AGRICULTURAL. OMNIBUS LINE. Excelent Whitewash. As the house cleaning time will soon be here, it may not beamiss to say a few words in regard to white washing. There are many receipes published, but we beleive the following to be the best that can be: White calk is the best substitue for lime as a wash: A very fine and brilliant whitewash prepa-JACOB L. For each sixteen pounds of Paris White we procure half a C. C. MARR'S pound of the white transparent glue, cost ing twenty five-cents (fifty cents a pound.) TO SHIVE'S BLOCK. The sixteen pounds of paris white is about as much as a person will uso in a day. It is prepared as follows. The glue is covered with cold water at night, and in the morning is carefully heated, without scortching. until desolved, stirred in with hot water enough to give it the proper milky sonsistency for applying to the walls, and the dissolved glue is then added and thoroughly ash or produce. duce a more extended cultivation of this most valuable of vegetables. The most successful onion, grower, on a somewhat limited scale, we ever saw, kept his ground in high tilth, forming a deep, rich bed for the seed. The soil was thoroughly stirred to the depth of a foot or more, and finely pulverized. When thus prepared, the party commenced tramping across the beds in the line of the extended rows, thus compacting the soil quite hard. This done a rake was used to stir up or scarify the surface sufficiently deep to cover the onion seed lightly or to assure its germination. In thus tramping the onion beds down, after the soil has been properly stirred and prepared, the onions was grown, during the period of its growth, upon the surface, causing it to expand with more freedom than would have been the case if covered deep in a mellow soil. The result of this mode of planting and cultivation was the most prolific yield of the best developed onions we ever saw. This mode was pursued year after year, and with unvarying success. -Rural New Yorker.

The eggs are usually deposited near the extremety of a branch, and can be readily seen. The best time to destroy them is carly spring. Take a common fruit ladder and go through the orchard clipping on every twig containing a bulb, and put it into the fire. Each bunch of eggs thus removed destroys hundreds of caterpillars that would require ten times the amount of labor with coal oil, soap suds, etc., to eradecate one month later.

Lime for Small Fruit,

Many have hesitated to make the above use of lime, fearing it might produce an injurous effect. It is well for us to state, from experience, that the application of lime to Strawberries, Blackberries, Rasberries, Currants, Rhubard and Asparagus will act beneficial, unless the ground has been previously heavily limed, or there is very little vegetable matter in the soil. Burnt shell-lime should be applied in preference to stone-lime, and not more than twenty-five or thirty bushels per acre sown fresh over the surface.

Used in this way, with frequent and small yearly doses, it gives the best results.

TOADS FOR GARDENS.-A correspondent of the Lamoille News Dealer says he successfully defends his vine patch by laying boards between the rows in such a manner as to afford shelter to toads in the day time, and leave it undisturbed, so that they will make their home under it, which they will do in great numbers. At night they will sadly out and devour every bug, and grow fat as alderman. He says he has a dozen or more of these little philanthropists making their home under a single board not more than six feet long.
