Call for the National Democratic Convention.

The National Democratic Committee, by virtue of the authority enforced upon them by the last National Democratic Convention at a meting held this day at Wasthington, C., voted to hold the next Convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and Vice-President of the United States on the 4th day of July, 1868, at 12 o'clock M., in the City of New York. "To all Whom it may Concern."

All those of our patrons indebted to us either for job work or subscription to the DEMOCRAT, will please make payment beneen this and the first of May next. We have commenced a new volume, and it is our carnest desire to have all back subscriptions settled up by the time above stated, and all who do not call and settle or remit their subscriptions will be charged two dollars and fifty cents. They have an opportunity now to save fifty cents, will they do it? This notice is intended to apply to those only scho are in arrears, and we do not wish any subscriber to take offence at it, but if he owes the printer, is a friend to the Demo-CRAT and its principles and desires to see the paper sustained, he will walk straight up to the Captain's office (asking no questions further than "what's the amount of my bill") and "fork over." Those who have too great a distance to walk will please remit by mail, in a registered letter, and we'll be willing to take the risk of a safe delivery. The time has gone by when papers could be printed and trusted out year after year. We expect to shake the hands of several hundred of our patrons, many of whom we have not seen for two or three years. Come, gentlemen, do not leave us be disappointed. We don't only want our money, but we want to renew our acquaintance, besides better enable ourself by your visits to give you a larger and better paper.

We had hoped by this time the impeachment sarpent would be defunct-even that part of him which does not die till after sundown. But it turns out that notwithstanding the hope which we encouraged in our readers last week of being speedily relieved of its offensive presence, the critter was then scarcely scotched; for it is now given out that the Senate will "make a law unto itself" that each member shall be allowed to speak fifteen minutes on each of the 11 articles. As it is fair to presume that a considerable proportion would avail themselves of this privilege, several days might in this manner be consumed. However, this order has not yet been made.

Since our last, Messrs, Nelson, of Tennessee, and Groesbeck, of Ohio, have spoken on behalf of the president. The effort of the latter is said to have been exceedingly powerful. Even Forney's Press says that it "is accepted generally as very able". Mr. Groesbeck was to be followed by Stevens, and "Judge" Williams, of Pittsburg-Repudiation memory, on the part of the managers, and they probably by Evarts and by Stanbury if the latter be well enough; the whole to conclude, as the show bills sny, with a grand display by Prof. Bingham. The latter is expected to give the coup de grac, (english, chop off bis head,) to the unfortunate President. A final vote may be reached next week, but there are no better means of knowing now than at the beginning of the trial how this vote will result. Whatever may happen, let us possess our souls in peace.

THE Abolition Journals are shouting over great Republican victories" in South Carolina and Louisiana | Great Republican victories is good! They are achieved by the disfranchisement of white men and the illegal votes of negro fetish worshippers. These be your Republicans. It must be consoling to the soul of an Abolitionist to reflect that his principles have descended to to see it once more. She was present at the keeping of the blacks; but as the colored troops alone saved our armies from defeat, so the nigger voters are relied upon to the battle of Trenton. She is remarkably save the sinking fortunes of Abelitionism. They have no white victories to rejoice over, as it seems the white people of the North are becoming nauseated, so let the heathen rejoice over the "great Republican victories in Louisiana and South Carolina."

Have we a Government!

Before proceeding to make a very few remarks on the subject raised by this inquiry, let us ask of ourselves whether we have what is called by earnest people, "a realizing sense" of the tremendous importance of the question in all its bearings .-THE MECHANIC, THE LABORER, THE MERCHANIC, THE SOLDIER, AND THE SOLDIER'S WIDOW WHO PAY TAXES, THEY ARE GOOD ENOUGH TO PAY THE BONDHOLD ER WHO PAYS NO TAXES.—Demogratic Doctrins. Not that this is a fact only recently developed, and that the attention of the American people should be called to it as something new; but it is because we do not feel, realize, (we can think of no better word,) the terrible importance of the fact, attention is once more called to it.

