Washington, February 22, 1868.

"To all Whom it may Concern."

All those of our patrons indebted to us either for job work or subscription to the DEMOCRAT, will please make payment between this and the first of May next. We have commenced a new volume, and it is our earnest desire to have all back subscriptions settled up by the time above stated, and all who do not call and settle or remit their subscriptions will be charged two dollars and fifty cents. They have an opportunity now to save fifty cents, will they do it? This notice is intended to apply to those only scho are in arrears, and we do not wish any subscriber to take offence at it, but if he owes the printer, is a friend to the DEMO-CRAT and its principles and desires to see the paper sustained, he will walk straight up to the Captain's office (asking no questions further than "what's the amount of my bill") and "fork over." Those who have too great a distance to walk will please remit by mail, in a registered letter, and we'll be willing to take the risk of a safe delivery. The time has gone by when papers could be printed and trusted out year after year. We expect to shake the bands of several hundred of our patrons, many of whom we have not seen for two or three years. Come, gentlemen, do not leave us be disappointed We don't only want our money, but we want to renew our acquaintance, besides better enable ourself by your visits to give you a larger and better paper.

"Impeachment."

The impeachers continued their labors last week from day to day until Saturday. when they closed their testimony against the President somewhat abruptly, and to the astonishment of most people in and out of Washington. The "Beast" took charge almost entirely of the examination of witnesses, and displayed his well-known pettifoging abilities to very little purpose, as it is admitted by all fair men, qualified to judge of such matters, that his case was not strong enough to convict Andrew Johnson of having been a resident of Kentucky, provided he had been impeached for that offense, and correspondingly strong (or weak) evidence had been adduced to prove that fact. The great bulk of the evidence was to show what Johnson had said in his speeches at Washington, Cleveland, &c., and while we admit that the President said some foolish things in these addresses, the American people, we think, are not yet prepared to suffer such a death-blow to the freedom of speech as would be given to it by the removal of the President for the exercise of this great right. The tostimony is very lengthy, and it would be useless for us to attempt to give even an intelligible abstract of it. We publish however, extracts from papers of recent date from which may be gathered the prominent general facts.

A CHOICE LIBRARY OF MUSIC.—The United States Musical Review published by J. L. Peters, 200 Broadway, New York, is before us, and merits the attention of all lovers of music. It is a mammoth monthly magazine, sheet-music size, containing over seventeen pages of musical news, reviews, and choice art items, every line of which is readable, and we should say, invaluable to all musicians. This alone is well worth a year's subscription, which is only $2. The publishers, however, do not stop here, for in addition to the above, each number contains four pieces of choice new music by the best writers in America, thus giving a select library of new music at such a low rate that even the poorest may indulge in what has hitherto been considered a luxury. The U S. Musical Review is published at $2 per year; single copies, 25 cents. No musical family should be without it.

JOHN T. JOHNSON, the colored barber of the House of Representatives, has been elected one of the Delegates to the Chicago Convention by the Radicals of Washingtow City. What have our Republican friends to say about this selection. Wonder if he will vote for Wade? The editor of the Republican down town, we presume, would know. But the proceedings of the Convention will, no doubt, have his votes properly recorded.

The white people in the Southern States having all been disloyal, will be an excuse for this Radical Convention to admit negro eachings.

Can the President, if Removed, Hold Office It is a very general impression that if the President, on impeachment, shall be con-victed, he is incapable of voting, holding office, &c. This is not the case. The Constitution declares, fand this is the only provision anywhere,) that "Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States."-This does not disqualify a removed President from holding any office in his own State, from town clerk up to governor. And more, the words, "under the United States," evidently mean, under the govcrnment of the United States. Now, it doth remain as a well-remembered fact that our whilem supereminently loyal friends of ye days of Abraham Lincoln, and who now make up the Radical party, did insist with vehement vehemence that the President was the government, and waxed wroth when sucking doves of the "connerhead" nersuasion only gently insinuated otherwise. As for the man who boldly asserted the anti-Lincoln-anti-Government herescy, why the lamp-post was his doom. Now if this doctrine was sound in the days of Lincoln, it is sound to-day, and necessarily Andrew Johnson if convicted would only be prohibited by the constitution from holding office under the President, i. c., the Government.

Of course not being professional constitutional doctors we give these views for what they are worth, and not with the intention of craming them down the throats of the beautifully consistent Radical party.

