The Washburnes.

[The Albany Evening Journal furnishes the following information in regard to the Washburnes:]

"Israel, Elihu and Cadwallader Washburne are three brothers in Congress. Israel is from Maine, Elihu from Illinois, and Cadwallader from Wisconsin, although they are all natives of the State of Maine. Another brother is a Republican editor in California, and, not unlikely, will soon be in Congress with his three brothers. The father of this Republican family still lives in the county of Penobscot, Maine, in the Congressional district represented by his eldest son. He is a man of sterling character, sound sense, and general intelligence. It is said that the character and destiny of his sons were formed, in a great measure, by a rather peculiar feature of the paternal household. It was always the home of all the traveling clergymen in the country, of the father's faith—and a hospitable home, too. The only return exacted for his hospitality, was conversation, and discussion on political and religious topics. The whole available time of the sojourner must be devoted to the interchange of views on all the great questions of the day; and it was these exercises, eagerly listened to by the boys, that first stirred their minds and roused their ambition to become intelligent men and useful citizens. Israel has served four terms in Congress, Elihu three, and Cadwallader two, including the present. Not less remarkable than many other incidents in the lives of these brothers are the majorities by which they were chosen. Israel's was 4,105; Elihu's 11,844; Cadwallader's, 9,871! And they deserve every vote they received."

IMPORTANCE OF STRINGS.—Henry Ward Beecher said in a recent letter:

"It is astonishing to see how little it requires to satisfy a boy nature. First in the list, I put strings. What grown up people find in a thousand forms of business and society, a boy secures in a string. He ties up the door, for the exquisite pleasure of untieing it again. He harnesses chairs, ties up his own fingers, halters his neck, coaxes a lesser urchin to become his horse and drive stage—which with boys is the top of human attainment. Strings are wanted for snares, for bows and arrows, for whips, for cat's cradles, for kites, for fishing, and a hundred things more than I can recollect. A knife is more exciting than a string, but does not last long, and is not so various. After a short time it is lost, or broken, or has cut his fingers. But a string is the instrument of endless devices, within the management and ingenuity of a boy. The first article that parents should lay in, on going into the country, is a large ball of twine. The boys must not know it. If they see a whole ball, the charm is broken. It must come forth mysteriously, unexpectedly, and as if there were no more."

Strings are certainly very useful things in their way, and we wonder that our reverend and eccentric friend did not enumerate among the rest, strings for violins, and strings for beans, to say nothing of the strings of ten pins. He left a good many chords untouched in the "harp of a thousand strings."—New York Courier.

☞ The Yankee Blade tells the following anecdote of a college chum:

H., a member of one of the classes, was distinguished not less for dry wit and sly waggery than for his address in evading the writing of themes, and palming off the brain coined currency of others as his legitimate "tender."

One Monday morning he read a theme of unusual merit; but Prof. A. "smelt rat," and as H. finished and sat down in the pride of conscious excellence, asked:

"Is that original, H.?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are you sure of it?" queried the professor, doubtingly.

"Why, yes, sir," replied H., with the imperturbable gravity, and that paste-board countenance he always wore, "it had 'original' over it in the paper I took it from."

☞ A Democratic country editor in Ohio, who is also Postmaster, has "defined his position" with a frankness and good nature that quite overcomes one's conviction of its reality:

"For my own part, my brethren, altho' I have full faith in Judge Douglas, and fully believe in the doctrine of popular sovereignty, yet, with a regard to my position, as an officer of the federal government, as well as a profound respect for the American eagle, and the income of my office, as a matter of expediency I shall support the President.

N. B.—In the event that Douglas succeeds, we can change our views, about the end of Old Buck's' term."

A WHITE MAN SOLD.—An Illinois paper thus: "The veritable Col. Sam Pike, we regret to learn, has sold himself to advocacy of the Lecompton swindle. The 'consideration' is said to be the Bloomington post office, and a little matter of government advertising—say $400 worth."

An exchange says, that it is just as sensible a move to undertake to get married without courting, as to attempt to succeed in business without advertising. True as preaching. Our folks "can stick a pin there."

A Recruit going through the exercises of sword cut, asked how he should parry. "Never mind that," said the old Hussar, who was fencing master to the regiment, "you only cut—let the enemy parry."

A certain editor thinks when a single gentleman cannot pass a clothes line without counting all the long stockings and short shower, it is a sign that he ought to get married, the sooner the better.

OVER 60 STYLES

of type, large and small, with a good variety of borders, and most respectfully solicit a trial of them by those wanting anything in the way of

HANDBILLS,
Tickets, Blanks, Labels,

CARDS, Circulars, Bills, &c. The use of these by merchants and business men generally, is more common in most communities than in ours. A larger range of operations may be gained by a constant "keeping before the people" of the TRADE, OCCUPATION or PROFESSION of any man: and a nearer approximation to a Cash business may be made with patronage attracted by this means.

We think we have the materials and the experience—the taste and the tact—to execute all kinds of Jobbing expected from a Country Office, in a style not excelled—on reasonable terms—and in prompt time. CALL AT THE "Chronicle" Office.

Freeburg, Snyder County, Pa.

THE Fourth Semi-Annual Session of this Institution will commence on Tuesday, July 5, and continue 22 weeks. Its location is pleasant and healthy. Buildings new and commodious, and Terms low. It is the constant aim of the Teachers to impart sound instruction, and carefully develope and direct the Mental, Moral and Physical energies of the students. The course of study will thoroughly prepare those pursuing it for College, the study of a Profession or business pursuits. The

NORMAL DEPARTMENT

Of last Session succeeded beyond expectations, and its members passed creditable examinations. Many young ladies and gentlemen attended it who have procured schools and are now among the most successful teachers.

