

TWO LOVE STORIES, "ending well."

Once upon a time, a maiden Sat beneath some kind of tree, And her lover, close beside her, Murmured words of sympathy...

Both were young, and fond, and tender, Neither rich, nor poor; And Ma was proud, and Pa was vain, Great their love, and great their woes...

Learn from this—ye doating lovers— In your anguish not to break In your anger not to part, For the promises you make, Hearts were made to put in motion...

WITHOUT ANY TAIL.—A very "particular friend" is Amos Smith, and a very decided enemy to all worldly titles, and as a business correspondent from the South didn't know...

"I desire to inform thee that, being a member of Society of Friends, I am not free to use worldly titles in addressing my friends, and wish them to refrain from using them to me...

"TAKING DOWN" AN ORATOR.—During the Presidential election of 1844, a politician somewhere in New Hampshire was making a speech, and objecting very strongly to the election of Henry Clay on the ground of his being a duelist...

"And then—then, fellowcitizens—what did David do?" "Fw a duel, sir," came in shrill tones from one of the assembly.

Old Pincheon had the reputation of being a most miserly man. One day, coming out of his stable with three small nubbins of corn in his hand, his cow, an attenuated burlesque on the bovine genus, approached and made it evident that the provender would be highly agreeable to her palate...

"Hi say, ham li hou the right road to Artford?" asked an English traveler. "Wa all you be."

"Wa all, if you turn 'round and go the other way, you will have to travel about ten miles. But if you keep on the way you are going you will have to go about twenty-four thousand miles, I calculate."

SOUTHERNER.—We, of the South, give to the North, statesmen; you give us, wooden nutmegs. NORTHERNER.—Well, the exchange is n't far from even; the statesmen are about the same quality as the nutmegs.

When a man gets mad and stops his paper, he always borrows the next number of his neighbor to see if the withdrawal of his paper has n't killed the editor and drenched the columns in mourning. Such men are apt to imagine that the world rests on their shoulders.

PATHOLOGY.—A man who proposed to write a Dictionary of the English Language, was being asked what he understood the word pathology to mean, answered, "Why, the art of road-making, to be sure."

Horace Greeley, when in London, wrote some that he had "paid a visit to several leading houses, in one of which he saw a newly invented 'brick,' which struck him dead."

The statement that Mr. Buchanan has been a photograph picture of Gen. Fremont, hangs up in his bedroom, is a most ridiculous slander.

A word once spoken, a coach with four horses cannot overtake it and bring it back.

ONE and Two Horse Endless Chain POWER.—The undersigned being convinced by practical experience of the superiority of Vandevier's Tread Power over the ordinary horse power now in use in the West-Branch country, for threshing out grain, have purchased the patterns and right to make them...

Hussey's CLOVER HULLER.—The subscribers still continue to manufacture the above Machines, and as there are over 500 of them now in use in Union and adjoining counties, we deem any further recommendation unnecessary.

Hussey's American Reaper & Mower.—FOR 1856.—This Machine was put in successful operation in 1833, and continued to be the only Reaper and Mowing Machine in the World of any practical value up to 1843—twelve years after its introduction.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRONCHITIS, MARSH, 20th Dec. 1855. Dr. J. C. Ayer: I do not hesitate to say that your Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine I have ever used for the cure of Croup, Whooping Cough, and Hoarseness.

Croup, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness. BRONCHITIS, MARSH, 20th Dec. 1855. Dr. J. C. Ayer: I do not hesitate to say that your Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine I have ever used for the cure of Croup, Whooping Cough, and Hoarseness.

Consumption. Probably no medicine is more generally known which cures so many and such dangerous cases as this. It is so simple and so easy to use, that even the most delicate and feeble can take it.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have used your Cherry Pectoral for several years, and it has cured me of Croup, Whooping Cough, and Hoarseness. I have also used it for the cure of Consumption, and it has cured me of that disease.
