CLOCKS-all kinds of 8-day and

I kept my courage high. "Farewell!" I said, "if seasons pass, And sunshine follows rain, And morning dawns on darkest night, You'll see me back again." Heft my love in England, And sailed the stormy sea,

To earn my bread by daily toil, An honest man and free; I wrought and strove from morn to night

And saved my little store;
And saved my little store;
And every summer gave me wealth,
And made the little, more.
At length I bought the field I ploughed, The sunshine followed rain; The morning dawned on heavy night,

And I went back again.

I sought my love in England, And brought her o'er the sea; A happy man, a happy wife, To bless my home and me.

My farm is large, my wants are small, I bid my cares depart,

And sit beneath my own oak tree,
With proud yet grateful heart.
The children, smiling fround the board, Ne'erask for bread in vain; 'I'm balmy morning after night, 'Tis sunshine after rain!

Good Rules .- When a Reading girl gets married, she requires her new busband to send all the editors in the city, a bottle of Berks county wine, which they call up there "Catawba." She makes the Dutch cake, and sees that it goes alongand then the printers have a feast.

The Delaware county girls are more intellectual, and their rule is a better one. They enjoin upon the happy man who obtains their hand and heart, the necessity House. "When your wife begins to scold, let her have it out. Put your feet up cosily over the fireplace; loll back in your chair; light one of your best cigars, and let the storm rage on; say nothing-make no answer to anything."

Well, a little more advice, if you please. Having placed yourself in that enviable position, reflect whether you deserve the thunder about your years, and if so, (as is probably the case,) put your feet gently down, cease your "folling," put out the young Mammoth Clething Emporium up to your eigar, kiss your little wife, and en. next door below Walls old Mammoth Storedeavor to be a better husband.

At an Association Dinner, a debate arose, as to the benefit of whipping in bringing up children. Old Dr. Morse took the affirmative. His opponent, a young minister whose reputation for veracity was not very high, affirmed that par-

Reading, February 27, 1857.

The understrued, members of the committee, do respectfully report, that we saw the two Safe excitability agreed upon by Farrels & Horring and Evans & Watson, placed side by able in a turness, which has Safe in use by the Faymaster of the Philadelphia and Reading Bailread Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the Safe in use by H. A. Lautt, in his store, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the Safe in use by H. A. Lautt, in blooks and papers precisely alike.

The fire was stated at $5', eclock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, two cords dry case and half chastant top wood were entirely consumed, the whole under the superintendence of the subscribers, members of the Committee. The facts were then costed off with water, after which they were created, and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and taken to H. A. Lautz's store for public examination, after they were first examined and marked by the Committee and taken to H. A. Lautz's store for public examination, after they were first examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the Safe manufactured by Farrals & Herring wore, in our judgment, damaged fully fifteen per cent, more than those taken from Evans & Wetson were, in our judgment, damaged fully fifteen per cent, more than those taken from Evans & Wetson seat.
