☞We do not know why it is that the boys always pelt the harmless Frogs—or that ladies cry "ugh!" at their sight—or that Frenchmen eat 'em. Their music is about the first heard in the Spring, and is certainly melodious and far more tender and perfect than any winged or stringed instrument—it is nature itself, and when heard as bass, timing with the higher-keyed notes of the birds, makes a most charming concert. And an unknown author says,

"Of all the funny things that live
In woodland, marsh, or bog,
That creep the ground, or fly the air,
The funniest is the frog.
The frog, the scientifickest
Of nature's handiwork—
The frog, that neither walks nor runs,
But goes it with a jerk.

"With pants and coat of mottled green,
And yellow, fancy vest,
He plunges into mud and mire—
All in his Sunday best.
When he sits down he's standing up,
As Pat O'Rinn once said,
And for convenience's sake he wears
His eyes on top his head.

"You see him sitting on a log,
Above the 'vasty deep,'
You feel inclined to say, 'Old chap!
Just look before you leap.'
You raise your cane to hit him on
His ugly looking mug,
But ere you get it half way up
Adown he goes kerchug.

"He keeps about his native pond,
He loves true liberty,
Ne'er gets 'how come you so,' for a
Cold water chap is he;
For earthly woes he ne'er gets drunk
And acts the silly fool,
But when they come he gives a jump
And drowns 'em in the pool."

An Evasive and a Decided Answer.

[The following anecdotal illustrations of the Evasive and Decided ways of answering a direct question, are rather pointed and amusing.]

Patrick O'Neil, before he became joined in the "howly bond of hemlock" with Bridget, was in the service of Father Conoly. One day, the priest expected a call from a Protestant minister, and wished to get rid of him. So, calling Patrick, he proceeded to give him instructions. "Patrick," said he, "if that minister comes here to-day, I do not wish to see him."

"Yis, yer riverence."

"Make some excuse to send him away."

"What shall I tell him, yer riverence?"

"Tell him I am not at home."

"Would you have me tell a lie?"

"No, no, Patrick; but get rid of him some way—give him an evasive answer."

"An evasive answer, is it? I'll do it."

"You understand me, Patrick?"

"Av coorse, yer riverence."

The matter thus arranged, Father Conoly retired to his library, and Patrick went about his business. About dusk, the priest came out of his room and found Patrick in unusually good spirits.

"Well, Patrick," said he, "did the minister call, to-day?"

"Yis, sir."

"And did you get rid of him?"

"I did, sir."

"Did he ask if I was in?"

"He did, sir."

"And what did you say to him?"

"I gave him an evasive answer."

"An evasive answer, Patrick?"

"Yis, yer riverence."

"And what did you say to him?"

"He axed, was yez in? and I towld him, was his grandmother a donkey?"

A gentlemen who has lived in the country so long that he might pass for a native of those diggings, though he was born in the city, was obliged to visit New York on business a few weeks since. He took quarters at a boarding house, and his rustic dress and appearance exposed him to the observations and remarks of a smart young lady who sat opposite him at the dinner table. Taking him for a decidedly verdant son of the soil, she proceeded to quiz him at her leisure. The gentleman perceived her drift, and humored the joke. In the course of her inquiries, she asked:

"Did you ever visit our great city, before?"

"Yes, madam, several years since."

"Did you come by railroad or steamboat, in those days?"

"Neither of those things were in use when I came to the town."

"You must have come by stage?"

"Not exactly that way, neither."

"You must have come on foot?"

"Not exactly so, ma'am."

"Well, how then did you come? do tell us."

"Well, if you must know, I was born here, at precisely twenty minutes past two o'clock, P. M., June 25, 1814, at No. 40 Walker street, near the Bowery."

The young lady was perfectly satisfied. She dropped the conversation, dropped her napkin, and finished her dinner another time, having learned a lesson to mind her own business.

A Quiet Place.—In one of our country exchanges we find the following recommendation of a thriving little town: "A few days ago, a gentleman, in conversation with some friends, was praising Woodville, Miss., to the skies, and remarked, among other things, that it was the most quiet and peaceful place he ever saw; there was no quarrelling nor rowdyism, nor fighting about the streets; if a gentleman insulted another he was quietly shot down, and there was the last of it!"

They mean to raise a tall lot of students in Wisconsin. Its board of education has resolved "to erect a building large enough to accommodate two hundred students three stories high."

A Great Book for Agents!

