

"Caught on the Jury." A certain man, who lived about ten miles from K., was in the habit of going to town about once a month and getting on a regular spree, and would not return until he had time to "cool off," which was generally two or three days. His wife was ignorant of the cause of his staying out so long, and suffered greatly from anxiety about his welfare. When he would return, of course his confiding wife would enquire what had been the matter with him, and the invariable reply was "that he was caught on the Jury, and couldn't get off."

Having gathered his corn, and placed it in a heap, he, according to his custom, determined to call in his neighbors and have a real corn shucking frolic. So he gave "Ned," a faithful servant, a jug and an order to go to town and get a gallon of whiskey, then a necessary article on such occasions. Ned mounted a mule, was soon in town, equipped with the whiskey, and remounted to set out for home, all buoyant with the prospect of fun of "shucking." When he had proceeded a little way from town, he concluded to try the stuff, and, not satisfied with once, he kept trying, until the world turned so fast that he turned off the mule, and there he went to sleep and the mule to grazing. Awoke "just before the break of day," but so dark that he was unable to make any start toward home until light. As soon as his bewilderment had subsided, so that he could get the "point," he started with an empty jug, the whiskey having run out, and, after, for the mule had gone home. Of course he was contemplating the application of a "two year old hickory," or a twisted piece of cowhide, as he jogged along home.

Ned reached the house about breakfast time, and "fetched up" at the back door with a decidedly guilty countenance. "What in thunder have you been at, you black rascal?" said his master. Ned, knowing his master's excuse to his wife when he got on a spree, determined to tell the truth if he died for it, and said: "Well, master, to tell the truth, I was latched on the Jury and couldn't get off."

Plain Talk. BUCHANAN, BIGLER, BLACK, & Co. can now see the result of their labors. They would not be admonished; they turned a deaf ear to their party and the people; they headed out the storm that threatened to destroy the organization of the party by which they had been honored with their exalted positions. Needless of all consequences, they took upon themselves the power to dictate and control, their party and the people. The Convention that nominated PORTER and FROST, also defeated them by placing them upon a platform of rotten plank, which was crushed to earth by Lecomptonism before the delegates returned to their homes and their outraged constituents. We rejoice over the defeat of Lecomptonism—over the defeat of Porter and Frost, and every old member of Congress who misrepresented his constituents on the Kansas question. We rejoice that the Democracy of the State have spoken in language which can not be misunderstood, in condemnation of the Kansas policy of the President.—Hanington Globe, (Democrat) 20th Oct.

The "Retired List." The President having appointed J. Glancy Jones, Minister at Vienna, the Philadelphia Bulletin, after suggesting Henry M. Phillips as Minister to England, makes the following disposition of the remaining Lecompton candidates for re-election to Congress, who were put on the "retired list" by the people: "Owen Jones might do for France, and it would be very easy to make a vacancy there for his accommodation. Mr. Landy, perhaps, would scarcely be fitted to go abroad, but there is a fresh Governor wanted for Kansas, and he would answer as well as any other Lecomptonite. If there is nothing for Mr. Gillis, why not fit out an exploring expedition, with him at the head, to go in search of Morgan? Mr. Dowart would make a very fair and substantial representative of the Government at Brussels, or Turin, or Naples. Wilson Riely is just now in excellent condition to be appointed as special Commissioner to Coventry. Leidy and White might be dispatched to Halifax or Jericho, or to any town that might afford a hiding place; and as for Abl, let him be sent to South America, to buy wools."

Pres. Buchanan went from Washington to Lancaster to "fix sings" to defeat Thad. Stevens for Congress, and consented to show all his influence, money, and whiskey in favor of James M. Hopkins, an old line Whig iron master, a Protective Tariff and Anti-Lecompton man. But all in vain. Stevens has over 3,000 majority; and how pleasant it will be for Buck to have his old friend Thad. represent him in the House with Simon in the Senate!!

A friend thus describes his summer's gardening operations: "The bugs ate up our cucumbers, the chickens ate up the bugs, the neighbors' cats ate the chickens, and we are in hopes that something will now eat the cats." This is a rotation of crops not laid down in the Agricultural Book.

Thad. Stevens and Tom. Corwin in Congress together! Want there be sport? It is said Old Buck and his crew look upon them with "about as favorable eyes as the Devils on the angels in paradise!"

Good Medicine.—The new pill got up as a remedy for melancholy is made of "tea and fresh air in equal proportions, and is to be taken with cold water, three times a day." A perfect efficient remedy.

RAILROAD. AT a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad Company, a Resolution was adopted, "That in order to defray expense of survey, $250 be called on each share of stock subscribed on which nothing has been paid, and where notes for 10 per cent have been given, one half of said notes be now collected. In pursuance thereof, I hereby give notice that payment is required within 30 days, and those neglecting to pay will be proceeded against according to law. G. F. MILLER, Treasurer. Lewisburg, Sept. 9, 1858.

DOES Disease originate in IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD? This is a question of vital importance, and one which has never been satisfactorily answered by the professedly learned and the unlearned alike. It is a question which has been the subject of much scientific research, and the results of which are now being brought to the attention of the public. The blood is the life-giving fluid of the body, and its purity is essential to the health and vitality of the individual. Impurities in the blood give rise to various diseases, and it is therefore of the highest importance to know the causes of these impurities, and the means of their removal. The blood is purified by the action of the liver and the kidneys, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep these organs in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the skin, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the skin in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the lungs, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the lungs in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the stomach and the bowels, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep these organs in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the heart, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the heart in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the brain, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the brain in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the nerves, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the nerves in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the muscles, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the muscles in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the bones, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the bones in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the joints, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the joints in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the hair, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the hair in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the nails, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the nails in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the teeth, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the teeth in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the eyes, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the eyes in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the ears, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the ears in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the nose, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the nose in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the mouth, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the mouth in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the throat, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the throat in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the chest, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the chest in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the stomach, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the stomach in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the bowels, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the bowels in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the bladder, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the bladder in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the uterus, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the uterus in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the vagina, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the vagina in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the ovaries, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the ovaries in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the fallopian tubes, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the fallopian tubes in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the uterus, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the uterus in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the vagina, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the vagina in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the ovaries, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the ovaries in a healthy state. The blood is also purified by the action of the fallopian tubes, and it is therefore of the highest importance to keep the fallopian tubes in a healthy state.

IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD! As for instance, in the long catalogue, such as Scrophulous, Syphilis, "that of the Neck," Eruptions, Eczema, Erysipelas, Scurvy, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, &c., &c., are all the result of impurities in the blood. The blood is the life-giving fluid of the body, and its purity is essential to the health and vitality of the individual. Impurities in the blood give rise to various diseases, and it is therefore of the highest importance to know the causes of these impurities, and the means of their removal.
