

WM. H. JACOBY, Editor.

Published at Bloomington, Columbia county, Pa., on Wednesday, April 17, 1867.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State Committee, at its meeting on January 29th, at Harrisburg, adopted the following resolutions: 1st. That the regular Convention of the party, for nominating a candidate for the Supreme Bench, be held at Harrisburg, on the second Tuesday of June, 1867, at twelve o'clock M., and that said Convention be composed of the usual number of delegates.

Bloomington Literary Institute.

On this fifteenth day of April, A. D., 1867, is opened the BLOOMINGTON LITERARY INSTITUTE.

This is an epoch in the history of Columbia County, and of Bloomsburg in particular, which will not soon pass out of our recollection of local events; for the Institute building itself will be a standing monument of the enterprise of our citizens, and of the energy and business capacity of the projector, Professor HENRY CARVER.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

The Institute building occupies a site at the east end of the town, on a commanding bluff, not extremely elevated, but so high as to be entirely free from any malaria which might be generated in any of our extraordinarily pure atmosphere.

Democratic Victories.

At the city election at Tronton, N. J., on the 8th, Read, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, and the whole Democratic ticket were elected. The Democrats have a majority of seven in the Council.

The Democrats carried the Hartford (Conn.) city election by 600 majority, on Monday, a gain of 130 since Monday week.

The Democratic Conservative party of Hagerstown, Md., on the 8th, covered themselves with glory. At the municipal election, for the first time since the incorporation of the town they elected their entire ticket, for Town Council, by an average majority of forty-seven, over the Loyal League and Radical Disunionists.

The charter election of Rochester New Jersey, was held on Tuesday. Miles Ross, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, was elected by about 160 majority. The Democrats also elected four Aldermen out of six, which makes a Democratic majority in the City Council.

The municipal election at Beverly N. J., took place on Monday, and resulted in the complete triumph of the Democratic ticket. Mr. George McGonigal, late Hospital Steward of the Tenth New Jersey Regiment, was the Democratic and successful candidate for Mayor.

The charter election of Albany, N. Y., on Tuesday, resulted in the election of the Democratic city ticket by 1,600 to 1,700 majority.

The charter election of Lockport, N. Y., on Tuesday went Democratic by 270 majority.

For the first time in more than sixty years, the old Federal town Boscawen, in New Hampshire, cast a majority for the Democratic candidate for Governor at the recent election in that State.

St. Paul, Minnesota, elected the Democratic ticket on the 2nd by 1,900 majority.

In Dayton, Ohio, the Democrats gained two Councilmen over the Rals on the 2nd.

MADISON, Wisconsin, elected the Democratic ticket by 259 majority. A gain.

MILWAUKEE, Wisconsin, gave the Democrats 1,500 majority, on the 2nd, a gain of 400.

THE Democracy gain one Councilman in Cincinnati.

St. JOSEPH'S, Missouri, has elected a Democratic mayor.

These are some of the reverses, spoken of a week or two since in our paper, which Radicalism has lately experienced; but the Republican papers are loath to acknowledge these elections as defeats to their party.

The thing is palpably plain that Republicanism is fast being buried in the ruins created by that party. Their leaders have become despondent, and the masses confused and scattered, looking about to join hands with an honest set of people, who will use their best efforts to bring about that peace and happiness that once blessed the country.

Five thousand men are out of work at Pittsburg.—Ee.

And we have no doubt that those very five thousand men voted for Old Abe and Andy Curtin and John W. Geary, and all the other radical scoundrels who did their best to bring about this state of things.—Scarcity of money is the legitimate effect of the principles they voted for, and if they are out at the elbows and out at the pockets it is their own fault. Nevertheless we pity them, and have to say to them that they can remedy this matter, if they will. We need not tell them how. Their good sense will teach them that, if they have any; if, however, their eyes are not yet opened, they deserve to suffer. If they are willing to kiss the hand that smites them, let them do it. The way of escape is open to them; if they will not walk in it, their ruin be upon their own heads.—Clinton Democrat.

