THE TWO ARMIES.

BY O. W. HOLMES.

As Life's unending column pours,
Two marshalled hosts are seen—
Two armies on the trumpet's shores
That death flows black between.

One marches to the drum-beat's roll,
The wide-mouthed clarion's bray,
And bears upon a crimson scroll,
"Our glory is to slay."

One moves in silence by the stream,
With sad, yet watchful eyes,
Calm as the patient plant's gleam
That walks the clouded skies.

Along its front no sabres shine,
No blood-red pennons wave;
Its banner bears the single line,
"Our duty is to save."

For those no death-beds lingering shade,
At Honor's trumpet call,
With knitted brow and lifted blade,
In glory's arms they fall.

For those no flashing falchions bright,
No striding battle-ery;
The bloodless stabber calls by night—
"Each answers, 'Here am I!'"

For those the sculptor's marbled bust,
The guild's marble piles,
The anthems pealing o'er their dust,
Through long cathedral aisles.

For these the blossom-sprinkled turf
That floods the lonely graves,
When Spring rolls in her sea-green surf
In flowery-foaming waves.

Two paths lead upward from below,
And angels wait above,
Who count each burning life-drop's flow,
Each falling tear of Love.

Though from the Hero's bleeding breast
Her pulses free-love drew,
Though the white lilies in her crest
Sprang from that scarlet dew—

While Valor's haughty champions wait
Till all their cars are shown,
Love waits unchallenged thro' the gate,
To sit beside the Throne!

Who Told the Truth.

Democrat, you remember that during the last campaign our "Republican" friends denied the charge that they are in favor of negro suffrage and equality.

A SINGULAR ESCAPE.

An African female who with her husband, came aboard the brig "North Star," Captain Glentome, while the vessel lay off and on the coast of Guinea, a few months since, related in broken English the following particulars:

While bathing her boy, a youngster of seven years, in the waters of a stream not far from the coast, the little fellow suddenly broke from her grasp and was carried by the current towards the opposite shore.

With all the power of her lungs the poor woman screamed to the child, apprising him of his danger, and begging him to return. Unfortunately he dove just as she shouted, and therefore did not hear her until he rose to the surface close to the bank.

The New York Herald and Leather Journal notices a few of the differences in the shape of the pedal extremities of people in various sections of the country.

Shoes made for one locality are not adapted for all. For instance, a broad shoe, wide at the shank, is best adapted to the Eastern trade.

Two SUNDAYS EVERY WEEK.—The United States of America always was "the greatest nation in creation," as everybody who has ever witnessed a Fourth of July oration well knows.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c. That on and after the passage of this act any railroad, or railway corporations within this Commonwealth that shall exclude, or allow to be excluded by their agents, conductors, or employees from any of their passenger cars any person or persons on account of color or race or that shall refuse to carry in any of their cars that set apart any person or persons on account of color or race, or that shall for such reasons compel or attempt to compel any person or persons of color to occupy any particular part of any of these cars set apart for the accommodation of persons of color, shall be liable to an action of debt to the sum of five hundred dollars, the same to be recovered in an action of debt as like amounts are now by law recoverable.

Section 2. That any agent, conductor or employee of any railroad or railway corporation within this Commonwealth, who shall exclude, allow to be excluded, or assist in the exclusion from any of their cars set apart for the accommodation of passengers, any person or persons on account of color or race, or who shall refuse to carry in any of their cars that set apart any person or persons on account of color or race, or that shall for such reasons compel or attempt to compel any person or persons of color to occupy any particular part of any of these cars set apart for the accommodation of persons of color, shall be liable to an action of debt to the sum of five hundred dollars, the same to be recovered in an action of debt as like amounts are now by law recoverable.

Section 3. That any agent, conductor or employee of any railroad or railway corporation within this Commonwealth, who shall exclude, allow to be excluded, or assist in the exclusion from any of their cars set apart for the accommodation of passengers, any person or persons on account of color or race, or who shall refuse to carry in any of their cars that set apart any person or persons on account of color or race, or that shall for such reasons compel or attempt to compel any person or persons of color to occupy any particular part of any of these cars set apart for the accommodation of persons of color, shall be liable to an action of debt to the sum of five hundred dollars, the same to be recovered in an action of debt as like amounts are now by law recoverable.

VIVA LA SIMON—VIVA LA CORRUPTION.

The nomination of Henry W. Williams, of Connecticut, for Judge of the Supreme Court, by the "Blockhead" Williamsport Convention, was a great triumph for the old Winnebago chief, Cameron.

When Cameron, last winter, secured his election to the Senate over Curtin and others, he was spoken of by more than two-thirds of the Radical-Jacobin journals of the State as one of "the most corrupt men in the Commonwealth, who disgraced and demoralized every party whose cause he pretended to espouse."

