JUDGE PARKER'S ACCEPTANCE.

JUDGE PARKER'S ACCEPTANCE. The best expectations of the Democracy are fulfilled in the admirable address of Judge Parker accepting the momination of that party for the Presidency. Conserva-tive in spirit, modest in tone and clear in language, it reveals the great heart of the man to public view and ad-miration. His appreciation of the honor which has been bestowed on him was feelingly expressed and his beliefs and aspirations candidly set forth. There is nothing of the oratorical "poser" or the political pretender in any part of the speech. It is a concise, earnest and persuasive appeal for the preservation of the principles and traditions of the country. At such a time and under such circumstances it would

QUITE UNIQUE.

QUITE UNIQUE. We take pleasure in reproducing an article gleaned from an old paper, of which Dr. D. H. B. Brower was then editor, that may still be well re-memembered by many of our readers, and the inci-dent referred to recalled by those directly interest-ed. We not only reprint the item for the benefit of those who saw and read the same years ago, but the uniqueness in which the writer expressed himself bears evidence of rare ability, and we feel sure that our many readers will appreciate the space it occu-pies. The minister, referred to in the article, was our fellow townsman, Rev. John B. Grier, and the church was the present Mahoning Presbyterian structure. Following is the article:

our fellow townsman, Kev. John B. Grier, and the church was the present Mahoning Presbyterian structure. Following is the article: "And it came to pass when John, the son of Michael, the elder, was preaching in the tabernacle called Mahoning Presbyterian, that the heat was gingers and those who played on instruments said one to another, 'Behold, our thirst is great and drink is hard by. Go to now and let us seek the beverage we love; howbeit, we must return to our places ere the sermon shall end, to make glad the hearts of the peo-ple with a closing Psalm.' Now they wist not that John, the preacher, is noted for brevity, and so it was that they tarried too long, and when the sermon was ended the preacher lifted up his eyes to the gallery, and lo ! the singers had vanished away ! He there-fore made haste and sent the multitude away with a benediction. And it came to pass, as thou goest by the house of Eli, the singers were sore anazed as they lifted up their eyes and saw the multitude before tom, and one said, 'Behold, the Methodists are coming !' but the chief musician said, 'Nay, but these be aur people. Wherefore did we tarry, for more the heatthen will laugh and the mockers make mery. Let's go home.'"

VACATION CLOSING.

This is the last month of play for the children. A few weeks more and books will be opened for another term. The average pupil, however, will return to his school work with added zest, brought about by weeks of outdoor life, free from all re-straint. It is a noticeable fact that mothers are becoming more practical every summer in planning their little ones' outings. Instead of being garbed in stiffy-starched garments and cautioned to keep clean, the boys and girls of to-day, in calico and gingham, bareheaded and barefooted, are allowed to room at their own event will deine events. romp at their own sweet will, doing everything that is dear to chilhood, from which they are debarred by the city's environments.

THE PUBLIC WON'T BE FOOLED.

A number of the feeble-minded organs of the Republican party have seized upon the absurd prop-osition that the age of Henry G. Davis is a cam-paign issue, and cling to it in the manner in which drowning man will clutch at a straw in the hop saving his life. They insist that it is a matter of the most serious consequence and waste columns of space in con-uring up hobgoblins that will come in the event of his election. But the public won't be fooled. As a contemporary says, Mr. Davis can do more phys-ical or mental labor in a day than either Mr. Root or Senator Fairbanks, and after all that is the tes of age.

Senator Davis attended the Democratic National convention at St. Louis a month ago and partici-pated in the deliberations which exhausted William

J. Bryan and sent Governor Pattison to his grave 5. By an and self Governor Fattison to his grave, Both these gentlemen were conspicuous for their physical strength and endurance. Mr. Bryan is under 55 years of age and Governor Pattison was little over, but they were too old to endure the strain which the convention work involved. Semator Davis, however, returned from the event with strength and energy unimpaired and after a restful horseback ride of twenty miles the next morning, resumed his ordinary labors as if nothing had happened. In the nature of things it is not probable that President Parker, that is to be, will die in office. He is a marvelously well preserved man of middle age and as robust as it is possible to be. But in the

At such a time and under such circumstances it would be utterly impossible to cover in detail all the questions in volved in the context. But Judge Parker touches most of those that are relevant and treats them with sublime cour-age and masterful skill. He denounces mole and here details in the form of illegal punishments for rime or unjust in-terference to the rights of men and deprecates with equal armestness the infringement of the powers of one depart-ment of the government. He favors conserva-tive reform of the tariff and just regulation of the trusts and is of the opinion that the Philippine problem should be solved according to the principles expressed in the Dec-laration of Independence. Judge Parker leaves nothing to conjecture with ref-spect to the consequence of his election to the Presidency. The government would be restored to the lines laid by the than upon large armies and big sticks and the triumphs of pace would be sought instead of the conquests of wa-the refutes the false proposition that the greatness of this army. Gots church has received an insult, and Christ has again suffered the thrust of the spear. A saloon opened with prayer! What blasphemy! What can we next expect! It will be little surprise to see asso-ciated with the church, soon, a turf exchange and a faro bank. These institutions of the devil would be appropriate adjuncts to the church as the Bishop' saloon

The whole country has been shocked by the re erend gentleman, who wears the Episcopal robes of a Bishop. His mistake is a grievous one. He over-looked the fact that the mote respectable the saloon the more dangerous it is. The high license saloon is more desirable in a neighborhood, but more like-ly to tempt the boy. He will be repulsed by the low dive, but will enter the more attractive one, especially when it has the indorsement of a Bishop. Placards may be looked for in the various churches, of the Bishop's district, displaying these words. "Our Saloon a Big Success. Give It a Call

The singing of the Doxology and bringing a shoon under the supervision of the church does not make it better, but sacrilegious. It is believed that the Bishop is sincere, but it s the mistake of an old man in his dotage.

The excellent showing all our crops are making-the The excertent showing an our crops are making—the cotton, oats, corn, potatoes and the rest—is doing much to restore confidence in business circles, as it is now seen that some of these crops are reasonably safe from the or-dinary harms and hurts of the season. In some special lines of trade the curtailment in production is still going on, but that is only a measure of safety. The only seri-ous disturbances in sight are labor troubles which are pre-senting themselves in a dozen places, making a creat areas ons unsurfamees in signt are labor fronties which are pre-senting themselves in a dozen places, making a great army of idlers that might be earning money instead of casting in from them. But even these cannot continue to spead without earning, so before the whiter comes along and af-ter Parker's election is declared we may expect things to be moving along in a prosperous and satisfactory manner.

The excellent practice prevails in Philadelphia of ex-amining all the children who propose to enter her public schools in the fall. This is to see that contagious, infec-tions and other dangerous diseases are not introduced. That these inspections are a good thing is proved by the examinations last made, which show that out of the 155, 70 a shill are available 0.000 millions that the start of the 155, examinations has made, which show that out of the 150, 707 children examined, 6,936 were excluded, one in ever 22, because they were victims of discase. The eyes of 5,150 of the pupils were found defective, and 1,807 of that number wore spectacles. It is not much to the credi of the Philadelphia mothers that 3,854, or about one on of were distance and Mark 1,854, or about one on of every forty, were pediculous.

That which will inevitably impress the thoughtfal unprejudiced reader of Mr. Parker's speech is its fine con servatism, the judicial tone which characterizes it, the broad, profound spirit of patriotism—free from all dema gogism—which pervades every part of it, and the scholar by form of it. ly form of it.
