MARCHING TO MUKDEN

MUKDEN, Tuesday, Sept. 6.—Part of the Russian army which is coming to Mukden by wagon road is in danger and NERS, the state of the Russian army which is coming learned that Charles Bilger, of Shato Mukden by wagon road is in danger mokin, who robbed Charles Derk of of being cut off. All day and night Monday the Japanese in the hills on the east road, shelled the Russian had committed suicide by shooting of being cut off. All day and hight Monday the Japanese in the hills on the east road, shelled the Russian troops. In one instance the Japanese infantry attacked a large force of Rus-sian infantry and artillery which had

BELIEVE KUROPATKIN HAS REACHED SAFETY

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 7.-1:45 sr. Petersistence, sept. 7.—139, p. m.—From the latest advices received by the war office the authorities now believe that the danger of Field Marshal Oyama cutting off General Kuropatkin has practically passed. According to their calculations the whole Russian army should reach whole Russian army should reach Mukden tomorrow night.

Generals Keroki and Kuropatkin have been marching northward along paralell lines, both armies Being greatly hampered by heavy roads, the Japanese in a rough region and the Russians along a flat country but embarassed by the high Chinese corn, which prevented marching on the side of the main roads.

No difficulty is being experienced at the Hun river, a few miles south of

at the Hun river, a few miles south of Mukden, where bridges had been pro Mukden, where bridges had been provided for crossing the stream. There has been constant fighting at the Russian rear and along the eastern wing but so far as is known by the war office nothing of importance has occurred since the retreat began

The general staff naturally is reticent about Kuropatkin's plans, especially whether he intends to stop at Mukden. His decision probably will depend upon the intentions of the Jap anese. Coutingent preparations will probably be made to evacuate Mukden and there is considerable evidence that Kuropatkin, if compelled to go north will make a stand at Tieling, where the Russians wintered last year. Tiel ing is forty miles north of Mukden At this point there is a narrow defile, with the Liao river on one side an mountains running almost down to the railroad on the other. Steps are being taken to guard against a possible at tempt to cut the line there

The report that the sailing of the Baltic squadron had been postponed until November is officially denied as also is the report that several of the ships composing it developed defects. The squadron will sail for Libau Sunday. Exactly when it will sail thence s not known.

Although the report that Rear Admiral Ouktomsky in command of the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, is to be court martialed is untrue, the Admir-alty has decided to recall him, probab-ly placing Captain Wiren of the arm ored cruiser Bayan in command. It has been realized all along that Ouktomsky lacked the requisites of a com-mander of a fleet under such difficulties but owing to the impossibility of sending a flag officer to Port Arthur he is allowed to remain in command.

The admiralty is greatly dissatisfied with his action in returning to Port arthur, August 10, in the face of the order of the late Admiral Withoft not to 40 so and this led to the decision to supplant him.

Only Male Singers.

The desire of Pope Pius X to have the church return to the customs o the early days and have only male singers is being respected by many of the Catholic churches of this land, as is also his liking for the old Gregorian music instead of the more modern and as he thinks less devotional forms to which we have grown accuston Sunday three large Philadelphia churches introduced their new choir. There is nothing more impressive than a well-trained, carefully selected choir of male voices, as it can be heard to perfection in the Papa choir and in the great European thedral, but, unfortunately, the Am erican climate and the American boy disinclination to submit to the rigor ous training necessary have as yet give en us no really great male choirs. To often they are so execrable musically as to be a positive torture to hea marked improving effect.

FOUNTAIN WILL BE REMOVED

During the next few days the public contain will be removed from its present position at the weigh scales to he western side of the new culvert o Mill street.

This will be pursuant to action taken at the last meeting of Council. The fountain although it has very nobly fulfilled its mission in ministering to both human beings and duminanimals has not been wholly a succession. in its present position. In the first place the ice attachment, while it con-sumed ice by the hundred weight, was never efficient in cooling the water of the fountain and after a trial was no used. The next trouble was caused by used. The next trouble was caused by the waste water, which proved a great nuisance to people residing near the fountain. During last winter the waste pipe bursted. In view of the im-provements contemplated on Mill street Council did not see its way clear to spend any money on repairs and the fountain has not been in commission this summer.

It has now been decided to remov the fountain to an entirely new loca ter for conducting off the waste water.
The west side of the Mill street cul wert affords such a spot, where the waste pipe of the fountain can be made waste pipe of the tourism can be made to connect with the water course dir-ectly below. The fountain will be off the street entirely, occupying a place on the sidewalk.

The intention is to have the wide area at the junction of Mill, Bloom and Northumberland streets clear of obstacles of every sort. In addition to the scale the large pole of the Ameri-can Telegraph and Telephone Com-pany, which stands near the center, will also be removed. The removal of all these will be a fine improvement which will be all the more appreciated when the street is paved at that point

The padrones figure out that it costs about ten cents a day to keep a man. They also say that the men will not spend on the average of twenty-five cents a year for medical attention. AMERICAN CONSUL SAFE IN HARPUT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The American consul at Harput has reported to the State Department that he has visited Bitlis and is now in Moush. He says that the governor general of the latter province paid him a visit on his arrival and offered him an escort to visit the Sassun mountains if he desired.

