 years, was killed on Monday week by being struck by a piece of timber in an old barn in which he was at work.

Freeburg Academy.

The new edifice for this institution—a so beautifully located in the richest little valley in Snyder county—is now finished and occupied by the flourishing School under the care of Prof. M'Farland, with able assistants. The new building is a noble monument of the liberality and enterprise of the citizens of Freeburg and vicinity, who have erected this after the loss of their first by fire. It is surmounted by an excellent bell weighing 812 lbs., which, we are informed, is frequently heard at the distance of 6 and 7 miles.

The Trustees have engaged a Teacher of Instrumental Music for next session, and otherwise made arrangements that add to the interest of the school.

The present session closes on Wednesday next, Dec. 24th, with an Exhibition and Examination, to which the public are respectfully invited. The next Session will commence on the first Tuesday (6th) of January, 1857.

CALIFORNIA.—Dates to the 20th ult, bring no news of importance. Election news not complete, but as far as in foot as follows:

Buchanan, Fillmore, Fremont San Francisco 5,593 1,624 5,985 Whole State 42,490 28,327 16,721

(So it seems while Fremont is a head of his opponents at their homes, they are both ahead of him at his home.)

The State Senate stands 18 Dem., 12 Am., 3 Am. House also Democratic.

In San Francisco, the Republican and Whig papers carried, and many reforms are expected of the new City Administration.

STATE CONVENTION.—The Democrats of Pennsylvania have called a State Convention, to meet in Harrisburg on the 2d of March, to nominate a candidate for Governor, Canal Commissioner, &c. That day has been fixed for the Convention so as to enable the members and other Democrats in attendance upon the Convention to visit Washington during the inauguration of James Buchanan.

Messrs. Editors.—In a recent number of your paper, appears an elaborate eulogy upon the Germans of Pennsylvania, by a preacher, formerly an ardent partizan editor, and himself one of the class upon whom he bestows such extravagant praise with such liberal hand. I say nothing of the modesty or of the impartiality of the performance, but would say that he must be a man not "to the manner born," and of world-wide observation, who may hope to separate and characterize the merits of the descendants of the first settlers of our State. The Quakers, the Scotch Irish, the Welch, the Swedes, and natives of New and Old England, laid the foundations for Pennsylvania's greatness, before the German element became felt, although their superiority in numbers only has since given them a preponderating influence in several counties.

Pennsylvanians removing from out the State, and mingling with emigrants from other States, exercise a greater relative influence, in Church and State, than they did before such removal.

In truth, I see no propriety whatever in the vast superiority necessarily taught by Rev. Mr. Hutter's article. Any men who travel in the Free States, can find quite as prosperous, honest, and home-loving communities, as the German.

I may add without offence, that the picture of the exclusive devotion of our German population to rural pursuits, can not be recognized by nine-tenths of them. It may well apply to the Mennonites, the Amish, the Dunkards, and several other small sects, whose purity of life, entire attention to farming, and kindly charities to each other, are known and acknowledged. But take the Lutherans, the Reformed, and the 'Church of Pennsylvania,' and I ask any one to say whether in proportion to numbers they are more devoted to farming than the Scotch Irish or other early settlers. Look at our mechanics, merchants, professional men, money lenders—look at our paupers and criminals—our holders of office and seekers of office—look at our lists of state defaulters and of failing Bank officers—look over the long lists, in the Acts of Assembly, of persons desiring special legislation—and then say if Rev. Mr. Hutter's portrait is faithful to the original. Skeepspeare I think it is who says "Comparisons are odious;" they are especially so when erroneous, even if not invidious. CEIL.

At the first quarterly meeting of the Lewisburg Republican Association, 16th Dec. 1856, it was Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to draft a Petition asking Congress at its present session to admit Kansas as a Free State. Committee—Messrs. Worden, Eli Slifer, Pennington, Bliss and Griggs Marsh.

A report from the committee on regulations for the reading room, was presented and adopted.

By request, Samuel Weirick Esq. made some appropriate remarks, followed by Mr. Worden, who moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That we recommend to our friends in this and surrounding counties, this winter, to form Associations, for the dissemination of information, that every portion of our country may be prepared for the coming and inevitable contests between Slavery and Freedom.