A TAXATION DODGE.—A year ago the Legislature took the State tax real estate. The Radicals made something of a blow about it, and it was heralded abroad as evidence that they were relieving the people of taxation. An act has just passed the Legislature repealing the State tax on certain personal property, which brought $300,000 into the treasury. This has a show of decreasing our taxes, but it is a mere pretence. The same bill provides that this $300,000 shall be apportioned among the respective counties of the State, payable by the respective county treasurers into the State treasury on the first day of every August, interest chargeable on arrears. The effect of the bill is to relieve a particular class of people, who paid tax on certain description of personal property, and impose the tax on others. If there is any necessity for thus shifting the burden of taxation we have not been able to see it. This kind of legislation will not satisfy the people that their taxes have been lightened.

GOV. GEARY APPEARS TO BE AN EXPENSIVE LUXURY.—A short time since we noticed that the Legislature appropriated $4,000 for the improvement of the Governor's mansion, and on Monday last $20,000 were appropriated to commence an extension to it. It is understood that persons have been boring for this ever since. Geary set foot in it. The family hasn't had room to turn around in; the Governor had no place to study in; he was constantly interrupted and annoyed by the entrance of servants; and really the State could afford to build him a more commensurate with his distinguished services—more especially as he might cause the State to lose much more than the cost in case he was interrupted or annoyed when deliberating on subjects of great public moment, &c. Just so. But we cannot see how a man without brains can easily be annoyed. A Governor who signs a law and then calls on the Legislature to repeal it, because he did not know what he signed until somebody told him, as in the case of the Allegheny Valley Railroad bill, cannot be troubled much with brains.—Easton Sentinel.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

CONNECTICUT.—There is a report, says the New Haven Register, that on a recount of the votes in the Sixteenth Senatorial District, Seth S. Logan, of Washington, was found to have a majority, and is therefore elected, giving the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate.

The Democratic Party and the Future.

There is a strong effort being made at the present time to induce the people to look upon the Democratic party as defunct, a thing of the past, as having fulfilled its mission, and no longer necessary as a means of restoring peace and good government in the country. The Radical faction are earnestly engaged in this movement. All their papers from the Tribune to the smallest sheet in the remote West, talk in the same strain upon this subject. In the South especially this view is being urged with great zeal and earnestness by the missionaries of the dominant organization of the nation. They declare that if an early settlement of our national difficulties and troubles is desirable, if the Southern States crave rehabilitation and representation, the path towards those ends lies through an acceptance of the theories of the Radical faction, and an abandonment of the principles of the Democratic party, and the organization founded upon those principles. The whole theory of those who father this scheme for uprooting the Democratic party is that "the Democracy are so odious, for past offences, that the country will never submit to their restoration to power. The country, here, signifies that portion of the Radicals who think with the Democrats on the issue now against the land. It is assumed that there are enough of them, by voting with the latter, to exile the former from power and place." But the leaders of the dominant or anti-republican party declare that it would be far better to let the Radical faction lead them further on along the path which leads inevitably to ruin, than win a triumph under the democratic name. The New Orleans Picayune, after noticing fully the above grounds assumed by the Radicals, continues:

If the Democratic organizations were dissolved and the name abandoned, and a new party organized, it is plain that by whatever designation it might be known, it must, in order to succeed, obtain the votes of those who are Democrats. There were nearly two millions of them in the last presidential election; and the difference between the two parties was about ten per cent. of the whole vote. A change of little more than five per cent. would have given the party calling itself Democrats a majority of the popular vote then cast. Besides that, the whole vote of the South was excluded, and on the issue of the day that would be almost unanimously Democratic; that is to say, for the principles and objects for which the Democrats enter the political fight. These two millions of voters in the North are the substance out of which only a successful party could be raised and consolidated so as to overcome the Radicals at the polls. It is a common saying, that the odium marked on that party, for its course, or for rather the course which its advisers succeeded in persuading the public that it had taken during the war, attaches itself to its organization, so that loyal Republicans never consent to be identified with it. It is another way of saying that the Democratic party must confess itself to have been disloyal, and declare itself incapable of defence against the charge. It seems to be promised that, if it will do so, a portion of those who make the accusation will take all the grounds the Democratic party sustain, and lead them to success. There is temper and prejudice in this, if nothing worse. It is extremely unreasonable to require such sacrifices as a proposition to men, to persuade them to do their duty; and it is extremely irrational to expect that when a party gives up its leaders and is practically disbanded, it can rally at once with the same force and effect as before.—Organization is to a party, what discipline is to an army. It would be just as sensible to look for community of purpose and action on the field from the use of militia, as for successful political action to be had against a party so thoroughly drilled as the Republican party is, by a party disbanded, under a new name.

