The Reason Why.

(During the exciting race between Wile and Flournoy for the Governorship of Virginia, and when the conte-t waxed warm, and brought the people together in great crowds to listen to the "stump orators," who were haranguing in every county, an incideat occurred in the county of Harrison, which a correspondent of Harper draws admirably :]

"A democratic orator was addressing a large audience, and descanting with great volumence upon certain tenets with regard to foreigners, when his eye fell upon a little German, a pedler of ready-made clothing, who seemed to be much impressed with the argument of the orator, and greedily swallowed up everything he uttere I. This was too good an opportunity not to be made the most of. Looking the little pedler in the eye he exclaimed :

"Furriner, didn't you come to this country to escape from tyrannical, downt: odden and oppressed Europe? Didn't you fice to these happy shores to live in a land of freedom where the great right of suffrage is guaranteed to all ? Didn't you, furriner ?"

He paused for a reply, when the little pedler squeaked out, "No, sur ; I comes to dis countrie to sell sheap ready-made clothes."

The astonishment of the orator. and the shouts and roars of the nultitude, can not be described. The speech was finished, the orator quit the rostrum, cursing all foreigners generally, and clothes pedlars in particulat.

Sampbell's Choice.

Lowis D.Compbell was, on the 24th, unanimously renordinated by the Re-publicans of the Fourth Congressional District Ohio for a sixth term in the House of Representatives. In the wanting anything in the way of course of an address to the convention, in which he announced his acceptance of the nomination, he stated that he had been assured, by prominent Democrats in Congress, that he should not be disturbed in his scat, if he would keep quiet on the Lecompton business ; and after his rejection, a proposition had been made to him to come over to the Democratic party, the people" of the TRADE, OCCUPATION and they would take care of him. To or profession of any man : and a this proposition he replied by telling the gentleman who made it the following story :

"Monsieur Foix, a Frenchman who every species of indignity and outrage offered him. On his return to New AT THE "Chroniele" (ffice. Orleans, he told the story most pitifully to Col. Pike, of Arkansas.