FIFTY Years in Chains: or, the Life of an AMERICAN SLAVE. Written by himself. 430 Pages, Cloth, Gilt Back. Price $1.

This is the title of one of the most intensely interesting biographies of the day. It is the plain history of an American slave in the far south, who, after two or three escapes and recaptures, finally, an old man, found freedom and rest in one of the Northern States.

What the Press Say.

The story is told with great simplicity, but with much power and pathos. Whoever takes it will find it difficult to lay it down until it is finished.—National Era, Washington, D. C.

A narrative of real experience like the above, will have far more effect against slavery than the ingeniously wrought novel, however true to life its pictures may be.—Am. Baptist.

Here is a book of facts, stranger than fiction, and a thousand fold more thrilling; a simple tale of life-long oppression, revealing truly the workings of the "peculiar institution" in a manner more forcible than we would say, here is a story worth reading.—Boston Kennell.

A THOROUGH CANVASSER WANTED.

In each county in the free states, to engage in the sale of the above work immediately. Such can easily clear from $50 TO $100 PER MONTH.

The work is beautifully printed and bound, and is as large as the books that sell for $1.25; but as we mean to sell at least one HUNDRED THOUSAND copies, through agents, we have made the retail price only ONE DOLLAR.

Freeburg, Snyder County, Pa.

THE Fourth Semi-Annual Session of this Institution will commence on Tuesday, Jan'y 5, and continue 22 weeks. Its location is pleasant and healthy. Buildings new and commodious, and Terms low. It is the constant aim of the Teachers to impart sound instruction, and carefully develope and direct the Mental, Moral and Physical energies of the students. The course of study will thoroughly prepare those pursuing it for College, the study of a Profession or business pursuits. The

NORMAL DEPARTMENT

Of last Session succeeded beyond expectations, and its members passed creditable examinations. Many young ladies and gentlemen attended it who have procured schools and are now among the most successful teachers.

Besides affording others the same facilities for thoroughly preparing themselves to become Teachers, this Department will be reopened—on the 23d of MARCH—under still more favorable auspices. The Public School system will prove a complete failure unless good Teachers are provided for it, and this can only be done by the parents, officers, Directors, Teachers, and friends of Education. Their co-operation is therefore respectfully solicited.

A Call to Farmers.

Farmers, drop your tools—pause a little—read this, and reflect!!

"FARMERS' PROMOTION BOOK."

A NEW and scientific manuring system, for the cultivation and increase of all kinds of grain, grasses, fodder and pasture, upon all kinds of soil, proved by actual experiments and based upon evident truths, designed to improve agriculture in all its branches; represented by upwards of one hundred and fifty engravings of the most valuable grasses and plants connected with the system, by DR. C. G REINHOLD, of Boalsburg, Centre Co., Penna.

RECOMMENDATION.

In this treatise it will be seen that the object has been to give the farmer that kind of information which enables him to make practical application to fertilize his land and increase by grain, fodder and pasturage. The doctrines, as taught by this manuring, and fodder, and pasture cultivation system, are rational, clear and evident, and suggest an improvement in the mode of agriculture hitherto unknown to our farmers, and which, if adopted, and carefully practiced cannot fail to advance the interests of the farming community. Such a work has been much wanted, as it fills a void which has long been felt, but which there has hitherto been no attempt to supply. And as farmers of Centre and Huntingdon counties we recommend the work to every farmer, as they will reap the greatest possible benefit from it.

DENTAL CARD.

THE new method of inserting artificial Teeth, Gum, &c., known as Allen's Continuous Gum Work, is, without exception, the best improvement ever made in the art of Dentistry. This work, when properly constructed, is the most beautiful, the cleanest, combines the greatest strength with durability, and adds more to a clear and distinct articulation, than any other kind of work ever brought before the public. And not only this. By a beautiful discovery in combination with this style of work, we can give the face its natural expression, without, in the least, interfering with the usefulness of the teeth in mastication.

I would take this method of informing those interested that I have purchased the Patent Right for this valuable improvement, of the inventor, John Allen, (now of New York,) for this and several adjoining counties, and that I am now manufacturing an article of Teeth and Gums that will compare favorably with anything in that line that has ever been made in this or any other country. I ask all, and especially those that need teeth (if they have engaged them or not,) to call, and examine for themselves.

M'REA'S CELEBRATED
LIQUID GLUE!

