

DANVILLE INTELLIGENCER

Established, 1828

DANVILLE, MONTEUR COUNTY, PA., JUNE 24, '04.

D. AUST LUTZ, Editor and Proprietor.

THE INTELLIGENCER is the oldest and best weekly Democratic newspaper in this section of the State.

DEMOCRACY'S OPPORTUNITY.

There has been within the past six months a wonderful change of sentiment among the voters in this country.

Mr. Roosevelt has lost the confidence of the conservative business element in the country.

The conservative business interests desire a man for President who does not continually appeal to the jingoism of the country.

Such patriotic, orderly and able men the Democrats have in Parker, Olney, Gray, Francis and a host of others.

The nomination of any of these will bring to the support of the party a large independent vote.

PUBLIC ENEMIES

A few days ago a poor human derelict was picked up on the streets of Harrisburg helplessly drunk and taken to the police station.

Time was, and not so long ago, when gambling houses ran without disguise, when men high in public station sworn to execute the laws.

Professional gamblers and keepers of other resorts, whether they are called hotels or what not, where debauchery prevails are public enemies who pray upon their fellows and when caught are entitled to no sympathy or mercy.

DID NOT APOLOGIZE

For two years we succeeded in completely ignoring the insinuations, cast our way, or any thing else, whatsoever, printed in the columns of a so-called Democratic paper of this place.

Several weeks ago we stooped to recognize an item which falsely accused us of saying something altogether different from what we had said.

It seemed to be a hard hit upon all concerned, and we will say right here, to make things brief and to settle the controversy, now and forever, between one who it seems cannot make reply without making use of lies, and ourselves, that we made no apologies to the police.

Here is something from a Western paper that will drive a person to one of our many nearby lakes and take a vacation, regardless of Russell Sage's advice:

"Lake Spencereish sprinkles the United States with the aroma of romance in the euphony of its appellation. Its waters, pillowed by zephyrs, are rocked to sleep by the cradle song of mellifluous gulls.

Immigration has reached flood height. Europeans are pouring into New York at the rate of 1,500 a day. Some of them are miserably, pathetically poor.

FROM ST. LOUIS TO DANVILLE.

We can soon look for something wonderful in aerial navigation. Great strides have already been made in that direction by a number of mechanical engineers.

The great prize of $100,000 offered by the authorities of the World's Fair for the best airship is going to make the year 1904 memorable in the history of aerial navigation.

It here be luck in numbers, M. Santos-Dumont's seventh airship, which has just arrived with its owner on the way to St. Louis, ought to do good work at the Fair.

Hitherto long voyages in the air have been left to balloons, drifting at the mercy of the winds and the inventors of dirigible airships have contented themselves with circling around some tower and coming back to their starting points.

John Martin is building a new barn 30x55 feet. It was raised last Thursday. Those and Wm. Watts are the carpenters.

THE HELL GATE HORROR.

The magnitude of the disaster in the East River, by the burning of the steamer General Slocum, has gradually increased as the facts have become public.

How the fire originated, or who it has not been stated in such a way as to be accepted as conclusive. It is naturally inferred that there was gross carelessness.

There will be a thorough investigation, so we are told, and when the inquiry shall be completed the responsibility for the calamity will be placed where it belongs.

NO RAKE OFF THERE.

The question has been asked us many times of late why we never got any of the larger contracts for Borough printing.

Be this as it may, we are glad to state that matters have been readjusted and we can look for better satisfaction hereafter.

AGITATE IT.

This is the kind of weather to make vegetation spring forth to the best possible advantage, and nowhere can we notice it better than to take a walk up Bloom street and let our eyes rest upon the unshiny city of the dead, that lies in our city's very heart.

Government reports issued last week announce that the cost of living is reduced, because the price of a majority of the necessities of life are cheaper.

Freedom is a gift which cannot be enjoyed save by those who show themselves worthy of it. And that is the doctrine in force and effect today.

It is the doctrine being applied to the Philippines. It is the doctrine being applied in Colorado.

Apparently the National Republican convention at Chicago has no surprises for the country. All delegates were kept out who would not bow to machine dictation and the prearranged programme is going through without the slightest evidence of friction.

Immigration has reached flood height. Europeans are pouring into New York at the rate of 1,500 a day. Some of them are miserably, pathetically poor.

Our Country... CORRESPONDENCE

Written expressly for THE INTELLIGENCER By our Rural Friends.

SCHUYLER.

Mr. Enron:—The weather still remains cool and cloudy. Considerable rain fell during the past week, hindering farming operations.

John Martin is building a new barn 30x55 feet. It was raised last Thursday. Those and Wm. Watts are the carpenters.

Ed. Stahlmecker and his two sons, of Williamsport, spent a few days with relatives here last week.

Don't forget the festival at California Orange Hall, next Saturday, June 25th. It will be the greatest of the season.

A. J. Levan is very busy gathering and selling his strawberries. He has a large crop, and they are fine.

W. J. Smith expects to put up an addition to his dwelling this summer.

Some farmers are still planting in corn. One that I heard of had planted for the fourth time. It must be discouraging.

That's a good joke on the Supervisor who put a new bridge in, not a thousand miles from here, and was the first to cross it with a load and stick.

Geo. B. Holden, of Washingtonville, visited his parents here Sunday.

Miss Annie Spring, of Bloomsburg, is spending a week at J. B. DeWald's.

Who Should Celebrate the Fourth. From the Johnstown Democrat.

A Fourth of July celebration in Johnstown is being agitated. The Democrat heartily favors the movement.

The Democrat is always in favor of paying homage to the Declaration of Independence. The Declaration of Independence is the daily beacon light of the Democrat.

There is only one idea in the Declaration of Independence—the Fourth of July document so long the American ideal.

All men are created equal, with certain inalienable rights, among which are the rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

It carried hope and cheer across the seas to millions of the children of men who suffered the galling yoke of tyranny.

It gave heart of hope to the new nation and under its benign influence the country enjoyed the richest and dearest blessings the world had ever known.

It is the doctrine being applied in Colorado. It is the doctrine that is to be endorsed at the Chicago convention in ratification of all the Republican state conventions.

And so who are there left except Democrats, and Prohibitionists, and Socialist-Laborites to celebrate the Fourth of July?

Watterson announces his intention of going to Europe immediately after the election. There are people who would contribute money enough to enable him to go to Europe.

It being a pleasant day, Children's Day Services at Strawberry Ridge were largely attended Sunday.

Misses Edna and Alma Zimmerman of Montgomery, are spending a two weeks' vacation near Cross Roads.

Mr. Augustus Kleeman is preparing for hay making. He is erecting a large hay shed.

publican party is responsible for it.

And the Republican party in every State favors the continuance of the war in the face of the Declaration that all (not some) men are created equal.

By all means let us celebrate the Fourth of July, 76, but let it be celebrated by those who cherish the Declaration of Independence and not by those who deny the truth it proclaims and mock it in every act.

Quite Indispensable.

Squire M. L. Sheep, of Jerseytown, conceived the idea some months ago that household affairs would not be affected and harmony would still reign serene within his domestic circle.

Many more of the good old Democratic citizens of this county could testify to the indispensability of their favorite weekly, the Intelligencer, which they have been subscribers to for from forty to fifty years.