The Consul states that the District of Sassun is tranquil and pacified and the strategic points are garrisoned by infantry detachments and permanent barracks erected. The survivors of the assacre are in destitute condition bu are attempting to rebuild their burn ed villages with a little governmen aid. The consular corps at Bitlis esti-mates the number of massacred and dead from exposure, and hunger, etc., as 3,500. The American colony at Bitlis

In the Moush district insurgents have adopted a guerrila form of warfare, ambuscading troops and bodies of Kurds. They demand certain reforms which concern chiefly matters of local administration and economic or not involving the integrity of the Em-pire. A number of villages have been plundered and burned and many per-sons killed and maltreated, and another massacre is daily expected by the armenian population which is in destitute circumstances.

About 15,000 have lost everything and are starving, many being ill and wounded. Small contributions toward their relief have been received through the American board of Commission for foreign missions at Bitlis but much more is needed.

CURIOS FROM

PHILIPPINES

One of the finest collections of cur os ever brought to this city will b placed on exhibition on Mill street in a few days. The curios represent a collection brought from the Philippine (slands by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Brinton, who served as a trained nurse on the Islands for some time.

There have been other collections brought to Danville from the Islands by returning soldiers, which consisted largely of war implements and plain yearing apparel.

Mrs. Brinton's collection excels in ontaining not only the above class of rare and beautiful dishes and many other articles never before seen here in such variety. The dress goods alone show that the natives of the Islands are not only the deftest of weavers and that they are skilled in art of dyeing, but also that there are in the Philippines a refined taste and a love of the beautiful:

Mrs. Brinton's collection fills a whole apartment and what it does not contain it would be difficult to tell. Of great interest to ladies is a dress of a wealthy Philippine lady, made with a train after a style peculiar to the Islands. The dress goods are superb not only in point of fine texture but also in the beautful shade of coloring. A very popular goods resembles silk somewhat, but is made of the fibre of the Josie plant and is called "Josie" (pronounced "Hosie)."

Another beautiful cloth, finer than any, is made of the fibre of the pineapple. This is not only used for dress goods but for table cloth, doilies, handkerchiefs and for coffs and collars. These beautiful fabrics are all woven on the most primitive of looms. When dyed the colors are "fast." When not dyed they are white or cream colored. dyed they are white or cream colored.

The embroidery and the drawn work all of which was executed by the patient Philippine women, are a marvel in this country even to the most dexterous hands at such work. There are score of specimens of each in Mrs. Brinton's-large collection, no two of which are alike and all wonderful in showing how faultless and mechanical work can be that is turned out by work can be that is turned out by the human hand. The collection contains an immense variety of goods made of straw. The matting is most beautiful in design, the colors brilliant and "fast." Mrs. Brinton has nearly enough matting to cover one floor, which, she says, in the Philippines is used also for covering the walls. Owing to the preval-ence of earthquakes neither plaster nor paper can be employed in the houses on any of the Islands. Neither can window glass be used for the same rea on and in lieu of glass beautiful semi son and in flee of glass osautitol semi-transparent shells are artistically in-serted in the windows, several speci-mens of the latter being included among the curios. Mrs. Brinton passamong the curios. Mrs. Brinton pass-ed through a number of earthquakes and to hear her describe how she was tumbled about as the earth rocked be-neath hor feet one can easily under-stand that plaster and wall paper, to say nothing of glass, would not prove ery serviceable on houses.

Two Philippine cigars a foot long and over six inches in circumference seemed to require some explanation. These Mrs. Brinton said were made by factory girls, who by custom were allowed one cigar per day to be made by the girl herself. The native girl, however, is a resourceful creature and the cigar designed for herself before long began to grow. It was soon the size of three cigars and kept on grow ing until it attained the enorg ing until it attained the enormous di-mensions described above. Such eigars are used by the entire family at home, each member in turn taking a pull at the big roll of tobacco. Mrs. Brinton has brought an endless aris. Britton has brought an endiess variety of straw headgoar along home. The most of these are from the Island of Luzon, where the natives are exceedingly picturesque. Mrs. Britton's own hat which she wore when she went abroad in the sun, is about as big as an umbrella. The men's hats are wonderful creations, bearing more of a resemblance to a basket than to headgear. Few of the native hats are less than five or six feet in circumfer-

There are nearly a hundred other curios, which merit a description, but space will not permit—such as the Philippine stove (made of earthen-ware) ornaments made of ivory and of the beautiful hard woods which grow on the islands; rare draperies, combs and shoes of wood, articles of all sorts made of bamboo; a full tea set of Jap-anese dishes and bolos, which have seen bloody service, presented to the nurses by natives who received treat-nent in the hospital.

The curios will be placed on exhibition in a vacant room on Mill street in a few days. An admission fee will be charged, the proceeds to be donat ed to the Pine Street Lutheran church