After remarks by the mover, Mess. Slifer, Weirick, and Palmer, the resolution was adopted, and the meeting adjourned. JOHN BARNES, Sec. pro tem.

The following is the beginning of the List of Foreigners who were naturalized in Pennsylvania during the year preceding the last Presidential Election:

Table with 2 columns: County and Number. Includes Schuylkill county (1148), Cambria (355), Lancaster (350), Wayne (332), Blair (315), Montgomery (180), Susquehanna (170), Chester (117), Clinton (100), Dauphin (77), Center (42), Mifflin (50), Cumberland (26), Potter (22), Adams (19), Union (9), Juniata (2).

17 Counties 3324

These do not embrace one third of the State, yet the number is already greater than the Democratic majority at either the Oct. or Nov. election.

In addition to the legal naturalization papers issued, it has been proved that in Philadelphia fraudulent papers were sent out from the Democratic Prothonotary's office, and hundreds if not thousands of illegal votes were received at Democratic precincts in that city! The evidence is accumulating that Buchanan is successful by alien and false voters.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Our community was startled last evening by receiving information that Jacob M. Haldeman, Esq., one of our oldest, wealthiest and most respectable citizens had died suddenly, at his residence, in Front street, of apoplexy. He was seated at the time in his office, engaged in conversing with one of his sons, to whom but a moment previous to the fatal event, in reply to a question relative to his health, he remarked that he "never felt better in his life." The deceased was perhaps the most extensive land-owner in our borough, and has been well known in financial circles throughout the State. At the time of his death he held the post of President of the Harrisburg Bank, having been elected to that post shortly after the demise of Thos. Elder, Esq.—Harrisburg Telegraph, Dec. 16.

The following law was passed last winter by the Legislature, and received Gov. Pollock's signature on the 6th ult.:

Be it enacted, &c., That the thirtieth section of the act approved the sixteenth of April, 1850, entitled "An Act regarding banks," be, and the same is hereby extended to all incorporated banking, saving fund, trust and insurance companies, which said companies shall be subject to the provisions of the said section: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall authorize any savings bank, trust, or other company as aforesaid, to create any bank note or certificate in the similitude of a bank note: Provided, further, That this act shall not go into effect until the first day of July next.

BUFFALO, Dec. 15.—The storm of yesterday was very severe in this vicinity, and accompanied with hail and snow. Great damage was done to property, and several warehouses were unroofed. A number of buildings in the lower parts of the city were flooded, and many buildings entirely destroyed. The steeple of the Lafayette Street Church was blown down during the services. Fortunately, no one was injured.

Cornelius Van Voorhis, Chairman of the Inspectors of Election in the Third District of the Twelfth Ward in the City of New York, has been held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars, to answer for the alleged frauds committed in that district during the election. He is charged with having altered the returns. About two dozen other Inspectors are charged with similar offences.

A New Yorker, who fired a revolver in a street in London, was let off with a light fine on the ground that it was a common practice in the United States, where no party thought anything of it. The Lord Mayor said it was a very surprising state of society, but he was not prepared to dispute the fact.

Missouri reports, says the Tribune, indicate the success of a coalition by which Col. Benton of the Benton party and the Hon. Leath M. Knouett (Americans) of the present House are to be chosen United States Senators.

P. E. Herbert, the water murderer, finds California too hot for him, and has emigrated to the East.

For the Lewisburg Chronicle. Reception Day. MESSRS. EDITORS: We read in your paper of last week a notice that a "Reception" would be held in our "Lewisburg Academy," on Wednesday of this week. In attendance we found parents and friends, young and old; quite a considerable number of our families represented by the presence of one or more of their members. The exercises consisted of Recitations, Compositions and Declamations. The pupils who study Latin and Greek with Mr. Randolph recited readiness and accuracy; and the proficiency of the class in Geometry gave evidence of pains-taking and success.

The girls (for we do like that dear, familiar word, "girls") recited well in Natural Philosophy and in the Elements of Mental Science. A "Guest" was there, formerly a pupil, who contributed to the interest of the occasion with a well-written Essay. The Valedictory was composed and delivered in an earnest and manly spirit. May the Lord guide and prosper the young man who pronounced it! The Bible is a text-book in this Academy, and the Essays, on Reception Day, showed that those who wrote them had read the truths of that Holy Book.

