Democratic State Ticket.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL. HON. CHARLES E. BOYLE, OF FAYETTE COUNTY.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL, GEN. WELLINGTON H. ENT.

Call for the National Democratle Convention.

The National Democratic Committee, by virtue of the authority enforced upon them by the last National Democratic Convention a meting held this day at Wasthington, 1). C., voted to hold the next Convention for the purpose of nominating candidates ident and Vice-President of the United States on the 4th day of July, 1868, at 12 o'clock M., in the City of New York. The basis of representation, as fixed by the last National Democratic Convention, is double the number of Senators and Representatives in Congress of each State under the last apportingment. Each State is invited to send delegates accordingly. August Belmont, Chairman. Fredrick O. Prince, Secretary. Washington, February 22, 1868.

NOTICE.

After the 20th of August next we will not send out the DEMOCRAT to any of our subscribers who have not paid their subscriptions. All the material used is cash in advance; besides all the labor we employ; is paid for in each as it is performed. When a subscription hangs over a year, the little profit we would have upon it, if paid in advance, is lost. It is lost in this way: We have invested that money in material and labor and laid a year out of it, thus losing the use of the cost of paper, besides the small fractional profit. On one subscription the profit would be small, but in the aggregate, (say two thousand subscribers) it would amount to a snug sum of money to the editor. Those in arrears will please heed this notice, and attend to their subscriptions in

Although we believe that it is time all vestiges of the late civil war should disapexclusively of military men are detrimental to the interests of Peace, yet in view of the outrageously unfair attempts of the opposition to make the world believe that the soldiers belong almost exclusively to the nesee the extensive preparations which are being made to hold a grand Soldiers' Convention in the city of New York, on the Fourth of July next. This Convention, and the signs are that it will be no insignificant one either as respects the intelligence of its members, or in numbers, will be composed of men who have fought-fought for the maintenance of a white man's government, and who will vote as they fought. grossly they have been deceived. They will the blue had been laid aside, and when they thought that their arms had gloriously accomplished the mission for which they went forth; and they will ask: Has or has not the war been a failure? They will say to that man who led themselves to wounds, and their brothers to butchery: "Why do you still hold the sword suspended over a prostrate foe, and join with the meanest and most malicious of Radicals in requiring a fallen people to cat dust? We fought to maintain the Union! we supposed it to be intact when we came away from Appomattox, but now we find you, General, the chief of a party which says that ten States were all the while out. General Grant, you have deceived na!"

DR. JOHN evidently is getting tired of "Old Sam Achenbach's" twaddle to one Mr. Moore of this county, for he tries in his last paper to make his correspondent believe that he has placed his antagonist-Mr. Moore-hors du combat. Dont vou be shoved to one side so easy, Mr. A. The people that have been reading both sides of the great question between you and your opponent do not yet see the hors, the du, nor the combat. Write ahead. Give him another two column article. It's more interesting than advertisements.

Ir is currently reported that the politicians are busily at work, in Washington city, in the Chase interest. The "movement," however impolitic, will gather some strength-It is sustained by the heads of the administration as a means of dividing the Republicans, and destroying Radical influence. Heavy argument that! We suppose it could draw here and there a Republican office-seeker to Chase; but how many Democrats would refuse to be whipped into his support? His nomination would be a death blow to the old Democratic party!

WE have not yet seen a single Democratic paper of any character advocate the nomination of Chase by the Democrats for President. While there are some weak-kneed Democrats in the country "talking Chase," they dare not go into the papers and advocate his nomination! It would be silly. preposterous, to think for a moment that the Democrats would be obliged to nominate a Republican to beat Grant.

THE Lancaster Intelligencer, one of the most reliable and firm Democratic papers published in Pennsylvania, closes up an ably written editorial, on the subject of "Reconstruction, Suffrage and Chase," with the following paragraphs. We invite special attention of all Chase men of this section to this

"It is to the feeling of the Northern people on this very subject that the Democratic party is mainly indebted for its recent astonishing successes. The passage of the first Reconstruction Act of Congress-changed the political currents of the country. From the date of its enactment, the Democracy, almost obliterated but six months before, entered | bad rule that will not work both ways. upon a career of victory, which has continued until now. We unhesitatingly say to the Democratic National Convention, In Hoc something to Colfax. He is a Signo Vinces. The people have determined noble-souled fellow, and deserves the success to extirpate these mongrel State Governmments. They will no more tolerate negro supremacy in the South than in the North. They will no more permit Southern negroes the widows and orphans—he does. He to make laws for Northern whites than went in for helping the "Widows' and Sin-Northern negroes. They perfectly understand that the Representatives of Southern negroes in Congress will rule the North as