Our Declaration of Independence says, that the powers of government are derived from the consent of the governed - meaning of course the consent of those who by the laws of the land were capable of giving their assent to these laws; but in the face of this, we have the citizens of ten States standing politically naked before us, and subjected to laws many of them of a most offensive character, in the enactment of which the elder Clave had served in the Union they had no part or lot, and which are an insult to all the people of the United States, as His coffin was shrouded in the American telling them in plain terms that the liberties | flag, and Stoes' Silver Cornet Band, with of a part or the whole of a people may at any | muffled drums, played solemn time be destroyed at the pleasure of a selfconstituted Itribunal. For self-constituted the present "Congress" is, because it threw out a number of members, leaving only a 'ring" which was practically sufficient for its own vile purposes.

In days gone by, the President was the government. Of late Congress is decided to be the government; but throughout all this miserable contest the people forget that in them is lodged all legitimate power.

Let us at once forget the contest among office holders, and office hunters, be they high or low, and devote ourselves to the business of ascertaining the location of our ancient land-marks.

THE Black and Tan Convention of Virginia, made up of niggers and carpet-bag bummers, have got into a row among themselves upon the question of permitting white children and niggers to mingle upon an equality in the public schools. The renegade white trash in the Convention objected to the degradation of their children, although degraded enough themselves; but the niggers insisted upon their "cibil rites" under the new dispensation, and bitterly denounced the course of their Puritan associates. As ily, that the pretences of affection manifested by the Yankee vagabonds among them, is sheer hypocrisy, there will be a bigger row on hand than there has yet been, and the blacks will hate their misleaders worse than they can be made to hate their old mas-

But of course Mr. Belmont nor the new converts can think that the Democracy have any idea of abandoning their principles or nominating a doubtful candidate. To nominate a candigratify any body of Conservative men whose opinions lead them to unite with us, would be to betray the millions of Democrats in the country who have no other interest in polities but the good of the whole country.

EMIGRATION.-It is reported that the present spring will witness an emigration from Ireland to the United States, equal to if not larger than that of 1866. Four steamers advertised to leave Liverpool for New York, previous to the 25th of April, will bring fifteen hundred persons. Applications for places are pouring in at an unprecedent rate. A correspondent of the New York Herald writing from Queenstown, Ireland, says: "This place is crowded with "emigrants, and parties numbering from fifty to hundreds are to be met with on the thoroughfare leading from the termini of the Great Southern and Western Railroad. and from other railroad depots, en route 'for the States." Nearly all of these emigrants are described as being between sixteen and twenty-five years old, and many of them of a class not often represented in emigrant parties.

To other words they expect the receiver to seduce some friends into buying a worthless prize in payment for their "presents!" We have only to say that if any one is foolish enough after past experience to have anything to do with this swindling concern, they deserve to be fleeced.

A VENERABLE LADY. - A week ago Saturday morning the 11th, we are informed there came up on the Belvidere Delaware Railroad, the oldest person since it has been a road for traveling, in the person of Elizabeth Wood, of Philadelphia in her 107th year. She came up to Washington's Crossing, opposite Taylorsville, her native place. the time Washington crossed the river on the memorable Christmas eve, preceeding smart, rotaining all her faculties, wears the style of clothing of forty years ago.

Mr. Chalfant,

Our suggestion, made a week or two since. that this gentleman be re-nominated for member of the House of Representatives, has met with considerable favor by the people of Columbia County. This well deserved compliment is the more graceful, as, according to the usage of the party, this County would be entitled to the candidate. But when a member has proved as effective as Mr. Chalfant it may well be questioned whether party dogmas should not give way. Mr C. has not certainly been, with one exception, excelled by any member we have had for several years. This one exception modesty forbids us to mention.

THE FUNERAL - One of the largest fuperals ever witnessed in this place, says the Montony American was that of John Clave, Sr., and his son, John Clave, Jr., two of the victims of the boiler explosion at the Pennsylvania Rolling Mill. They were burried side by side, in the Presbyterian grave yard, on Sunday last. The religious services were conducted by Rev. J. G. Carnachan, and were of a very impressive character. The Post of the Grand Army of the Republic of Danville, was in attendance, as Army, during the war against the rebellion.

