Freedom, national; Slavery, sectional!

Lecompton got through the Senate!
The Free States betrayed!

The Senate session of Monday of this week was protracted until a very late hour with discussions of the Lecompton issue, pro and con.

TUESDAY, March 23. The Senate chamber and lobbies were crowded to suffocation. After preliminary business, the Lecompton Constitution was taken up, on motion of Mr. Green of Mo., and debated by Bimselt, Crittenden and others. The conclusion of the struggle in the Senate we copy from the Philad. Ledger:

Mr. Green without further debate, moved to proceed to take the vote. He withdrew the Minnesota bill altogether, and moved three amendments to the original bill.

Firstly to strike out the preamble, and insert the following:

Whereas, the people of the Territory of Kansas, did, by a convention of delegates, called and assembled at Lecompton, on the 4th of September, 1857, form for themselves a constitution and State Government, which said Convention having asked the admission of the Territory into the Union as a State, on equal footing with the original States, &c. &c.

This amendment was carried.

Secondly—To amend the second section by inserting the following clause in the ninth line:

"That nothing in this act shall be construed to abridge or infringe any right of the people asserted in the Kansas Constitution, to alter, reform, or abolish their form of government in such a manner as they may think proper, Congress hereby disclaiming any authority to interfere or declare the construction of the Constitution of any State, except to see that it is republican in form, and not in conflict with the Constitution of the United States."

The amendment was agreed to—yeas 31, nays 23.

Thirdly—A verbal amendment to the eleventh line of the second section: To cancel the word "of" in the sentence, "in the ordinance of the said constitution," and substitute therefor the words "annexed to," making it read, "in the ordinance annexed to the said constitution." Carried.

Mr. Crittenden moved a substitute for the bill—in substance that the Constitution framed by the Lecompton Convention be submitted to the people of Kansas, now; that, if it be approved, the President shall admit Kansas by proclamation; if it be rejected, the people of the Territory shall call a convention to form new constitution. The substitute makes a special provision against the occurrence of frauds.

Several Senators took occasion to explain their votes.

Mr. Bell of Tennessee said he would support Mr. Crittenden's substitute—reserving the right afterwards to vote for the original bill.

Mr. Houston of Texas would vote for the original bill, in obedience to the resolutions passed by the Legislature of his State.

Mr. Pugh of Ohio reluctantly voted against the bill for the same reason.

Mr. Crittenden's substitute was then put and lost—yeas 24, nays 34.

The bill, as amended, to admit Kansas into the Union, with the Lecompton constitution, was then put and passed—yeas 33, nays 25, as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen of R.I., Thompson and Wright of N.J., Bayard of Del., Bright and Fitch of Ind., Jones of Iowa, Hunter of Va., Toombs of Ga., Green and Polk of Mo., Johnson and Pearce of Ark., Johnson of Tenn., Biggs of N.C., Evans and Hammond of S.C., Iverson and Toombs of Ga., Brodhead of Penn., Clay and Fitzpatrick of Ala.

NAYS—Messrs. BELL of Tenn., CRITTENDEN of Ky., Foot of Vt., Simmons of R.I., Dixon and Foster of Ct., Wilkinson and Hall of N.H., Collamer and Foot of Vt., Sumner and Wilson of Mass., Seward of N.Y., Pugh and Wade of O., Chandler and Stuart of Mich., Doolittle and Durkee of Wis., Douglas and Trumbull of Ill., Harlan of Iowa, and Broderick of Cal.—25.

ABSENT—Bates of Del., Davis of Miss., Reid of N.C., Gwin of Cal., and Mallory of Fla.

The announcement of the result was received with applause and hisses.

This was an unexpectedly full vote—only four absentees—3 being for and 1 against the bill.

Of the YEAS, Allen, Bigler, Bright, Fitch, Gwin, Jones, Thompson of N. J., and Wright—8 in all—notoriously misrepresented the wishes and the interests of the States they hail from. Bright and Fitch have no just right to the seats in which they have been kept by the South on purpose to help this fraud, (while the two legally chosen from Minnesota are kept out for the same purpose—a fraud of four or six votes to aid Slavery!) And Allen, Jones, Thompson, and Wright voted contrary to the INSTRUCTIONS as well as the WISHES of the States they misrepresent. Had those 8 Free State men voted as they should; Lecompton would have been killed by 8 or 6 on a full vote.

Of the NAYS, BELL and CRITTENDEN from Slaves States nobly and fearlessly represent the old fashioned Democracy of the South, and breathe the conservative Whig spirit of Henry Clay. All honor to them, and to the Democratic Senators, BRODERICK, DOUGLAS, PUGH, and STUART, for acting like freemen in opposition to party vassalage and Executive dictation!

"It is understood that Buchanan has determined to remove every Douglas man in Illinois from office. A prominent Democrat in Alton received a letter a few days ago from Attorney General Black, in regard to the appointment of Postmaster of that place. In this letter, Black asks, 'Is Mr. —— a Democrat? Does he sustain Buchanan, and does he denounce Douglas? If so, he can have the office.' This shows that the war upon Douglas is to be bitter, and that no man who sustains him is to be spared."

