Foundering Morses,

A certain cure for founder in a horse is to stand him in water up to his belly. I have known it practiced for fifty years; and swathing the legs in hot water, vinegar and sugar of lead, are all good to some extent; but a founder must be relieved suddealy, or the horse will show stiffness in his actions and have deformed and callus tender hoefs. Water applied to the legs I do not consider a positive cure, the disease must be attacked at the root, by bleeding and purging ; a few drops of blood taken from below the fetlocks will hasten his recovery. But the most certain and quick remedy that I have ever known is a green gourd. Take a large green guard, cut it up, put it into a gallon of water and boil it down to a quart. Strain the liquid and drench-in twenty-four hours the horse will be perfectly himself .---The gourd is a powerful diuretic, and will cause the horse to stale the most offensive odor. In 1822 I traded for two fine young mares in Augusta, Ga. I rode one of them to Ky., and my servant the other. Early one morning at the crossing of Clinch river, Tenn., we found one of the mares so badly foundered that she could not be led out of the stable. I procured a green gourd and drenched her as directed above and directed the servant to remain until she was able to travel, expecting that he would reach home in three or four days after me; the next day after my arrival he came in, with the more in as good plight as if nothing had happened.-Cor. Rural World.
