Editors in Ohio.

[Ohio Editors are not very "deeply read in Scriptures," if the following, from a correspondent of Harpers' Magazine, is to be taken "for gospel."] "Governor Chase issued his proclamation appointing a thanksgiving day. To make sure of being right on the subject in hand, the Governor composed his proclamation almost exclusively of passages from the Bible, which he did not designate as quotations, presuming that every one would recognize them, and admire the fitness of the words as well as his taste in their selection. A learned editor of a Democratic paper (the Governor is on the other side,) pounced upon the proclamation—declared that he had read it before—couldn't exactly say where—but he would take his oath that it was a downright plagiarism from beginning to end! That would be joke enough for a while, at least, and perhaps longer; but the next day a Republican paper came out valiantly in defence of the Governor, pronounced the charge false and libelous, and challenged any man living to produce one single line of the proclamation that had ever been in print before!"

New Version of Uncle Ben's Ram.

Uncle Ben was a queer old man,
And a queer old ram had he,
Very pugnacious was mister Ram,
In fact, his butting propensities prompted him to butt everything buttable he could see.

His fat old wife never used a stool,
To milk she would never sit down;
And though old Ben called her a fool,
Yet she would never hearken to his advice, but, to refreshments the Giver, said he was a clown.

But one sad morn, as Bridle stood
Beneath the stable's peer,
Old Ben's wife, in a hurry mood,
Was milking her cow—occupying her usual position, with but little care.

The ram and Ben the fact espied,
And loudly Ben did shout:
"Squat down—squat down!" he shrilly cried;
But she didn't hear him, and before he could interfere the ram had turned his fat old wife all about.

Now Uncle Ben was very wrath,
As every mouth was he;
He took the pitchfork from its trough,
And, vowing a vow to it, hung it on a limb of the old pear tree.

Then like a heavy pendulum,
He swung the mighty rock,
Which caused it to say "Come on for fun,
Mr. Ram, it's just come in, will you, and take an affectionate knock?"

Right loudly then the fight began;
The dome would not give in,
And Ben could scarcely yield to none,
For he butted all day. And when Uncle Ben went to bed, he was still butting, like all sin!

But when old Ben came next day,
And went into the barn,
The ram had butted himself away,
And everything under heaven, but about two inches of his tail, was nearly completely gone.

THE DEVIL A DEMOCRAT.—One of the most uncompromising Democrats in town furnishes us the following election item, and says it is true:

A son of the Emerald Isle, with a black carpet bag in his hand, stepped into a store last Saturday while the election was going on, and asked the proprietor to write him a ticket. "Very well," said the merchant, "I suppose you wish to vote the democratic ticket?" "Yes," answered the Milesian.

"Well, Lewis Amis for Sheriff."

"Is he a Dimikrat?"

"Yes," said the merchant.

"George W. Hunt for Trustee."

"Is he a Dimikrat?"

"Certainly."

"The Devil for Register."

"Arrah, now, is he a Dimikrat?"

"Oh, yes; of course."

"Then, be dad, that's me ticket—I'll vote for him!"

And when the votes for Register were counted, they stood, for Herndon, 340; for Johnson, 70; for Butler, 61; and for the Devil 1.—Columbia Mirror.

A SENATOR ELECTED BY A LOVE LETTER.—In a certain town in this State, a letter arrived for a young lady from her lover, on the day of the election. The Postmaster, as is not infrequent in the rural districts, knowing the eagerness with which a message of that tender character would be expected, took upon himself the pleasing duty of delivering it; but first, like a good Democrat, he must vote, and of course in a separate self-sealing envelope. This was duly prepared, with the Democratic tickets safely enclosed, and the gluten stuck together. Stopping at the town meeting, he deposited that letter in the ballot-box and proceeded with the separate and self-sealed to the house of the blooming maiden, to whom he gallantly handed the entire Democratic ticket, State and town. How the lady interpreted the missive we do not know, but the moderator and clerk ungallantly refused to count the love letter, and the Republican candidate was declared elected by one majority.—Providence Journal.

POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY.—The editor of the Mercer (Pa.) Register is a bachelor, and he says that the reason he won't marry is as follows:

"We couldn't think of it. We are an advocate of Popular Sovreignty, and claim the right to regulate our domestic institutions in our own way."

Between the 1st of January and the middle of February, nineteen women were burnt to death in Great Britain, whose clothes took fire in consequence of exposure by hoops.

Three clerks in the Chicago post office have been discharged for expressing anti-Lecompton opinions. "So much for Bucking 'em!"

Not genteel, now a-days, to call a man a liar; but instead thereof, simply tell him that he is "Buchanannizing."