THE GREAT ADHESIVE. Most useful article ever invented, for household or office, surpassing in utility every other glue, gum, mucilage or cement ever known. ALWAYS READY FOR APPLICATION, adhesive on Paper, Cloth, Leather, Furniture, Porcelian, China, Marble or Glass. For manufacturing Fancy Articles, Toys, etc., it has no superior, not only possessing greater strength than any other article, but adheres more quickly, leaving no stain where the parts are joined. Never Fails. Within the last three years upwards of 250,000 bottles of this justly celebrated LIQUID GLUE have been sold, and the great convenience which it has proved in every case, has deservedly secured for it a demand which the manufacturer has found it, at times, difficult to meet; acknowledged by all who have used it, that its meritorare far above any similar article ever offered to the public.

☞This GLUE is exclusively used by the proprietors of the late "McOmie's Celebrated Liquid Glue, the Great Adhesive." Take no other. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A BOTTLE.

Manufactured and sold, Wholesale and Retail, by
WM. C. M'REA, stationer,

HOVER'S LIQUID HAIR DYE.

THE testimony of Prof. Booth and Dr. Brinkle having previously been published, the following is now added:

From Prof. M'CLOSKEY, formerly Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Female Medical College of Pennsylvania, and late Professor of Surgery in the American College of Medicine.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27, 1856.

Mr. Joseph E. Hover—Actual of your Liquid Hair Dye will convince the most skeptical that it is a safe, elegant and effectious preparation. Unlike many others it has in several instances proved serviceable in the cure of some cutaneous eruptions on the head, and I have no hesitation in commending it to those requiring such an article. Very respectfully, J. F. X. M'CLOSKEY, M. D.

HERRING'S SAFE.

THE ACKNOWLEDGED
CHAMPION!
THE RECENT TRIALS at Reading have embraced the current of public opinion, and confirmed the verdict of more than 200 individual fires, proving conclusively that "Herring's" is the ONLY SAFE THAT WILL NOT BURN.

Extract from the Committee's Report on the Trial of Iron Safes at Reading:

"On the 27th of February all the members of the Committee met to witness the Sales and books and papers, (placed in them) and were perfectly satisfied that all was right. The day following, the burning took place, under the superintendence of the Committee. After a fair and impartial burning for five hours, the Safe of Messrs. Evans & Watson was first opened, the Safe being on fire inside, and the contents partially consumed, while the contents in the Safe of Messrs. Farrels & Herring were in good condition, and no fire inside."

And endorsed by over 50 of the best men of Reading.

The above Safes can be inspected at 4 Walnut Street, where the public can satisfy themselves of the great superiority of the "Herrings Patent Champion," over the defeated and so-called "Inside Iron Door Salamander."

BAILEY & HERRING,
21 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

Only makers in this State of Herring's Patent Champion Safes.

The attempt made by other parties to bolster up the reputation of a Safe which has failed so signally in accidental fires in Philadelphia, (Ranstead Place,) by taking one out of an agent's store, (H. A. Lantz,) made double thickness, (different from those they sell,) to "burn up" one of Herring's, (built as thick) has met with its true reward. Herring's Safe stood the test, having satisfactorily proved that the only reliable Safe now made is "Herring's," of which over 10,000 are now in actual use, and more than 200 have been tried by fire without a single loss.

Truth is Mighty, and Must Prevail.

Report of the Committee appointed to superintend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, February 27, 1857.

READING, March 4.

The undersigned, members of the committee, do respectfully report, that we saw the two Safes originally agreed upon by Farrels & Herring and Evans & Watson, placed side by side in a furnace, viz: The Safe in use by the Paymaster of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the Safe in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers precisely alike.

The fire was started at 8½ o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, two cords dry oak and half chestnut dry wood were entirely consumed, the whole under the superintendence of the committee of the Committee. The Safes were then cooled off with water, after which they were opened, and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and taken to H. A. Lantz's store for public examination, after they were first examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the Safe manufactured by Evans & Watson were but slightly affected by the intense heat, while those taken from the Safe manufactured by Farrels & Herring were, in our judgment, damaged fully fifteen per cent. more than those taken from Evans & Watson's Safe.

We believe the above to have been a fair and impartial trial of the respective qualities of both Safes.

JACOB H. DYSINGER,
DANIEL S. HUNTER.

Having been absent during the burning, we fully coincide with the above statement of the condition of the papers and books taken out of the respective Safes.

G. A. NICOLLS,
H. H. MEHLENBERG,
JAMES MILHOLLAND.

Evans & Watson have now on hand 300,000 pounds of the above SAFES, which they offer for sale on better terms than any other manufacturer in the United States