The Impeachment. The managers of the impeachment conspiracy through the spokesman, Butler, announced that they had substantially closed their case, so far as the House of Representatives and "all the people of the United States" are concerned. Upon the request of the counsel for the President, the Senate then, with upparalleled liberality, voted to adjourn further proceedings therein until Thursday next, when the examination of witnesses for the defense will be commenced. The case, as made out by the prosecution, amounts simply to no case at all. Even those who are loudest in declaring for the removal of the President express their disappointment at the weakness of the evidence adduced against him, and some of them go so far as to express the opinion that it is not sufficient to secure the necessary twothirds vote for conviction. That the case will be tenfold stronger for the President when all the evidence is in, there can be no doubt. The concluding testimony for the prosecution adduced yesterday was even more frivolous and absurd than that which was introduced on the first two days of the week. The main point, however, upon which the "impeachers" rely is the alleged violation of the tenure-of-office act. Aside from the manifest unconstitutionality of that law, there is nothing in it protecting Mr. Stanton from removal at any time. By the proviso in the first section the members of Mr. Lincoln's cabinet are expressly excepted from its operation, and, it is said that this will be made perfectly plain by both written and oral testimony before the counse for the defense close their ease. In this connection it may be stated, on the authority of a prominent Republican Senator, that when the bill (tenure-of-office) was under consideration, Mr. Stanton appeared in the Senate chamber, on two or three different occasions, and advised his party friends to vote against it, as it would not protect Cabinet officers from removal, if passed, and was a measure of a very doubtful utility. There are more than two dozen Radical Senyet they are all expected to vote for the conviction, and removal of the President of __The Democracy of Greene county car-the United States, for daring to assert his ried all the Townships but two, last week, constitutional prerogative in secking to rid with very large gains.

A Good Ston.—According to the experience of old men, who draw their knowledge from the great book of nature, backed by experience, it is evident that the coming season will be a fruitful one. According to immemorable tradition, if the snow of March cluster to the boughs of troes, it is a A Good Sign. - According to the expe March cluster to the boughs of trees, it is a sure sign that the fruit trees will yield a bountiful harvest. We have noticed the storms of late, and find that the snow re-frame building, formerly occupied by Philip The sale is perfectly enormous. Delegates from all of the un-reconstructed Unangst as a shoe shop, on Main Street, States. That would be consistent with their | near the "Old Archie," where he will be pleased to receive calls.

PLENTY OF GRAIN. - Many persons suppered that our crop of grain for the last year would not be more than sufficient to supply the current consumption. But the grain movement throughout the country, and especially in the West, is calculated to modify that impression. It has been exertained that the stock of cereals on hand in the sevcrul leading cities is largely in excess of that of 1866. The scarcity during the winter, and the consequent high prices, was due to owners holding back their crops for still higher prices. The approach of another harvest has forced into market the reserved grop, and it is only really now that its quantity is known to excel the computations of even the most sanguine.

PROSPECT OF GOOD CROPS.—Our exchanges from all parts of the country, speak encourageingly of the crop prospect for the present year. The winter seems to have been very favorable for wheat. The continuance of cold weather and the heavy snow that covered the ground nearly all the season, protected the roots of the wheat sprouts and prepared them for a vigorous growth in the early spring. The wheat crop still has many dangers to encounter, before the harvest, but it is gratifying to know that it has not suffered from winter-kill-the greatest of all its enemies.

FRAIL HUMANITY .- The chief fugleman in the Shugart vs. Robinson contested election case, which has been before the Senate the whole session, was the celebrated loyalist, Elias Hale. He was the man who first set up the case, and through his labors the contest was brought about. It was well for loyaldom that his testimony was gotten in early in the campaign, because two weeks ago he cloped with a "frail sister," and five thousand dollars bolonging to the First National Bank of Curwensville. He had been acting as clerk in Adams' Express Co's. office, at Philipsburg, where he gobbled up the money. He leaves a wife behind to rejoice at his departure. He has not been arrested. Better let him run, and save Geary the trouble of pardoning him, and centre county some costs. - Clearfield Republican.

DURING the epidemic of intermittents in the West this season, the whole immense stock of Ayer's Ague Cure became exhausted, and the producing power of his Laboratory was found inadequate to meet the demand. Many who knew its extraordinary virtues for the cure of CHILLS AND FEVER. paid exorbitant prices for it to those who were fortunate enough to have a supply on Some of our neighbors paid ten dollars for a bottle, while the regular price is but one, and assure us it was on the whole the cheapest remedy they could buy, even at that figure. They praise it for two qualities: first that it cures, and last it leaves the health unimpaired. - Iowa Standard.

NO HEALTH WITHOUT VIGOR. The wear and tear of life tells upon us all more or less. What are we but machines? The vital principle is the motive power that keeps the human engine in motion; but as beams, pistons, connection pipes, condensers and boilers wear out, so do organs, muscles, tissues and all the compound parts of that marvellous piece of work called MAN. The mechanism of the body requires to be repaired and strengthened just as much as the mechanism employed to grind corn, or spin cotton, or weave cloth. Steam can-not drive a broken shaft, or impel a drum or a wheel that is out of gear; neither can the vital force act through a paralyzed, limb,
