A GOOD SERMON.

We have heard a story of Dr. Lyman Peecher, that is said to be true, and is worth putting into type, as illustrating the truth that we never can tell what may result from an apparently very insignificant action. The Doctor once engaged to preach for a country minister, on exchange, and the Sabbath proved to be one excessively stormy, cold and uncomfortable. It was while the Doctor lived in Connecticutin mid-winter, and the snow was piled in heaps all along in the roads, so as to make the passage very difficult. Still the minister urged his horse through the drifts, till he reached the church, put the animal into a shed, and went in. As yet, there was no person in the house, and, after looking about, the old gentleman, then young, took his seat in the pulpit. Soon the door opened, and a single individual walked up the aisle, looked about, and took a seat. The hour came for commencing service, but no more hearers.

Whether to preach to such an audience or not, was now the question-and it was one Lyman Beecher was not long in deciding. He felt that he had a duty to perform, and he had no right to refuse it, because only one man could reap the benefit of it; and accordingly, he went through all the services, praying, singing, preaching, and the benediction, with only one hearer. And when all was over, he hastened down to speak to "his congregation," but he had departed.

Traveling somewhere in Ohio, he alighted from the stage one day, in a pleasant village, when a gentleman stepped up, and spoke to him, calling him by name.

"I do not remember you," said the Doctor.

"I suppose not," said the stranger, "but we spent two hours together, in a house, alone, once, in a storm."

"I do not recollect it, sir," added the old man, "pray when was it ?" "Do you remember preaching twenty years ago, in such a place, to a single person ?"

"Yes, yes," said the Doctor, grasping his hand ; "I do, indeed, and if you are the man, I've been wishing to see you ever since."

"I am the man, sir ; and that sermon saved my soul, made a minister of me, and the experience-the taste and the and yonder is my church ! The converts | tact-to execute all kinds of Jobbing of that sermon, sir, are all over Obio !"

"A Long Time About It."

Sam Slick tells a story about an over- AT THE grown hulk of a Yankee boy, who was sent to the wood pile by his father one cold winter evening, for a "back log" for the kitchof bringing in a good, substantial log, on-ly brought a thin little stick-or "brail," as the Peunsylvania Germans say. His to the stick and bring the stick and bring the store and the store store store store store store and the store s en fire. The youth went out, but, instead father immediately gave him a good whipping, and sent him after another log. But the youth, having his "dander" roused, left the house, went to Boston, and shipped on a vessel which made a voyage of several years.

In course of time, the youth came back, and started home on foot. It was winter, and just such an evening as the one on

The dectrines, as taught by this manuring, and folder, and pasture cul-tivation system, are reliental, clear and evident, and sug-get an improvement in the mode of arricellure hitherto unknown to our farmers, and which, if adopted, and carefully practiced can not fail to advance the interests of the farming community. Such a work has been much which there has hitherto been no attempt to supply. Truth is Mighty, and Must Pravail. Report of the Committee appointed to super-intend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, February 27, 1857.

Reading, February 27, 1850. Reading, March 4. The undersigned, members of the committee, do re-cetfully report, that we saw the two Safes originally aread upon by Farrele 8 therring and Trans 4 wateron,

The undersigned, members of the committee do rep-perfully report, that we naw the two follow originally agreed upon by Farriel & Herring and Evane & Watson, placed side by side in a furnace, viz: The Safe in use by the Paymarster of the Fhiladelphits and Keading Railread Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Far-riels & Herring, and the Safe in use by II. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Kwans & Watson, and put in books and papers pre-hereby alike. The fire was started at SA₂ wilcock. A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, two ords days as and half chestruit top wood were entirely consumed, the whole uniter the superintendence of the subscriber, members of the Committee. The Safes were then cooled ed with water, after which they were opened, and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and taken to H. A. Lantz's stores for public examination, after they were first examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the Safe manufactured by from a starte store bar from the Safe manufactured by from a store the store that the safe manufactured by from a Herring were, in our public store that there in a there is the store from the Safe manufactured by from a Herring were, in our public starte fuely for a first herring were, in our public starte fuely for the Herring were, in our public starte fuely for the starter in the instra first store from the safe manufactured by for a first first store for the first fir
