Truly yours, a great advance in the price of lands.

As to Kansas, my greatest objection is land, which they have selected along the streams, thus reserving the best of the lands, and leaving the open prairies for white settlers. The Indian reservations cover a large portion of the Territory ; and the balance is to be sold to the highest bidder for their benefit.

He thought that the free State people were making a great mistake in not voting for Congressional Delegates, and, further, that the Constitution, there adopted, would pass Congress. He deeply regretted the disturbances that had occurred in the Territory, and hoped that there would be no further trouble, but maintained that the laws of the Territorial Legislature, must be enforced. Mr. Stanton is a fine-looking man, and, it is said, means to do about right; but the free State men are greatly disappointed in his speech, which betrayed, as they think, an unaccountable ignorance of Kansas affairs, and a hostility to the free State cause. It is mentioned as a singular fact, in connection with Mr. Stanton, that he followed Dr. Stringfellow, who delivered a pre-eminently pro-slavery address, holding that he had, as a National Democrat, two great objects in view-the first, to do all in his power to make Kan- in Ireland, once told me of an old woman, sas a slave State, and, failing to do this,

The soil through Kansas is good, and parts of it beautiful ; limestone seems to underlie it all; and there appears to be stones piled up for use along every ravine. Kansas is well watered, and a fine country for raising stock.

But I do not consider it safe to take preperty there, now. It is true, everything looks quiet ; but how long it will continue thus, no man can tell. I never saw such bitter hatred as exists between the two parties. All that is wanting to create disturbances, is for the pro-slavery party to commence hostilities. The general feeling among the free state men is, if any of their own party commence war, to let them suffer; but if the slave-state party commences, to drive every man of them out of the Territory. The trouble is, the pro-slavery party have the law, or the semblance of law, on their side ; while the free-state men contend that the legislature and laws are all bogus. These latter have never given in their property to the slave party assessors, and refuse to pay taxes. Some, in pro-slavery districts, it is true, are compelled to pay; but in the free state districts, sheriffs can not sell property for tax or debt, for the reason that no man dare