"Funeral marches to the grave." A detachment of the Grand Army, in full uniform,

"Fired a farewell shot. O'er the grave where the here was buried."

The graves were nicely arranged, and many admired the excellent taste of the Sexton. They were connected by an open space, with points extending from above open folding door between the chambers. The sod on the points were carefully preserved, and a narrow strip of green appearthe lids of the coffins. The elder Clave was

THE MURDER OF MRS. SURRATT AND THE FATE OF HER ACCUSERS.—The Cambridge (Md.) Democrat thus alludes to the infamous witnesses for the Government upon whose testimony an innocent woman Mrs. Surratt, was murdered upon the gallows, by the order of an illegal packed military tribunal. It says:

IMPEACHMENT NO TRIFLE.-If Andrew Johnson be condemned and removed from office, he will, in all human probability, be the last constitutional President this nation revolutionary usurpation ever voluntarily surrendered power to the people, and reverted to the forms and limitations of constitutions and laws? There is none such. The deposition of the President will make the whole scheme of Radical revolution in the Government an accomplished, and not without an indefinite period of oppression, and perhaps another and more terrible civil war, an irremediable fact. The malign spirit which prompts two-thirds of the Senate at the instigation of the House of Representatives to do this infamy, will halt at nothing. A WASHINGTON correspondent, describing the Beast Manager as he appears at the trial, says so execrable a shape as that of Butler during this delivery surely never contorted itself before a respectable assemblage. Cushioned in the dreadful hollow of his bald head, and making a footstool of his protruding eye ball, the imp of insolence could fairly be seen to sit. Ugly elves appeared to perch astride his nose and daugle from his flabby ears. His hair was populous with phantoms of hideous creeping things. A bad odor must have exhaled THE managers of the Washington Library from him-the odor of loathsome hates,

THE FATE OF IMPEACHERS.—The fate of impeachers in history is significant. Of the | that the "constitution" is defeated by 7.000 fifty-eight persons who signed the deathwarrant of Charles Stuart, thirty-seven survived the commonwealth, and lived to see the restoration. Of the thirty-seven, nine were executed, twelve imprisoned for the remainder of their lives, eleven fled to escape punishment, three were pardoned or released, and the fate of two is left in doubt. The twenty-one who died before the restoration were attained by Parliament. Cromwell was exhumed and hung; and so were several others who were the chief instigators of the regicide. All this was done, not to gratify any spirit of revenge on the part of Charles II, but in obedience to a popular demand for justice. Of the estates of the fifty-eight regicidors, thirty-five were confiscated by exclusion from the indemnity bill of Charles II, one was restored by pardon, and the yearly income of the remaining one was confiscated.

King Theodorus was slain, and a large number of his warriors were killed, wounded and taken prisoners, and the entire capital remained in the possession of the British forces. STAND FROM UNDER .- As might have been expected, though with startling suddenness, one of the leading "fancies" of Wall street broke down last week. Atlantic mail tumbled from 87 to 25; more than sixty per cent. fell, in a single day. What goes and below, presenting the appearance of an next? and where will the banks stand which have loaned on this stock, or loaned the brokers who have taken the stock as collateral? Wall street has been rotten, root an branch, ed between the rough boxes, on a level with | for years, and it would not be surprising if half the banks in that locality soon went by a member of the Grove Presbyterian Church | the board. Cornelius Vanderbilt is an old and a humble christian, who calmly died in | man, and likely to die suddenly. He is said the full assurance of a blessed immortality. to have borrowed enormously in order to carry on his huge railway schemes. When that event happens, a paniel will occur in the stock market that will sweep away a hundred fortunes. No man at his time of life should play the hazardous game he is now engaged in. In the mean time, stand from under, all ye who are connected with Wall street stocks. The banks are as morilly rotten as the speculators and brokers; they are all in the same boat. What goes next?- N. Y. Day Book.