The utility of the Democratic organization is, therefore, one of the chief elements of success in the canvass which is opening now, to close only with the next Presidential election. It was tried in the Connecticut election, and the success of the party, by the aid of a considerable number of Republicans, who cling to the substance of things, with a patriotic disregard for names, is an encouraging sign that the counsels of such papers as the New York Times will not impede the union in action of all those who desire the same political reforms.

It is very evident that Radical rule can only be broken by a union of all the friends of republicanism upon a common ground and for a common purpose. That purpose must be to reinstate the Constitution as the supreme law of the land, to restore the States to their old places in the Union, to repeal the obnoxious military reconstruction bill, and to allow the people of all portions of the Union representation in the councils of the nation. This is a platform on which all true friends of the Republic can certainly unite. As to minor details, there may and will be differences of opinion. Local causes may induce the people of the East and West to desire that the tariff and revenue laws should be presented in certain aspects, but on the great fundamental question of reconstruction, they need not be separated, if they will take counsel of their patriotic impulses, and not lend themselves to the arts of a demagogue, or the uncertain guides of passion and prejudice.

How can such a union of patriotic men, for such a high and holy purpose, be effected, but upon the platform and through the agency of the Democratic party? What other organization can they trust? What other party can present such a record of devotion to the great fundamental principles upon which the hopes of the Republic rest? The Radical organization has thrown overboard the Constitution and is drifting upon the tide of popular passion. They can promise nothing for the future but discord, contention, and anarchy. The Conservative masses, have no efficient organization by means of which to discipline the anti-Radical forces of the nation, and make them effective at the polls. The regular army which is to confront the party in power, and contend for the union of the States, the perpetuation of civil government and the life of the Republic, is the Democratic party, and that fact is more and more indisputable and apparent as the day of battle approaches.

The elections in all parts of the Union testify to the life and vitality of the Democratic party, and also prove that the masses are looking to that organization as the only hope for the future. There are no signs of decay in the old constitutional party of the country. Its principles are those which, if carried into practice, will reunite the States and make the nation a unit from Maine to Texas, and the utility of its organization "one of the chief elements of success in the canvass which is now opening, to close only with the next Presidential election." The future of the nation is indissolubly wedded with that of the Democratic party, and if we are true to principles, the people will not suffer them to be divorced.—Age.

MURDER IN LEHIGH COUNTY.—On Sunday evening last a most brutal murder was committed at Laury's Station, in Lehigh county, on the line of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The victim was an Irishman named Michael O'Day, and the parties charged with the horrible crime are John Dorry, Thos. O'Hare and John Clark. The scene of the murder is a small boarding shanty, near the station, into which the accused parties forced their way, and finding O'Day, with whom it appears they had had a difficulty the previous day, stabbed and beat him so shockingly that he died in about half an hour after. Dorry was arrested next morning, by Gen. David Laury, just as he was in the act of getting on the passenger train, at Catasquas Station. Clark and O'Hare are still at large. Whisky seems to have been the cause of the crime.—Easton Sentinel.

MARKET REPORT.

Wheat per bushel, $2 80
Rye, " " " " 1 10
Corn, " " " " 90
Buckwheat, " " " " 80
Oats, " " " " 55
Cloverseed, " " " " 7 00
Flaxseed, " " " " 2 50
Dried apples, " " " " 2 50
Potatoes, " " " " 80
Flour per barrel, " " " " 16 00
Butter, " " " " 35
Eggs per dozen, " " " " 20
Tallow per pound, " " " " 14
Lard, " " " " 15
Hams, " " " " 20
Shoulders, " " " " 15
Hay per ton, " " " " 20 00

MARRIED.

On Tuesday, the 9th of April, 1867, by Montgomery Cole, J. P., Mr. CHRISTIAN L. MOORE, of Sugarloaf Township, to Mrs. ELIZABETH YORKS, of Jackson Township, Columbia County.

DIED.

In Centre Township, Columbia County, on Saturday morning, April 6, 1867, MERCY HILL, consort of John Hill, Esq., aged about 56 years.

Mrs. Hill was a kind hearted christian woman—beloved and esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and was the mother of quite an extensive and interesting family. "Peace to her ashes."

