We earnestly entreat you; Tho' times are tight, and funds are scarce, Still we're prepared to meet you.

We've armed ourselves with baskets, pails, Good appetites and money— We'll huy you out, bring what you will— Hog, hominy or honey.

Here's sale for all your truck, unless Your terms are out of reason; But don't think we're obliged to buy Your butter made last season.

Here's gain and sport-no danger of Your "kraut" or spirits wilting: Just try it on—why, bless your hearts, "Tis livelier than a quilting!

The songs of the astonished fowls Please us, and won't make you sick; True, they sing slightly out of tune,

And make more noise than music-Don't mind the weather, tho' it makes Stiff fingers and blue noses; You'll get your pockets filled with "rocks," And cheeks like fresh-blown roses.

The earliest risers flourish best-Philosophers all teach it— ('Tis somewhat harder, though, for us To practice than to preach it;)

So, out of bed, before the cocks Begin their morning crowing: Let Market Square, twice every week, Be filled to overflowing. Pa

Manner in Preaching.

There is an incident stated by Rev. Samuel Willard, one of the early ministers of the Old South in Boston, so much to our purpose, that the recital of it may not be out of place. Mr. Willard possessed an agreeable delivery and harmonious voice, and, as a natural consequence, was generally admired. His son in-law, the minister of Eastham, occasionally preached for him, whose sermons were excellent, but much injured by the badness of his manner. Having preached on one occasion one of his best discourses to the congregation of his father-in-law, in his usual branches, at the unhappy manner, it excited great diseatisthis request Mr. Willard made no reply; but he desired his son-in-law to lend him the discourse, which, being left with him, he delivered it, without alteration, to his people, a few weeks after. The bearers were delighted, and requested a copy for A the press. See the difference, said they, between yourself and your son-in law. THE BUFFALOE HOUSE

"DEMOCRATIC CURRENCY."-A Dutchman entered a store at Akron, Ohio, paid been newly furnished throughout for some purchases, and received in change a "mulatto penny." He examined both sides of the odd thing, and especially the "buzzard," attentively. At last he threw the coin upon the counter. "I no dakes der gounterfeit monish," says he, "and if der efer gifs me more such stuff I sues next door below Walls old Mammoth Storewhere, with better accommodations, we are you mit ter law." The merchant tried to explain the beauties of the new Democratie coin, but Sourkrout was not to be fooled, and indignantly exclaimed as he turned on his heel, "I not cares von tam for te whole Kongress vot make der gounterfeit monish, nor for Chimmy Pecanan, nor te man vot gif me te ticket to wote!" [There's Fruit and Ornamental Trees, good hope of that chap, if he'll only lear to read !]

NARY RED TO NARY BROKER !- The devices of the banks in the West to save specie, (the commodity'so scarce with 'em) are original, to say the least. The Springfield (Ohio) Nonparcil says the citizens of that town last week adopted a new plan Large Horse Chestnut, European Mountain for protecting their banks. Learning that a broker had reached town from a neighboring city to run the bank for coin, they promptly placed on one side of the bank P. Linn Esq. on the Turnpike, within half a entrance a bucket of tar and a brush, and upon the opposite a long, rough looking fence rail, bearing this inscription: " Nary red to nary broker." As the broker approached the bank, he read the inscription, glanced at the tar bucket, and retreated. The bank went on as usual.

Honest.-The West Chester Republican, a radical Locofoco paper, congratu- a liberal support. He also offers lates the Democracy on being so largely in the ascendent in office, and then says: "the present winter, we are led to believe, will be one of great corruption at Harrisbarg." Not a doubt of it, and we are glad Is Nuts, Toys, Spices, &c. always on hand. to see one Locofoco paper, at least, ready to "own up!"

The editor of an Ohio paper, says their town presents a lively appearance this year : the "fence" has been taken away from around the place and about half the inhabitants have "escaped" to Iowa, and the balance are too poor to get away.

The Detroit Advertiser has discovered a new sense in which new cents are a nuisance -the bird looks like a carrier pigeon on various new cents, bearing news hence; but then as he is one sent, it is a proper device for one cent.

Au individual in a neighboring State advertises for sale "one hundred barrels of whiskey which he had procured expressly for his own use." He must have intended to have a jolly time of it!

The Editor of the Lykenstown Journal, while enjoying an excursion to the BigLick Mountain, recently saw a wild black bear. Both made 'tracks,' opposite ways, and the question now is which of the two 'critters' was most frightened?

"My eyes, Jack," exclaimed a tar, seeing a soldier chained to a cannon-ball for punishment, " if there ain't a soldier at
