Out of the shadow of sadness, Into the sunshine of gladness, Into the light of the Blest—

Out of to-day's sin and sorrow Into a blissful to-morrow— Into a day without gloom—

Out of life ever mournful, Out of a land very mournful, Where in bleak exile we roam;

Out of the world of the wailing, Thronged with the anguish and ailing, Out of the world of the sad; permitted to pursue his fiendish business, with but little hindrance on the part of the christian community, beyond an occasional reprimand. The drunkard fallen though he be, is nevertheless our brother, and we cannot avoid our responsibility by saying "am I my brother's keeper?"

Does our brothers of the ministry preach and reason as frequently, pointedly, and fervently of temperance, and the evils of an intemperate habit, as they do of righteousness and of judgment to come?

What we have been endeavoring to consider and portray to you of the evils of intemperance, as connected with and affecting the social affairs of life, are not those of mere fancy, but are the contrary, they are sound unqualified facts, and the experience of many have demonstrated their sad realities.

No man has been able to ride a clothes horse with the "spur of a moment."

The True Democracy and the Sham. We have noticed in several of our exchanges allusions to some wonderful and mysterious agency, which, it is supposed, is now being created and fostered in various sections of the North as well as the South.

"The Carpet-Bagger." There is a class of political adventures prowling through the South, watching their chances to become Judges, Congressmen, etc., of the new era.

"Noisy Children."—Well, how do you like your stupid, quiet blockheads, that never make a noise only when some one pushes them out of the way?

The Working People. The New York painters report that the eight hour system has been adopted by nearly all the employers, and in one shop the journeymen are on a strike to secure it.

The Republican Party. The new condition into which the Republican party has passed requires, at our hands, a careful examination. As it is organized and led now, it is not only a very different party from the Republican party of 1855, 1861, and during the earlier years of the war, but it differs widely from the organization of 1865 and 1867.
