The members of St James Luther an church, of Turbotville, "sleighed" their pastor last week. It was done premeditatedly. Two of the officers of the council started out Tuesday morning and succeeded in securing sufficient funds to purchase a Portland cutter. In the evening they brought it and put it into the parson's barn, and then invited him to inspect it. On Sund, y in a neat little speech he thanked the donors for the gift. The Reformed members presented their pastor with a hand some robe. Now Rev. T. O. Stem can go out and defy the cold.

Man Removed Garment From Dum and Walked Away With It. Shenandoah, Pa, Jan. 13.

A stranger deftly cut the button: overcoat on a dummy in front of Arthur Spero's clothing store this afternoon, and, taking the coat under his arm, walked calmly away. Max Spoont, a shoe dealer acros the street, saw the trick and notified latter captured the fellow a square

Spero, who is somewhat of a hum-orist, acknowledged the joke was on the charge, against the protests of Sam Block and Max Smigelski, rival clothiers, who also had overcoats stolen from dummies recently.

THE FEBRUARY "SMART SET." READERS Of THE SMART SET have learned to look upon the complete novel that appears in each issue of that magazine as the biggest event of many the month in fiction; but even the most enthusiastic reader will be hap- and the work of the great Norwegian most enthusiastic reader will be hap-pi.y surprised by the story in the February number. Beyond a doubt "The Eavesdroppers," by Arthur Stringer, will prove one of the sensa-tions of the year. The story deals with the careers of two daring crimastonishing adventures the reader follows with breathless interest From the very opening sentence th tale becomes one of rapid and excit-Shoemaker, he gave the name or your Doet, and, pointing to Spero's advertisement, "Overcoats given away," which always characterizes Mr. Stringer's work.
