At the opening of the year 1868, The World challenges, more confidentially than ever, the sympathy and support of all patrictic citizens. A glorious work has been gloriously begun. Deep already answers to deep. The long fidelity of this journal to the cause of Liberty protected by Law stands nobly vindicated in a splendor of victory shining from Maine to California. Connecticut, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jarkov Nork, have thundered forth their say, New York, have thundered forth their Connecticut, Obio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, have thundered forth their verdict upon the misrule and madness of the Past. But much more still remains to be done. Never was the peril of the country greater. The Radical party still decrees the death of representative self-government in ten sovereign States. Armed with mili-tary despotism and wholesale Negro Suffrage it desperately grasps at a permanant lease of power, in defiance of public opinion, at the power, in denance or putting of crippled in-cost of enormous taxes and of crippled in-dustries, at the cost of Union and Peace, To the great battle still to be fought THE Would will give all its efforts, all its epergles. It asks of its friends in their turn as much; it asks of them more readers and a wider influence. It asks this with confidence in its claims as a newspaper and as an organ of opinion. The chief use of a Newspaper is to give its readers all the news.

For this the facilities of The World are unsurpassed by any journal in the United States. It soeks to excel by an accuracy and candor, a spirit and freshness in its news columns which shall commend it to readers of whatever party, sex, creed, or As an organ of opinion the The World is the unflinching champion of a liberal progressive Democracy, whereof the cornerstone is Freedom restrained by Justice: Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of Justice being to protect Freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual ci izen, REAL ESTATE RECORD, in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of any foolish usury laws; in his right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust proceedive tariffs; in his right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of un constitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of crievances : Freedom of all local communiies to manage their local affairs without interference: Freedom, in every action of the country, from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections. This large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of Tao World, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the coun-