True as Preaching.
If men and women are willing to live within their incomes, disposed to begin life at the bottom of the ladder, obey the primary impulses of their nature, and enter upon the cares, trials, and pleasures of the domestic circle, bind their hearts and twine their hopes around the family altar, they would be greatly the gainers.

Young Men in Society.
A modest and virtuous young man, on first going into society, is apt to be sorely perplexed upon the question how to make himself agreeable to ladies.

Loyal are you, when you vote the Blockhead ticket, and enable the knaves of our country to fill their safes and vaults with gold bearing bonds free from taxes, for they shall call you Union men, they shall prevent the rebels from raising corn, they shall herd the "unbleached Americans" together and feed them from the Freedmen's Bureau, they shall cause you to pay three prices for food and clothing, they shall cause you to go hungry, but rejoice and be exulting in the end you shall be made equal to the "unbleached American."

ARISTOCRACY.—One of the parvenu ladies of Cincinnati, who would be wonderfully aristocratic in all her domestic concerns, was visiting a few days since at the house of Major G., (all know the old Major), when after tea, the following conversation occurred in consequence of the hired girl occupying a seat at the tea table:

A poverty stricken Frenchman, being aroused by his wife one night with the cry of "Get up, Jacques, there's a robber in the house," calmly answered: "Hush, don't let us disturb him. Let him ransack the house, and if he finds anything of value we'll get up and take it away from him."

Adventure with a Coral Snake.

The coral snake of Central America is the most deadly in existence. After its bite there is no time even to attempt a cure, the victim falls instantly, his blood coagulates, and he soon becomes a lifeless mass of putridity.

"Another came and passed, and another; till at length the poor wretch could only moan inarticulately as he heard the tramp of a horse. The rider saw him, and drawing near, observed distinctly the form of the snake, which was three feet long, beneath his drawers. He dismounted, and taking a pair of scissors from his saddle bags, cut gently the cloth till the creature's head was visible as it lay fast asleep.

Some people are as incapable of seeing but one side of a subject, as the flounder and turbot tribes among fishes, which, having both eyes placed on one side of their heads, are able to see but one way.

A lawyer, neither young nor handsome when examining a young lady witness in court, desiring to perplex her, said, "Miss, upon my word, you are very pretty." The young lady promptly replied, "I would return the compliment, sir, if I wasn't under oath."

The Emperors of Russia and Austria are about to be invested with the English Order of the Garter and missions will be sent to Vienna and St. Petersburg, for that purpose. The same honor is to be conferred upon the Sultan, who will go to London to receive it in person.

The hull of the famous iron clad New Ironsides, which was burned at Philadelphia, has been purchased from the government, by a Mr. Thompson of New York who will soon, with a force of submarine workmen, have it raised from its present submerged position.

A lady school teacher, of Indianapolis, was, last Sunday, endeavoring to impress upon her scholars the terrible effect of the punishment of Nebuchadnezzar. She told them that for seven years he ate grass just like a cow. Just then a small boy asked, "Did he give milk?" We are not informed as to the teacher's reply.

Radical Rumanism in Tennessee.

The latest received Tennessee papers contain full reports of the recent riot at Franklin in that State. The telegraphic account of the affair which we published was substantially correct.

They had what they wanted, to a limited extent. The black leaguers, tired of firing in the air, assembled in a public square and poured a volley of bullets into a crowd of white spectators.

Of course, this was done. There is no necessity for a farcical "investigation," since all the necessary Radical capital is made in the call for a squad of Brownlow's soldiers to the spot.

Somebody once a female having been summoned before the Court of Judicature in Calcutta, deposed that a circumstance involved in the cause occurred in her presence. The judge asked where it happened. She replied: "In the veranda of such a house."

The woman, not perceiving the trap that was laid for her, said, without much consideration, that the veranda was supported by four pillars. The counsel for the opposite party immediately offered to prove that the veranda contained five pillars, and that, consequently, no credit could be given to her evidence.

A white man named W. L. Flynn, a store-keeper, on the Albany Gulf railroad, was murdered by two freedmen a day or two ago, his head and face being chopped with an axe, and his house burned. The indignation was so great that it was with great difficulty the whites were prevented from lynching the culprits.

Prisoner Killed in Attempting to Escape from an Officer.

Wednesday last Patrick Scanlon, of Sharpburg, telegraphed to Harrisburg for the arrest of one Patrick Moore, who, it was stated, would reach that city by the express train of the Central road, upon which he left this city.

They had what they wanted, to a limited extent. The black leaguers, tired of firing in the air, assembled in a public square and poured a volley of bullets into a crowd of white spectators.
