Democratic State Convention. The Democratic State Committee, at its meeting, on January 29th, at Harrisburg, adopted the following resolutions:

1st. That the regular Convention of the party, for nominating a candidate for the Supreme Bench, be held at Harrisburg, on the Second Tuesday of June, 1867, at twelve o'clock M., and that said Convention be composed of the usual number of delegates.

2nd. In addition thereto, it is recommended to the Democracy of Pennsylvania to forthwith elect, in the usual manner, two delegates, of recognized position and influence in the party, for each Representative and Senator in their respective district, who shall meet in Mass Convention, at Harrisburg, on a day to be fixed by the Chairman f the State Central Committee. By order of the Democratic State Com.,

THE VETO OF THE MILITARY "RECONSTRUCTION BILL."

We publish this week the President's veto of this misnamed bill. A proper name for it would be, "A bill declaring certain States out of the Union, and that they shall forever remain out." The presumption of these men who style themselves the Congress of the United States, is monstrous. When did the civilized world ever witness such doings? and much more, how could it be reasonably expected at this age, and in this country that such high-handed measures would be taken?

The President has shown his courage, and. what is more important, has made known the will of the great mass of the American People, in this veto; and history will give him credit for his action in this matter. Why, what is the state of the question, as regards reconstruction, "so-called"? Are these Southern States in or out of the Union? We repeat the stereotyped and wellconsidered doctrine, announced by the Radicals themselves, that no State can go out of the Union: that the long and dreary war of four years was for the purpose of keeping them in the Union; and now, after this bloody struggle, we are told, in substance. by this abominable bill, and in language atpropriate to the precincts of billingsgate, by members of the National Congress, ("socalled,") that these States are out of the Union. It is hard to imagine a more palpable contradiction. The merest tyro in logic could not so blunder; and yet such arguments, (Heaven save the mark,) are flaunted in the face of the civilized world?

Andrew Johnson has done things at which we shudder when we reflect upon them: but, "let justice be done, though the heavens fall." He has done a glorious thing by expressing, through this veto, what we believe to be the will of the mass of the people.

Democrats, Follow.

higher consideration than the mere ascendancy of men of your choice and party to position and power. Let not the friends of free Government suppose, that while the rage and excitement of the political contest has subsided, the enemies of Republican institutions and Constitutional Government. are silent and inactive, but at this very moment engaged in secret conclave all over the State, and in fact, throughout the entire North, devising means and measures by which to subject the people of the South to further intolerance, subjugation and degradation; to subvert the civil liberties of the people into military despotism; to build up an aristocracy to be supported by the toiling millions of the great North and West. To frustrate the designs of the unscrupulous and corrupt party leaders, we must be a unit, organized and equipped, to stand in readiness for the great battle which is soon to be fought between the lovers and enemics of the Constitution. Democrats, we call upon you in the name of Liberty, to make a bold. fearless stand in defence of your rights! Avoid the fate of a ruined, wretched, enslaved people! The people of the South reduced from the position of a proud, free American nation to starvation and subjugation, are looking forward to the great Corstitutional party of the North for aid and relief. The Fortieth Congress, composed of men from whom is only expected a rehearsal of the doings and acts of the Thirtyninth, the encouragement of the restoration of the ten States to the Union, is less looked for than before. It devolves upon the Democratic party, as citizens and patriots, to bring their power and influence to crush the oppressors of the country.

An Act has passed the Legislature dividing the borough of Danville into four Wards. Mr. Chalfant, in the House, met the opposition of some of the Radical members to this bill. They opposed the bill on the ground that the courts had entire jurisdiction over the matter. This question was not raised last Winter when the Radicals introduced and passed several bills of like character. Certain Disunion Members in the House are always looking out for something political, and by so doing make themselves meddlesome in local legislation, and thus become objects of scorn and contempt.

We learn that Abner Thompson, Esq., President of the Middle Creek Railroad Company, died at his residence in Lewistown, a few days since.

Township Election.

The Ticket supported in opposition to the straight Republican Ticket was elected in this Township on Friday last, by majorities ranging from twenty-two to nixtyin Convention, was defeated, except the candidates for Constables, who had no opposition, and one Assistant Assessor who was a candidate on both Tickets. The result is not claimed as a Democratic victory, but was caused in a great measure by the apparent mismanagement of our Township affairs for years. It was determined by the people to vote for men as officers and not as politicians, and teach the few who have been running wild, that freemen have power, and liberty to exercise the same. The successful Ticket was composed of good men of both the Democratic and Republican party. The following gentlemen were elected:

Judge of Elections, JEREMIAH J. BROW-

Inspectors of Elections, Josian H. Fun MAN and ELIAS MENDENHALL. School Directors, CHARLES B. RROCK-WAY and ANDREW M. RUPERT.

Road Supervisors, PETER BILLMEYER. JNO. J. BARKLEY, and MATHIAS SHAPPER.

Assessor, LEONARD B. RUPERT. Assistant Assessors, JOSEPH W. HENDER-HOT and ELI BARTON.

Overseers of the Poor, John LAYCOCK and SAMUEL MELLICK. Constables, LEONARD S. STINEMAN and CHESTER C. MARR.

A Western Rebellion.