Correspondence of the Lewisburg Chronicle.

PHILAD., March 20, 1858.

We are enjoying, just now, the most delightful, invigorating, spring weather, to be found anywhere this side of the Atlantic; reminding me very forcibly of the exhilerating breezes which when a boy I used to revel in on the North coast of the "Emerald Isle." Tourists, whose sinews have been developed by climbing flights of carpeted stairs, and whose lungs have been strengthened by the inhalation of the atmosphere of furnance-heated parlors, prate to us about the glorious skies and balmy airs of Italy, or the intoxication of a Nile voyage, but only one in a thousand notice en passant, the sea girt isle, whose glorious sea breezes almost clothe one with wings, and whose hills and vallies are carpeted with the most delicate flowers and that eye-refreshing green which gives itself a name, and its sons—a charactet. We have so much of Ireland among us, that those who go pleasure hunting suppose there is no use going to see it at home; but Ireland in America, and Ireland at home, are very different things. Good, healthy poteen, is exchanged for "lightning;" the jolly row of the "fair day" or the steeple chase, for curbstone politics—the policemans' star or the fireman's badge; and the athletic sports of the soft twilight, when bright eyes look on and nerve the sinewy limb, for the low groggery, where bad liquor stupifies, and blasphemy hardens. But I did not sit down to write about Ireland, and so I'll drop the subject.

I have just had put into my hand a statement of the Assets of the Bank of Pennsylvania, which is as nice an expose of our commercial life as one need wish for. In fact, it takes one right 'round the counter, and shows him all the machinery by which some men manage to raise the wind, and keep up a show, both in their business and their families, entirely unwarranted by their income. In fact such a statement almost reconciles one to the late "crisis," as it serves to show us at whose mercy we are placed. Among others who owe the Bank we find the name of our friend I. Jenkyns Smythe. I.J.S., not many years ago was a "strong clerk" i.e. porter, in the establishment lately conducted in his own name. How he bought out the retiring firm, and how he found funds to carry on his business for the one or two years his name was up, we never know, until this precious list informed us. J. S. to the tune of $50,000, endorsed by N. Est Inventus, who "does" short paper for "short" customers at 4 per cent a month, so that I. J. S. has been working for said Inventus all this time, and when the crash came of course he could get no more accommodation, and when his notes fell due he was non est, and N. Est was every where but the right place, and the said paper for $50,000 is now calculated as worth, to the hungry creditors, just one dollar!.....Respectable and responsible business men can get no accommodation at our banks, while every shaver and swindler in Third street can command any amount, provided they share the spoils with bank officers!

The theme, just now is the wonderful religious excitement pervading congregation of the city. [illegible] assembles in Jayne's hall, for religious exercises, while, in several other public halls of the city, the same scenes are transpiring. There is no wild excitement—none of that unsubstantial enthusiasm which we always dread in a revival, as likely to evaporate and cast a reproach on religion; but a calm, settled, and heart-felt conviction, and a genial warmth which communicates itself to every one around. Shall we not hope that in the seemingly God-abandoned position of sections of our land, and of our national Legislators, Heaven has interposed in this signal way to preserve us as a nation, and to perpetuate those institutions which have done so much to spread civilization?

In regard to those coins of which you seem to have "cords," it is not easy to make out a list, but any silver dollars from 1793 to 1840 I will remit for, also, half dollars. The copper coins—cents and half cents of the Union from 1793 to 1812—the cent of '93, '99 and 1804 especially. There are many of the old Continental coins afloat over the country, which are interesting to Numismatists, but have no market value. I hold myself ready to take them also at good prices, provided they are in good order. And now, if there is not some inducement for you to start Broker I don't know what you want.

The "Nicholls House" is intended for both ladies and gentlemen, and I think will be a very pleasant house to stop at. Mrs. Nicholls will have especial charge of lady guests. Every article of furniture is new and clean. S.H.F.

NEW YORK TOWN ELECTIONS.—According to the latest aggregates published in the Albany Evening Journal, of the choice of Supervisors in New York State, the Republicans have elected 452, Democrats 214, Americans 81. Very many of the Democrats are Douglas men, while a good part of the Americans were chosen on the Union tickets by Americans and Republicans.

Charade.

It came from heaven, it reigned in Eden's shades,
It roves on earth, and every walk invades;
Childhood and age alike its influence own,
It haunts the beggar's neck, the monarch's throne,
Hangs o'er the cradle, leans above the bier,
Gazed on old Babel's towers, and lingers here.
In all that's lofty, all that's low, it turns;
With terror curdles, and with rapture burns;
Now feels a seraph's throb, now less than man's,
A reptile tortures, and a planet scans;
Now idly joins in life's poor passing jars,
Now shakes creation off and soars beyond the stars.