In Light Street, Columbia County, on the 6th inst., Mrs. Sarah White, aged about 89 years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE accounts of the late Columbia Democrat, and other evidence, published in the undersigned, and placed in the hands of the Justice Chamberlain, of Bloomsburg, for immediate collection, and notice is hereby given to all interested, that a cost will be made on all unsettled accounts during the May Court.

NOTICE IN DIVORCE.

Martha J. Mead by her J. P. in the Court of Common Pleas of Columbia County, No. 4 of February Term, 1867. Absorption in Divorce.

Practical Watchmaker and Jeweler.

MAIN STREET, (near the Court House.)

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Constantly on hand a fine assortment of American and Swiss Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silverware, &c.

Particular attention paid to the repairing of Clocks, Watches and Jewelry. Machine Marks made to order. Work Warranted.

SAMUEL SNYDER, Sheriff.

NOTICE.

The Stockholders of the Bloomsburg Literary Institute, are notified that an election will be held in the Library Room of the Institute Building, on the first Saturday of May next, between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock P. M., being the 14th proximo, to elect nine Directors to serve for the ensuing year.

ASSIGNEE'S NOTICE.

The first and final account of Benjamin P. Foster, Assignee of Clinton and James Dewitt, of Conyngham Township, Columbia County.

NOTICE is hereby given that Benjamin P. Foster Assignee of Clinton and James Dewitt, of Conyngham Township, Co. Pa., have exhibited and filed in the Court of Common Pleas of said County, his account of his said estate, and that the same will be allowed at the said Court on the 23rd day of May next, unless cause be shown to the contrary.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By Virtue of a writ of St. Venditionis Exponas, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Columbia County and to me directed, I have exposed to public sale at the Court House, in Bloomsburg on Monday the 6th day of May, 1867, at one o'clock in the afternoon, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot or two lots of ground, situate in Germantown, in Conyngham Township, Columbia County, containing fifty feet front and two hundred feet deep, bounded on the north by the turnpike, on the west and south by land of the Lehigh Mountain Coal and Iron Company, and on the east by lands of the same company, and is created a log house with the appurtenances.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

APPLICANTS FOR HOTEL, RESTAURANT AND LIQUOR STORE LICENCES.

Notice is hereby given that the following persons have made application to the Prothonotary of Columbia County for Tavern, Restaurant and Liquor Store Licenses to be granted at the coming May Term:

- Bloom. John Leacock, Tavern, do
do John F. Caslow, do do do Geo. W. Mauger, do do do Bernard Stohner, do do do O. A. Jacoby, do do do L. D. Mendonhall, Liq. Store, do do Wm. E. Gilmore, E. House, do
do John F. Caslow, do do do B. Stohner, do do do John S. Mann, Tavern, do do C. Shuman & Son, do do do John J. Stiles, do do do H. W. Gilchrist, do do do Gideon G. Hosler, do do do Henry J. Clark, do do do J. B. Kistler, do do do Philip Gotschall, do do do J. L. Runyan, E. House, do do Levi Keller, do do do John Grover, Tavern, do do H. H. Lohman, E. House, do do A. W. Creamer, Liq. Store, do do Thos. O'Conner, do do do John Cannon, Tavern, do do Henry A. Weidensaul, do do do Stephen Horan, E. House, do do Michael O'Haire, do do do Thos. Gearty, do do do Samuel H. Hays, do do do Patrick Killen, do do do Robt' Chapman, do do do Myr' Farrall, do do do Conyngham, D. T. McKiernan, Tavern, do do Thomas Monroe, do do do Samuel Leiby, do do do Fishbergereek E. Unangst, do do do Greenwood, Cornelius M. Carn, do do do Milton E. Cox, do do do Joseph F. Long, do do do Humphrey Parker, do do do Homlock, John Hartman, do do do Ludwlg Thiele, do do do Joshua Womer, do do do John Kline, do do do Isaac Rhodes, do do do K. A. Smith, do do do Samuel Vetter, do do do Samuel Rimbly, do do do Geo. H. Brown, do do
do Geo. H. Brown, do do do Brown & Coleman E. House, do do H. W. Malick, do do do Jacob Good, do do do John Snyder, do do do Israel Mumney, do do do Philip D. Keller, do do do John Savage, do do do William Remley, do do do John Hummel, E. House, do do J. D. Rice, do do do JESSE COLEMAN, Proth., do do Prothonotary's Office, do do Bloomsburg, April 10, 1867.