They have got a fellow in jail in Chicago, for swindling. He dried snow and sold it for salt.

Contradicted—The report that a Yankee had invented a machine to take noise out of thunder.

"Do you drink hale in America?" asked a Cockney. "No, we drink thunder and lightning" said the Yankee.

A Great Book for Agents!

FIFTY Years in Chains: or, the Life of an AMERICAN SLAVE. Written by himself. 430 Pages, Cloth, Gilt Back. Price $1.

This is the title of one of the most intensely interesting biographies of the day. In the plain history of an American slave in the Far South, who, after two or three escapes and recaptures, finally, an old man, found freedom and rest in one of the Northern States.

What the Press Say.

The story is told with great simplicity, but with much power and pathos. Wherever it has it will find it difficult to lay it down until it is finished.—National Era, Washington, D. C.

A narrative of real experience like the above, will have far more effect on the public mind than the most ingeniously wrought novel, however true to life its pictures may be.—Inquirer.

Here is a book of facts, stranger than fiction, and a thousand fold more thrilling; a simple tale of life long oppressed, revealing truly the workings of the "peculiar institution." We would say, here is a story worth reading.—Atlantic Monthly.

A THOROUGH CANVASSER WANTED,

In each county in the free States, to engage in the sale of the above work immediately. Such can easily clear from $50 TO $100 PER MONTH.

The work is beautifully printed and bound, and is as large as the books that sell for $1 25; but as we mean to sell at least one hundred thousand copies, through agents, we have made the retail price only ONE DOLLAR.

Freeburg, Snyder County, Pa.

THE Fourth Semi-Annual Session of this Institution will commence on Tuesday, July 5, and continue 22 weeks. Its location is pleasant and healthy. Buildings new and commodious, and Terms low. It is the constant aim of the Teachers to impart sound instruction, and carefully develope and direct the Mental, Moral and Physical energies of the students. The course of study will thoroughly prepare those pursuing it for College, the study of a Profession or business pursuits. The of last Session succeeded beyond expectation, and its members passed creditable examinations. Many more ladies and gentlemen attended to fit themselves for schools and are now successfully employed as teachers.

The object of affording others the same facilities for thoroughly preparing themselves to become Teachers, this Department will be reopened—on the 23d of MARCH—under still more favorable auspices. The Public School system will cause it to be of failure unless good Teachers are provided for it, and the session will be June 1st the extra efforts of District Boards, Teachers and friends of Education. Their cooperation is therefore respectfully solicited.

A Call to Farmers.

Farmers, drop your tools—pause a little—read this, and reflect!!

"FARMERS' PROMOTION BOOK."

A NEW and scientific manuring system, for the cultivation and increase of all kinds of grain, grasses, fodder and pasture, upon all kinds of soil, proved by actual experiments and based upon evident truths, designed to improve agriculture in all its branches; represented by upwards of one hundred and fifty engravings of the most valuable grasses and plants connected with the system, by DR. C. G. REINHOLD, of Boalsburg, Centre Co., Penna.

RECOMMENDATION.

In this treatise it will be seen that the object has been to give the farmer that kind of information which enables him to make practical application to fertilize his land and increase his grain, fodder and pasture-age. The doctrines as taught by this manuring, and fodder, and pasture cultivation system, are rational, clear and evident, and give great improvement in the mode of agriculture hitherto unknown to our farmers, and which, if adopted, and carefully practiced can not fail to advance the interests of the farming community. Such a work has been much wanted, as it fills a void which has long been felt, but which there has hitherto been no attempt to supply. And as Grangers of Centre and Huntingdon counties we recommend the work to every farmer, as they will reap the greatest possible benefit from it.

DENTAL CARD.

THE new method of inserting artificial Teeth, Gum, &c., known as Allen's Continuous Gum Work, is, without exception, the best improvement ever made in the art of Dentistry. This work, when properly constructed, is the most beautiful the cleanest, combines the greatest strength with durability, and adds more to a clear and distinct articulation, than any other kind of work ever brought before the public. And not only this—by a beautiful discovery in connection with this style of work, we can give the face its natural expression, without, in the least, interfering with the usefulness of the teeth in mastication.

I would refer this method of inforning those interested that I have purchased the Patent Right for this valuable improvement of the inventor, John Allen, of New York, for this and several adjoining counties, and that I am now manufacturing an article of Teeth and Gums that will compare favorably with anything in the line that has ever been made in this or any other country. I ask all and especially those that need teeth (if they have engaged them or not) to call, and examine for themselves.

M'REA'S CELEBRATED
LIQUID GLUE!

