SOMETHING RICH!

Most of our readers remember the rather farile effort of John B. Jones Esq. of the Madisonian to re-elect one John Tyler to the Presidency. That paper in its day allorded far more amusement than a Comic Almanac. The public were divided in opinion as to whether the Editor was a sly wag, a knave, or a dunce. However that might be, Tyler and Jones sunk with their funny "organ" and their "pure" third party into obscurity together, and the broad jokes of the Madisonian about Capt. Tyler were nearly forgotten. Last week, however, we of the Chronicle were favored by mail with the first No. of a very respectable looking quarto, from Philad , entitled "Southern Monitor." Very good, (thought we,) the South needs admonition sadly, and mayhap will take it kindly. Of course, we supposed a "Southern Monitor" was a kind of auxiliary of the "Southern Aid Society," and would seek gently to reclaim the erring and endeavor to point out and correct some of the faults of the South. But we were as much mistaken as Cape. Tyler was about his re cleetion. The paper doesn't admonish the South, a whit; it defends and apologies for the SOUTH, and almoss and admonishes the NORTH! It should be called either the SOUTHERN ADVOCATE, or the NORTHERN MONITOR-for it is a gross misnemer as it stands.

We learn that "J. B. Jones" conducts this paper-the "same old Jones" (only a li tle wiser) as him of the Mulismian. We guessed at first he was some shrewd Vankee, auxious to catch an honest dellar from the one-idead South-or some halferazed "Union saver"-but the editor blushingly confesses to the Madisonian celebrity, and claims to be "a native of the South"-(where whipping women is an every day occurrence among the "chivalry," and making men work their life ong for board and clothes is esteemed