Desirous of affording others the same facilities for thoroughly preparing themselves to become Teachers, this Department will be re-opened—on the 23d of MARCH—under still more favorable auspices. The Public School system will prove a complete failure unless com Teachers are provided for it, and this can only be done by the earnest efforts of Directors, Teachers, and friends of Education. Their co-operation is therefore respectfully solicited.

A Call to Farmers.

Farmers, drop your tools—pause a little—read this, and reflect!!

"FARMERS' PROMOTION BOOK."

A NEW and scientific manuring system, for the cultivation and increase of all kinds of grain, grasses, fodder and pasture, upon all kinds of soil, proved by actual experiments and based upon evident truths, designed to improve agriculture in all its branches; represented by upwards of one hundred and fifty engravings of the most valuable grasses and plants connected with the system, by DR. C. G REINHOLD, of Boalsburg, Centre Co., Penna.

RECOMMENDATION.

In this treatise it will be seen that the object has been to give the farmer that kind of information which enables him to make practical application to fertilize his land and increase his grain, fodder and pasturage. The doctrines, as taught by this manuring, and fodder, and pasture cultivation system, are rational, clear and evident, and suggest an improvement in the mode of agriculture hitherto unknown to our farmers, and which, if adopted, and practiced by the farming community. Such a work has been much wanted, as it fills a void which has long existed, but which there has hitherto been no attempt to supply. And as farmers of Centre and Huntingdon counties we recommend the work to every farmer, as they will reap the greatest possible benefit from it.

DENTAL CARD.

THE new method of inserting artificial Teeth, Gum, &c., known as is, without exception, the best improvement ever made in the art of Dentistry. This work, when properly constructed, is the most beautiful, the cleanest, combines the greatest strength with durability, and adds more to a clear and distinct articulation, than any other kind of work ever brought before the public. And not only this. By a beautiful discovery in combination with this style of work, we can give the face its natural expression, without, in the least, interfering with the usefulness of the teeth in mastication.

I would take this method of informing those interested that I have purchased the Patent Right for this valuable improvement, of the inventor, John Allen, (now of New York,) for this and several adjoining counties, and that I am now manufacturing an article of Teeth and Gums that will compare favorably with anything in that line that has ever been made in this or any other country. I ask all, and especially those that have already engaged them or not, to call, and examine for themselves.

ARE YOU INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE?—There are but few who receive sympathy who incur loss by neglecting this most necessary and substantial precaution. We often see it announced that persons have lost their stocks of Goods and Furniture, and results of years of industry swept from them by the devouring element over which they have no control but by being insured.

Insurance protects you from the incendiary, negligence of servants and the casualties of your neighbors. It will impart confidence to your creditors, and give a character of prudence and precaution to all your business transactions.

It requires but a very small sum to insure in sums ranging from $100 to $1000, and yet how many there are who have no insurance upon Goods, Furniture, or anything else! If your Stock is small, still the Loss to you might be serious.

HOVER'S LIQUID HAIR DYE.

THE testimony of Prof. Booth and Dr. Brinkle having previously been published, the following is now added:

From Prof. MCILWAINEY, Formerly Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Female Medical College of Pennsylvania, and late Professor of Surgery in the American College of Medicine, &c.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27, 1856.

MR. JOSEPH E. HOVER—A trial of your Liquid Hair Dye will constitute the most complete test that it is a valuable article for the purpose for which it is recommended. I have used it in numerous cases, and have never seen it fail to produce the desired effect. I have also recommended it to my friends, and have never heard a complaint. Very respectfully, J. F. A. M'ILWAINEY, M.D.

Office, No. 1 South Eighth street.

HERRING'S SAFE.

THE ACKNOWLEDGED CHAMPION!

THE LATEST TRIALS of Herring's Patent Champion Safes have proved them to be the most reliable Fire Proof Safes in use. Every one of the Champions that passed through the late fire in Pittsburg, Pa., stood the test, and preserved the contents in good condition. Also, the Champion Safe that was in the store of Messrs. Farrell & Herring, Philadelphia, was subjected to the intense heat of the late fire in that city, and preserved the contents in good condition, and is for sale by

Fire and Burglar Proof Safe Depot,
No. 629 Arch street, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia.

Truth is Mighty, and Must Prevail.

Report of the Commissioners appointed to superintend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, February 27, 1855.

The undersigned, citizens of Reading, Pa., having been carefully appointed by the Committee of Arrangements, to superintend the burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, February 27, 1855, and having been requested upon the conclusion of the burning, to report the result, do hereby certify that the Safe manufactured by Evans & Watson, of Philadelphia, was subjected to the most intense heat for a period of one hour and a half, and that upon the opening of the Safe, the Books and Papers contained therein were found to be in a perfect state of preservation, and entirely uninjured by the fire. The Safe was then thrown into the river, and remained under water for a period of one hour and a half, when it was taken out, and the Books and Papers contained therein were found to be perfectly dry. The Safe was then opened by the Committee, and the Books and Papers contained therein were found to be in a perfect state of preservation, and entirely uninjured by the fire. The Safe was then thrown into the river, and remained under water for a period of one hour and a half, when it was taken out, and the Books and Papers contained therein were found to be perfectly dry. The Safe was then opened by the Committee, and the Books and Papers contained therein were found to be in a perfect state of preservation, and entirely uninjured by the fire.

Evans & Watson's Safes were awarded the Premium at the Great Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations, held in the City of New York, in 1853, and at the Great Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations, held in the City of Philadelphia, in 1854.

Evans & Watson have now on hand 300,000 pounds of the above SAFES, which they offer for sale on better terms than any other manufacturer in the United States.