WHEN Abraham Lincoln violated the Federal Constitution, assumed doubtful powers, usurped undelegated authority, and trampled ruthlessly upon the rights of the people, the Rump Congress passed an "indemnity act," to legalize his doings, so far as they could, and to prevent those who had affered from bringing him to punishment under the laws. When, however, President Johnson, undertakes to secure a legal decision upon an act passed by a partiesn majority to fetter him in his authority, the Rump Congress undertakes to throw him out of office. Such are different faces of Radicalism under different circumstances.

JUDGE WOODWARD, of Pennsylvania, introduced a sensible proposition in the House on Saturday, being a bill to provide for the testing of acts whose constitutionality may be questioned by the President and passed over his vote. The President may file in the Supreme Court such a "feigned date to subscrive any single interest or to will be an unqualified product of usurpation. issue" as will raise the constitutional question to be decided, and the Speaker of the House is to be compelled to appear, by record or counsel, to defend the enactments objected to by the President. The Court's opinion against an act makes it null and void, but until such a decision is pronounced it shall be deemed constitutional and valid .- Ecchange. THE DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.-We ire gratified to know, that the nomination of ENT and BOYLE, by the late Democratic State Convention, for Surveyor and Auditor Generals, is well received by the people, and we sincerely believe, they will be triumphantly elected in next October. We have known Gen. Ext from his infancy, and Mr BOYLE, long and favorably, and can bear willing testimony, to their eminent business qualifications, and unimpeachable moral character. Their patriotism and love of country is as undoubted as their uniform support of Democratic principles is acknowledged by the Democracy of Pennsylvania. Lycominy Standard.

THE Arkansas election, so-called, lasted seventeen days, so that everything woolly had a full opportunity to vote, and it is said the usual "loyal" league admonition to "vote early and often" was faithfully adhered to. In some instances the registers have suppressed the returns, and, in nearly every instance, these officials are charged with committing the grossest frauds.

Mr. Editor:—I beg leave to make a few informatory remarks on Sewing Machines and how to use them. These rachines occupy about the midway station in delicacy between cotton and silk machines and timekeepers. Time keepers vary mainly from two causes in their going rate, the extension and contraction of some of the most sensitive parts of the movement by the variation of temperature, and by the difference of fluidity of the medium is which the moving parts move and revolve. But I have found by a great number of frequently repeated experiments that the later cause, that from the fluidity of the medium, (generally oil,) Napier, and the Abissinaian forces who were produces a vastly greater difference in the under the command of their King in person. sion and contraction of the metal of some parts of the movement. It is therefore dificult to have a perfect time-keeper, because it is much easier to make devices counter-acting the extension and contraction of metal, than to compensate proportionally for the vast difference of fluidity; because the fluidity is affected by several circumstances, the temperature, the condition of the air and the nature of the metal of the rubbing surfaces, &c.: but in regard to the extension, &c., this is caused by one thing alone, and that is the temperature, and it has been for about fifty years very exactly remedied and its alteration in various way scompensated. The oil on machines if not protected from dust by air-tight means, will soon turn into a cloggy, sticky, mass, which is vastly more proper and effective to arrest than to promote motion. Oiling machinery is one of our many necessary evils. But, but; I know your but! there is no oil free from this, even the best watch oil. All we can do is to modify as well in the mechanical construction of the machines as in their use. 1st, Reduce as much as possible the moving surfaces. 2d, Reduce to the very minimum the pressure upon these moving surfaces. 3d, Use only the very best oil, sparingly and carefully. 4th, Whenever it begins to get muddy from the corrosion of the rubbing surfaces clean all old oil away, and to do this well the machine has often to be taken apart; but it is much better for the durability of the instrument to do this too often than too seldow. Of course Sewing Machines should be as little exposed to dust, cold and dampness as possible. 5th, Lubricate only those parts which intelligent mechanici us point out for the purpose. Not all moving joints need it. OBSERVER.