"To give up this issue would surrender the contest; for the masses of the Democracy have it so closely at heart, that they care for comparatively little else. On this issue Judge Chase has been their consistent and life-long opponent, and they will not fol-low him through a crisis which he and his friends have brought upon the country. Offensive as General Grant is to the Democratic masses, Chief Justice Chase is not less so, and success with the latter would be no better than defeat. We can tell the World that the appetite of the Democracy for office is not keen enough to induce them to support an enemy to their principles, merely because he might detach a few votes from the opposing candidate. And we can also inform that journal that its present support of Judge Chase and attempt to ignore the suffrage question, will prove as miserable and disgraceful a failure as its advocacy of had a force of State police guarding his Negro Suffrage in the North, after the fall | breaker for the past week. He asserts his innocence, and says he is the agent of another person. Letters have been found in his trunk by Mr. Deppro, which, it is alleged, show his (Reed's) connection with the affair. Reed is held for a hearing.

We well remember the World being a strong Chase organ at the out-start of the war, and it would not seem strange to us that it should support him now. That paper was fierely denounced in the war times by every Democrat in the country, and its patronage came from Abolitionists and War Democrats. We for one are not willing to accept that paper as an exponent of Democratic principles.

Of With Their Heads. If President Johnson does his duty the entire batch of Radical gentlomen who hold clerical position in the various departments at Washington will be summarily discharged. During the Enpeachment trial, when it was deemed morally certain that the President would be convicted, these pensioners upon the administration indulged in the foulest abuse of the President and of his friends, honing thereby to win favor in the eyes of Mr. Wade's new administration. It is stated that of the three thousand clerks in the Treasury Department not more than five hundred are conservative men. It is to be hoped that he will make short work with the whole batch of them and supply their places with better men. Are We'to Fight on Principle. Before the wanning of another moon, the National Convention of the Democratic party will have decided who its standard bearers are to be in the great struggle between the masses of the people who believe in their chief of the Star Chamber and this gentlecapacity to and right to govern, and the pampered adherents and claquors of a military oligarchy. The great heart of the people is beyond all question, right upon the is-sue involved in the approaching contest:

dall was examined as a witness. Mr. Bingsue involved in the approaching contest --They have felt, and continue to feel, the bitter, crushing burden of taxation and debt, that, while exhausting their energies and sapping the life of the producing millions, coins wealth in the coffers of the opulent capitalist. After a night of wild delirium in the funcied possession of competence, the laborer and producer has awakened to a realization of the terrible truth, that what he for dly believed to be an enduring prosimpeachment is a spy in the service of the perity, is an empty bubble that a spurious inflation brought to the surface, only, like the ignis fautus of a disordered brain, to vanish when its enjoyment seemed nearest at hand. It is not at all remarkable that this sudden awaking from a pleasant delusion to a reality altogether its opposite, should produce a fever of discontent and foreboding that only the strongest remedies can subdue.

The leaders and moulders of popular sentiments, if wise, will give heed to the unmistakable determination of the masses to fight the pending campaign purely upon and he could not leave it in his (Butler's) principle, leaving policy for the nonce, to hands. take care of itself. Tinkers, trimmers and political wheather-cocks anticipates a storm, and per consequence, are casting vigorously about, and trimming their sails in order to be in readiness to mount the reactionary wave that instinct tells them is about to sweep over the political ocean. The only difficulty experienced by this class of nondiscripts is that they are by no means certain from which point of the compass to expect the current, and therefore their line of poliey is of the "good Lord and good Devil" style, with the chances about evenly balanced and a keen lookout for the main chance. The question uppermost then, is shall the people select their own standard bearer, or shall a few self-constituted leaders and caucus manipulators do it for them? If those who claim to be wise beyond common wisdom think that success can be acheived by turning aside from the plumb-line of principle, they will, to late too remedy the mistake, discover that the receeding wave has let them nothing but a dissolving quicksand of factions, in which they will speedily be burried. In this crisis let the people insist upon being heard and let wire-pullers and political brokers keep silence. From Connecticut, where the star of Democracy first rose out of the darkness and chaos of puritan intolerance to where the slogan of victory bursts against the snowy peaks of Oregon, the rank and file of the Democratic party demand a leader they can elect and one that can be trusted after he is elected. They demand a standard bearer, fresh from the people, with a head full of brains and a hearwhich ejects warm, sympathetic blood through the arteries, instead of the chilly tide that creeps sluggishly along in the fossils of another age.