It is a hopeful indication for us, Messrs. Editors, that intelligent and evangelical families, without distinction of religious denomination or political party, continue in an unshaken determination to uphold an Institution connected with the energy, impartiality, kindness and religious principle which characterize the management of the Lewisburg Academy. We rejoice with Mr. Randolph at the success with which he has been favored in his good work, and we wish him and his scholars the highest prosperity. A PARENT. Lewisburg, Dec. 18, 1856.

Slave Conspiracies. There has recently been great excitement and alarm in parts of Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Florida, and Virginia, in consequence of reports, widely spread, about a concerted plan of insurrection among the slaves. Doubtless, the reports were greatly exaggerated, but they had the effect to produce great commotion, fear and dread, among the whites. Some evidence was thrown upon the plans and purposes of the slaves, from the discovery of the arms and ammunition they had collected in several localities. Some twenty or thirty negroes have been summarily executed, and two or three white men, who were supposed to be in guilty complicity with them have shared a like fate.

A negro insurrection fully under way, would present scenes of carnage and woe, horrible beyond what any poet or tongue could portray. But, we are surprised that the "peculiar institution," do not see, in the events which have just occurred, that they stand on a volcano, which may, at any moment, burst forth with destructive energy, and sweep everything before it. Instead of agitating the question of re-opening the slave trade, instead of trying to force slavery into territory now free, we are amazed that they do not exercise their wits and their wisdom in devising some plan for their own security, and for the gradual amelioration and removal of the complicated evils which press upon them. This is peculiarly and exclusively their province and business. We beg, however, to remind them, that they can not abrogate or contravene those laws which are immutable and eternal in the affairs of men. If the God of nature and of Providence has not ordained human slavery to be perpetual, they can not make it so.

"The question, however, how was this impression of the emancipation of the slaves so broadly diffused among the Southern slave population as is evident from these reported conspiracies? Not by the Fremont party in the South; for no man was allowed south of Mason and Dixon's line to write, print or speak anything in favor of Fremont's election. Those negroes could only have taken their cue from such imprudent and boisterous fire-eating political nigger drivers as Gov. Wise, Chevalier Brooks, Keitt and Siddell, and such. During the campaign, they prated to Southern audiences, with negroes all around them, of Fremont as an abolitionist—of his designs to drive the slaveholders out of Kansas, and to turn all the slaves of the South loose, to kill, burn and destroy. The negroes picked up their ears and listened, and they were told further, that there was every probability that Fremont would be elected, and that then the only safety to the South would be to withdraw from the Union, and arm for civil war. Taking these hints and putting them together, over their cabin fires, we dare say, took their white masters at their word, and proceeded to arrange their plans accordingly for a counter-movement of rebellion."

DR. KANE.—It is with unfeigned sorrow we learn that the health of this enterprising, heroic explorer has not improved by his visit to England. Severe night sweats and a racking cough, with a general debility of his system, rendered it necessary, in the judgment of his medical advisers, that he should pass the winter in the West India Islands.

Great are the mysteries of Ocean Postage. It costs more now to send an ounce of paper to Europe than it does a barrel of flour. A man may have a state-room; eat, drink, sleep and lounge all over the ship, and yet a quiet mail-bag, that has stood all the time in a dark corner, is charged seven times as much passage money as he is!

D., HAVING permanently located in Lewisburg, Pa., respectfully tenders his Professional Services to the citizens of this town and vicinity, hoping by prompt attention to the duties of his profession to merit a share of their patronage. Attention will also be paid to Chronic Diseases of every name, and treated with unparalleled success. The superior faculty of the New or American Eclectic system, he commenced its study, and attended two courses of Lectures in the Reformed or American Eclectic Medical College of the Queen City of the West. This Institution, although not in its infancy, has an interest to the student, and has already acquired more than the four other Medical Colleges of Cincinnati combined. It is a leading physician in all parts of the world, and, as they will soon be more numerous than any other class of physicians.

The principal difference between the B-formula (new) and the old Allopathic system of medicine, is that the B-formula is not directed against the disease, but against the cause of the disease. It is not a mere palliative, but a remedial agent, and its use is not confined to the treatment of the disease, but extends to the prevention of its recurrence. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy, and its use is not confined to the treatment of the disease, but extends to the prevention of its recurrence.
