I am proving that my PAW-PAW and my Inhaler positively cures Catarrh. I don't care how chronic or how long standing; or how many doctors have falled to CURE: I know that I have the most rational and positive cure that has ever been found. I know that my Paw-Paw will not only cure Indigestion and CATARRH of the stomach, but it will positively eradicate every particle of catarrhal poison from the blood. I make this statement on the testimony of thousands it has positively change tevely just on the blood. I make this statement on the testimony of thousands it has cured. Its vitalizing forces immediately build up the whole nervous system. It digests almost everything it touches. You can't be despendent, you can't have dayspepsia, you can't have revous, you can't have insomin if you will take Paw-Paw, but there are certain. forms of Catarrh, such as CATARRH of the nose, head and throat, that positively must have local treatment.

Nothing that has ever been discovered is doing so much for the cure of Catarrhal deafness as this treatment. It aliays the inflammation of the Eustachian tubes, so that the swollen and Inflamed membranic is reduced and the hearing is gradually but positively. To make my Catarrh treatment complete in

The head of one of the Best Mottoes Por a Yonng Man Entering Business.

The head of one of the largest dry goods commission houses in this city was asked the other day how it happends structions he could be relied upon to carry them out, and do it correctly too. He never started off on anything 'half cocked,' so to speak. He was not afraid to ask questions and thus get his instructions straight before undertaking the work in hand. In fact, I might say that he owes everything to the fact that he was always accurate in all that he did. You may think that I am preaching a sort of sermon, but if young men entering business positions, whether high or low, would take for their motto the two words, 'Be accurate,' and would live up to it there need be no fear of the ultimate outcome of their undertakings." — New York Commercial.

Muscles That Shut Out Cold.

"The muscles of the skin need training to educate them to contract vigorously on the slightest cold," says a medical writer, "to shut the blood out of the skin so quickly that the precious body heat will not be lost. You notice that when the skin is cold there is a "goose skin" appearance. This is due to the contraction of the little muscles of the skin. The contraction of the muscles compresses the external blood vessels and drives away the blood from the surface, hardening and thickening the skin, which thereby becomes a better nonconductor. Thus the body temperature is maintained.

Moxa Doctors of Tokyo.

A feature of low street life in Tokyo is the "kuisha," or moxa doctor, who applies small pads made of certain dried herbs to the skin, then sets them alight, the ensuing blisters being supposed to be most effective as a cure for various ailments. Among the doctor's remedies, too, are rhinoceros pills, warranted a sure cure for tightness of the chest, gnashing of the teeth and depression of spirits, and "furidashi," a popular remedy for coughs and colds, which is said to expel the devils and promote circulation, while musk pills complications, dangerous in its nature, but it is certainly very painful and when of a serious nature may result in the permanent impairment of the foint. Such an injury, if at all severe, is immediately followed by marked swelling of the paris, and prompt attention should be given anticipating the stageon's coming. The very first item in the treatment of a sprain is perfect rest of the limb until a doctor can be summoned. Reduce the swelling by applications of hot fomentations as hot as can be endured, changing about once in every three hours. If a pleet of oilskin be not at hand use common newspaper. Wind it carefully outside the hot cloth. This will prevent the escape of the steam and prevent the cloth from cooling. A good way to save the hands from being scalded is to place the hot, dripping flannel in a towel, then, taking hold of each end of the towel, to wring it until the flannel is dry enough to apply. promote circulation, while musk pills are prescribed as an infallible cure for every ill, from a red nose to seasick-

The Coquette.

There are scores of girls who are neither beautiful nor witty, but they are natural born coquettes, and as a consequence are perfection in the average man's eyes. The beautiful girl generally banks on her face being her fortune, but the coquette critivates the habit of saying pretty, flattering things, studying the trick of amusing balf a dozen men at one and the same time and of making each man think he is the one that is being especially favored.—San Francisco Call.

The Weathercock.

The Chinese call.

The was originally compounded of two elements, meaning 'oneself' and "ruler," by which it was intimated that an emperor or ruler of men should, before all things, be master of himself. In after ages, however, by the omission of a single stroke, this character assumed its present corrupted form, in which the component elements signify "white" and "ruler," white having taken the place of the original "oneself."

Some years ago it was pointed out by a St. Petersburg correspondent of the London Times that this had been literally translated by the Mongols into thougan khan, and then by the Russians into biely czar, or the "white czar," by which name the emperor of Russia is now known throughout the whole of Asia.—London Telegraph.
