AGRICULTURAL. THE POLL EVIL. -Some persons regard the poll evil as incurable. It is sometimes called fistula. No matter how long the sore has been running it can be cured in a brief time, and at a cost not exceeding ten cents. One dime spent in muriatic acid will be sufficient to effect a radical and permanent cure of the most stubborn fistula. The sore should be first thoroughly cleansed by Fathers, Hemp. some abstergent fluid, and for this purpose water is perhaps as valuable as anything can be used, and drop eight or ten drops of the acid in twice a day till it has the appearance of a fresh wound; then wash it clean with soap suds made of Castile soap, and leave it to heal, which it will speedily do if the acid has been used long enough. Should it, however, heal slowly, apply this a second time, and, in the manner above described. taking care to wash out the pipe thoroughly, and it will be found an infallible remedy in the most inveterate diseases of this sort; but it must be remembered that in order to do so, the acid must be applied till the cor rept or diseased flesh is all burned out.-Cor. Germantown Telegraph.

IMPROVEMENTS.—A writer in the Rural New Yorker says: "I recall instances where farmers went ahead with improvements without counting the costs till it took the farms to pay for them Improvements are a nice thing, if one has the ready money to make them; if not, beware of temptation. Only those should be made at first that will return the outlay again. Farming should be conducted on business principles. If a merchant is not able is not able to own a store, he rents one. If a farmer is not able to erect new buildings, he had better get along with his old ones. If a merchant invests money he expeets to get it back again, and more too. If a farmer buys manure or merino sheep, he should see that they are so used that they return the original cost and profit. If a farmer lays out money in ditching, he should do it where two or thre crops will pay it back with interest.

TREAT ANIMALS GENTLY .- There is no doubt but that the value of any animal is greatly increased by being perfectly docile and not constantly in fear, whether of the owners or strangers. Horses that are in a state of nervous excitement while being handled, are not unpleasant to the general run of drivers, but are more or less dangerous, because they require a constant watch upon them, and there are few persons that are always upon their guard. In addition to this, more or less breakages occur, even with the best horsemen, because a frightened, nervous animal, does not know what is wanted of him when any difficulty occurs. Many horses are quick to learn, and if kindly treated have a remarkable degree of intelligence, which one would not expect to see in the brute creation.

AT a late meeting of the New York Farmers' Club, Mr. Quinn gave the following directions for managing currant cuttings:-Current wood can be turned into a paint the year it is grown by setting any time from August to November. I would make a square, clean cut, have the ground mellow that the young rootlets may meet with no obstructions, and then push the dirt closely around the bottom of the cutting. The fall is decidedly the best time to commence operations, because in so doing one gets a two years' growth in one. If it is very dry some mulching will be required, but generally, at this season, the ground is warmer then the atmosphere, and 98 percent, should

To CLEAR A HOUSE OF VERMIN. - "Burleigh," of the Boston Journal, says: "I tell you, ladies a secret that may be worth your knowing-a new remedy to clean a house of roches and vermin has been found-So complete is the remedy that men offer to rid the premises of all these pestilential nuisances by contract. The article is sold under the name of French Green and other high sounding names, and at quite a high price. But the article in plain English, is common green paint in powder. Six cents' worth used about any house will 'clear the kitchen,' and all its surroundings. These pests invest many houses in this town, ad nauseam, and we believe the ladies will thank us for suggesting so cheap an eradi-

PEA Soup. -- Soak a quart of split peas over night. In the morning add to them a gallon of water, in which a piece of beef or mutton has been boiled the day previous, and strained, and let them boil slowly for four hours, with the addition of half a pound of salt pork. Strain through a sieve before serving, and season with salt and pepper to

............... How to Make Hens Lay. -The farmers cabinet say a piece of lard as large as a walnut, mixed up with dough, will cause a hen to commence laying immediately after she has been broken up from setting; and by giving hens fat in this way, they may be kept laying all winter. THE Italians have an ungracious proverb,