THE GREAT ADHESIVE. Most useful article ever invented, for house store or office, surpassing in utility every other glue, mucilage, paste or cement ever known. ALWAYS READY FOR APPLICATION, either on Paper, Cloth, Leather, Furniture, Wood, Glass, Metal or China. For manufacturing Fancy Articles, Type, etc. it has no superior, and every household in the land will find in many other uses, daily recurring, a perfect treasure. Directions for use are printed on the bottle. Within the last three years upwards of 200,000 bottles of the justly celebrated LIQUID GLUE have been sold, and the great convenience which it has proved in every case, has deservedly secured for it a demand which for the manufacturer has found it, at times, difficult to supply. Sold by all the principal dealers in the United States. ☞ We will be responsible for the loss of any bottle of Glue that will not stand any climate. ☜

☞ Beware of worthless imitations. The genuine has the signature of JAMES M'REA, Manufacturer, on the outside wrapper of each bottle. ☜

Manufactured and for sale wholesale and retail by WILLIAM M'REA, Stationer,

HOVER'S LIQUID HAIR DYE.

THE testimony of Prof. Booth and Dr. Brindle having previously been published, the following is now added:

From Prof. NEILSON'S, formerly Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Female Medical College of Pennsylvania, and Professor of Surgery in the American College of Medicine, &c.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27, 1856.

Mr. Joseph E. Hover—A trial of your Liquid Hair Dye will convince the most skeptical that it is a valuable and scientific preparation. Its harmless effect is known to several in families around me, who have used it for some time previously, and who have testified to its merits in commendation of it. Those persons can be referred to by any applicant.

J. F. N. NEILSON, M.D.

Hover's Writing Inks, including Hover's Writing Fluid and Hover's Indelible Inks, still maintain their high character, which has always distinguished them, and the extensive demand first created has continued uninterrupted until the present.

HERRING'S SAFE.

THE ACKNOWLEDGED CHAMPION!
THE RECENT TRIALS at Reading have subjected the correctness of public opinion, and confirmed the verdict of more than 200 individual fires, proving conclusively that all "Herring's" in the fires were vastly superior to all others.

Extract from the Committee's Report on the Trial of Iron Safes at Reading:

"On the 26th of February all the members of the Committee met to witness the Safes and books and papers, followed in them and were perfectly satisfied that all was right. The key following the opening by the Committee of the respective safes of Herring, Farrel & Herring, and the impartial burning for five hours, the Safe of Messrs Evans & Watson was first opened, the Safe being on the inside, and the contents partially consumed, while the contents in the Safe of Messrs Farrels & Herring were in good condition, and no fire inside."

And endorsed by over 30 of the best men of Reading.

The above Safes can be inspected at 24 Walnut Street, where the public can satisfy themselves of the great superiority of the "Herring Patent Champion" over the defeated and unsuccessful competitors.

BAILEY & HERRING,
24 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

Only makers in this Safe of Herring's Patent Champion Safes.

The attempt made by other parties to bolster up the reputation of a Safe which has failed so signally in successful fires in Philadelphia, Hartford, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis, is amusing, (but it hardly deserves a place, (Ed. Bulletin.) Such a Safe is a delusion, childishly trifling with property. It is "chaff" to "wheat" to be "burnt up" in one of Herring's, that is there's has met with its true reward. Herring's Safe stood and he (and, proving conclusively that the only reliable Safe now made is "Herring's," of which over 10,000 are now in actual use and more than 200 have been tried by fire without a single loss.

Report of the Committee appointed to superintend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, February 27, 1857.

READING, March 3.

The undersigned members of the committee, do respectfully report, that we saw the two Safes originally agreed upon by Farrel & Herring and Evans & Watson, placed side by side in a furnace, with the fire so nicely regulated by the Pyrometer of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the fire in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers precisely alike.

The fire was started at 8 o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, (weighing thirty tons and half) the last wood we were positively informed by Farrel & Herring, under the superintendence of the committee, members of the Committee. The Safes were then sealed off with sealer, after which they were opened, and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and taken to H. A. Lantz's store for public examination, after they were first examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the Safe manufactured by Evans & Watson were all slightly affected by the intense heat, while those taken from the Safe manufactured by Farrels & Herring were, in our judgment, damaged fifteen per cent. more than those taken from Evans & Watson's Safe.

We believe the above to have been a fair and impartial trial of the respective qualities of both Safes.

JACOB H. DYSHER,
DANIEL S. HUNTER.

Having been absent during the burning, we fully coincide with the above statement of the condition of the papers and books taken out of the respective Safes.

G. A. NICOLAS,
H. H. MUHLENBERG,
JAMES MIDDLELAND.

Evans & Watson have now on hand 300,000 pounds of the above SAFES, which they offer for sale on better terms than any other manufacturer in the United States