REMOVAL OF C. C. MARR'S NEW STORE TO SHIVE'S BLOCK, FIRST DOOR ABOVE "DEMOCRAT OFFICE."

THE undersigned having received from the city a full and complete supply of

SPRING AND SUMMER DRY GOODS AND GROCERIES,

Notions, Tin-ware, Hardware, Confectionery, Groceries, &c., &c., at the lowest prices, and in the most desirable styles, and in order to accommodate my customers, I have removed my store to the block above mentioned, and will continue to do business there as usual.

C. C. MARR.

ORANGEVILLE HOTEL, COLUMBIA COUNTY, PENNA.

ISRAEL MUMMEY, PROPRIETOR.

SUCCESSOR TO SAMUEL EVERETT.

has lately taken charge of this well known and conveniently located stand, respectfully informs his old friends, as well as new, and the public in general, that he has secured the services of the best of cooks, waiters, and bar-tenders, and has also secured the best of liquors, and his table with the best market affords.

ISRAEL MUMMEY.

NEW BAKERY AND CONFECTIONERY ESTABLISHMENT ON THIRD STREET, BLOOMSBURG, PA.

J. F. FOX, Proprietor of this establishment, would respectfully inform his old and new customers, that he has every thing made to order, and in the most desirable styles, and in order to accommodate my customers, I have removed my store to the block above mentioned, and will continue to do business there as usual.

J. F. FOX.

THE "EXCHANGE BUILDINGS," where persons desiring bread can be accommodated at all hours.

with Ale, Lager Beer, and Porter, by the whole, half, or quarter barrel, will call upon WILLIAM HILMRE, at his Saloon in Shive's Block, Main Street, who has been authorized by the undersigned to sell, who will sell at the lowest market rates.

Mr. Fox, in connection with his Bakery and Confectionery Store, will also sell

ICE CREAM, to all who may favor him with their patronage. He is also prepared to make Ice Cream in large quantities for parties, public or social gatherings, as the case may be. Everything pertaining to the line of business will receive prompt and judicious attention.

He is thankful to his customers for past favors, and most cordially solicits a continuance of the same.

J. F. FOX.

NEW DRUG STORE!

"OUR OWN" PREPARATIONS,

Superior to the many patent nostrums flooding the market.

CAMPHOR ICE WITH Glycerine, a delightful compound for whitening, beautifying, softening the skin, removing Tan, Freckles, and Ringworms, &c., &c., affording instant relief in all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

It has no equal. Price 50 cents per Box at HENDERSON'S.

"Balsam of Horehound," A safe, speedy, and certain cure for Croup, Cold, Hoarseness, &c., &c., affording instant relief in all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

It has no equal. Price 50 cents per Box at HENDERSON'S.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CONFECTIONERY STORE AND-BAKERY, STOHNER & WIDMEYER, MANUFACTURERS OF FINE AND FANCY CONFECTIONERY.

DEALERS IN FOREIGN FRUIT AND NUTS, EXCHANGE BLOCK, ON MAIN STREET, BLOOMSBURG, PENNA.

ORANGES, LEMONS, RAISINS, PRUNES, FIGS, DATES, &c. BREAD & CAKES OF ALL KINDS.

All orders promptly attended to. Having entered into partnership with the Haking and Confectionery business at the Old Stand at this place, we are enabled to make up our experience in baking, and manufacturing all kinds of Cakes, warrants them in saying that the public will be ACCOMMODATED with everything in their line, upon the most reasonable and acceptable terms. Hotels and private families can be furnished with Food Fresh bread every day by calling at their establishment.

Cakes will be made and furnished in large or small quantities, to suit purchasers, at WHOLESALE RATES.

Retail Dealers throughout the country will do well to give them a call before purchasing elsewhere. We have in connection with our Confectionery Store, an ICE CREAM ROOM, where they intend to serve out Ice Cream during the Summer months to all who may favor them with their patronage. They will also make up their own Ice Cream for parties. STOHNER & WIDMEYER, Bloomsburg, April 3, 1867.

A SOLLEDER'S BOOT AND SHOE STORE, (OPPOSITE THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH,) ON MAIN STREET, BLOOMSBURG.

The subscriber takes pleasure in announcing to the people of Bloomsburg, that he has on hand a large and fine assortment of