The white men of Omaha, Nebraska, propose to remain white. In a square, stand up fight with the Mongrels on the naked issue of negro equality, they achieved a glorious victory at their late municipal election. Last October the Mongrels carried Omaha. Hiram R. Bower. Now they are beaten by an average of nearly four hundred majority. White Democracy is at a premium. All honor to the gallant Democrats of Omaha! Let the ery be raised, "down with Mongrelism," and the Democracy will sweep into power like an James Boyles; Overseers of the Poor, Will avalanche. Congressundertook to overthrow the laws of Nebraska by legislating that negroes should vote. Some white men there met it in the following decided if not clegant manner:

Notice to the Negroes of Omaha City. -The first Black Man that takes his Stand at the Polls to Vote he will get his head Skined to the Bone from his Enemy. out you God daind black pupy for that pate

This is flat "rebellion" against our august Congress, and a Brigadier should be at once sent to teach loyalty to the rough backwoodsmen of the latest Province added to our Empire. Suppose some Southern Province should act in this way, the howlsof ye Mongrels would go screaming through a million of ye Puritan noses in a single blast!

The conductor of the train ascertaining the man was dead, called upon the proper officer and had the corpse removed to the dead house where, an inquest was held. It appears the deceased got on the train at Sunbury, but did not attract more than usual attention from the conductor. -He had a ticket for Harrisburg, and further than this there is nothing known as to who he was or what his name was. Upon his person several dollars were found, and some papers which indicated he had recently worked in Snyder county. His remains were sent to the Poor House burying ground for interment.

OIL CITY, Pa., March 11, 1867. EDITOR DEMOCRAT: -Being out here in this Pennsylvaina grease spot, I've though few lines regarding the "state of affairs in the land of oil, would not be uninterest ing to the readers of the Democrat. Oil City, the convergent point of four different railrowls, and the head of steam navi gation on the Allegheny River, is the "head centre" of the Pennsylvania oil fields. It is situated at the mouth of Oil Creek, and contains about 4.000 inhabitants.

It is in the Valler of the Oldek that the best oil territory is situated. Hundreds of wells have been put down along this creek, few of which have failed to produce oil in paying quantities, and "rich strikes" are being made every day. The average yield of wells is from 100 to 200 barrels per day. The famous Coquett and Phillips wells, -the former on the Egber's and the latter on the Tar farm on Oil Creek-which at one time flowed at the rate of 2500 barrels per day each, are now pumping but 150 barrels each. Many companies have su-pended made within the past few days, and our Irish seph Coleman, Peter Creveling; Town Clerk, operations owing to the low price at which citizens are thoroughly aroused in support session, finally passed the supplemental milis selling at present. Crude oil, quoted at $9.00 two years ago, is now selling at $2.00. The oil market at present, is very dull, but promises to grow more "busily during the present month. The Register of this city, speaking of the New Yerk Petroleum Market says: "The exports of petroleum from the port of New York last week amounted to 648,328 gallons. The total exports since the 1st of January, 1867, are 4,083,086 gallons. This shows a falling off. compared with the exports of last year for the same time, of nearly one million

> The receipts of oil in New York last week were 25,370 barrels. Since January 1st, the total receipts are 146,755 barrels against 192.645 barrels for the same in 1866. The increased business at the port of Philadelphia, however, must be taken into ac count in estimating the actual condition of the trade. The receipts of oil and the amount exported are greatly diminished. but not in the ratio that the statement of trade of New York would indicate. This than any other corporation in, or about the place. The Superintendent, Mr. R. G. Taylor, is a practical, forseeing man, and evidently knows how to "run a road." 'armers' is doing a better business and has brighter prospects than any other railroad in the oil regions. I am indebted to Mr. Thos. Dimock, track master of this road for many favors tendered me during my stay in Oil City.

A good story is told of a poor farmer liv ing somewhere in the oil regions, who was made suddenly rich by a "big strike" on on his property. He hardly knew what to do with his newly acquired wealth, as he was unused to being 'bothered' with too much hard cash. His only daughter who had always attended the 'common school' in the neighborhood, was now brought home, and a teacher was engaged to attend at her residence as private tutor. For the old man said, now that he had the stamps, his Sarah Jane should have a good cation." He no longer considered his taxes too high, nor the old school system the best, but straight-way employed one of the bes teachers in the neighborhood.

One day the old man thought he would drop in to see how the 'gal was progressin' Upon inquiry, the tutor replied; "very well Mr. T. only that she lacks a capacity—"
Before he had finished, the old man broke

"Capacity! Why didn't you speak of that before? I have money to buy her a capacity, and she shall have one. Sarah Jane is a good child, and she shall want for nothing that I am able to get her."

Whether the eld man succeeded in getting a capacity for his daughter or not I am unable to tell, but do know that she now possesses a capacity for taking the eyes of the "boys" in these parts. The farmer is no longer tilling the soil, but has purchased a fine city residence, where he now lives, and seated in one of his chairs, smoking the pure Havana, with his thumbs in the arm holes of his vest, denies that he ever asked the tutor to purchase a capacity for his daughter and that he knows what a capacity is as well as you do.

But the reader is already tired and I will discussion. Judging by the vote on the first amendment proposed by Mr. Drake, of Misstop writing for this time, promising them something more and better at some future time. Truly yours,

THE MILITARY BILL AMENDED. The House Judiciary Committee this morning reported a bill to amend the military government act, so as to enlarge the powers of the commanders of military districts thereby created, and guard more .effectually against representation from the Southern States until after the next Presidential election. The measure was framed n response to the resolution introduced by Mr. Kelley, of Philadelphia, some days ago. COMMANDERS IN THE SOUTH.

The assignment of military commanders in the newly-created districts of the South, as announced yesterday, was made by the President after communication with Generals Grant and Sherman. The latter advised the retention of Sheridan in the Louisiana and Texas District, and upon his recommendation that officer was selected for the com-
