He gave a full description of the work accomplished as well as what yet remains to be done. By far the heaviest part of the prop tion was the excavating required for the pipe and on this branch of the work a large number of men, frequently as many as 75, were employed. The system requires 1500 feet of 15-incl sewer pipe; 1700 feet of 6-inch iron pipe and upwards of 1500 fee The work of laying pipe was done during the winter and Mr. Riegling explained that the freezing conditions in stead of proving a detriment to excava tion aided in its accomplishment Many of the trenches, he said, wer freezing as the trenches sank kept the sides firm and solid so that cribbing

The part of the system not yet completed is that which relates to the fin al disposal of the sewage over the land as fertilizer. The distributing pipe leading out from the reservoir are a ready in position in the open treuche What yet remains to be done is to fill complished so as to make a satisfactor; job of it until the frost leaves the ground. At present the trenches ar still nearly full of snow.

While it may be several weeks be fore the last touches are put upon the trenches the system is practically com-pleted and in good working order. Mr Riegling expects to leave for home a se of the present week.

HORSE AND BUGGY WERE STULEN

Liveryman C. C. Moyer thought that one of his best horses together with a buggy and harness had been stolen but Monday the on thit was recovered in a most unexpected way. The horse and buggy were hired on Saturday evening by a young man named Fox from Berwick for the purpose of driv-ing out to the farm of Noah Stump.

He did not return Saturday night, but Sunday morning the liveryman was called up by 'phone from the Oak Tree Hotel and informed that the horse and buggy were missing and that Mr. Fox was prosecuting a search for the outfit. About 10 o'clock Sunday Mr. Fox himself put in an appearance in Dan-ville and told the following story: While driving out Mill street Saturday while driving out all street saturates vecing, he said, he was stopped by a tall young man of pleasing address who asked which way he was going. He replied: "In the direction of Oak Grove." The stranger then asked permission to ride along, explaining that he was employed at the Hospital for the Insane and that he was on his way to Washingtonville. He was given a seat in the buggy and soon proved an interesting and congenial companion. Arriving at the Oak Tree Hotel in Val ley township at the stranger's invita-tion Mr. Fox stopped and had some li-quid refreshments.

After a short stop they continued their journey. Soon after Mr. Fox says he lost conscionsness and all was a blank until he found himself minus loss of the horse and buggy, after which he spent several hours in a pain-staking but fruitless search. He was inclined to the opinion that the stranger had placed knock out drops in the beverage he had imbibed at the Oak Tree Hotel and had made off with the horse and buggy. Inquiries were at once telephoned all over the neighborhood, but it was impossible to gain a single clew. Mr. Moyer yesterday became pretty well convinced that the outfit had been stolen. Eugene Moyer and James Frame started off in a search for the missing horse and buggs, but they were recov-red in another way. Charles Ruckle, R. F. D. carrier on the route which takes in Oak Grove on his return to town Monday afternoon brought news of the missing property. The horse and buggy were tound Sanday morning standing in the barn yard on the small farm of Mrs. Mary Miller, situated on one of the less frequented roads some three miles west of the Oak Tree Hotel. The rozen fast in the mud, indicating that the horse had wandered into the barn yard early in the night before the round yet had frozen. The horse much to the stable and fed. They had no way of finding out to whom the outfit belonged until the appearance of the mail carrier Mouday. C. C. Moyer at once left for the Miller farm Monday afternoon to bring home the horse and vehicle. Big Saving Contemplated.

The Borough Council contemplates effecting a big saving in the lighting of the streets by running on what is called a moonlight schedule. It is imossible to secure a contract of this kind from most light companies, but now that the Borough owns its own plant it will be in a position to say whether it shall run or stand idle. There are several nights of each month, approximating a week, when the approximating a week, when the streets of every town are much better lighted up by the moon than by any system of lighting that can be devised by man. There is at least another week when during a porion of the night, either in the first or last half, the moon, whose swellent service to the moon gives excellent service to homanity. WELCOMED IN THE CHURCH

The several weeks of revival service and the steady and aggressive effort put forth by the pastor, Rev. John Sherman, at the First Baptist church merchan, at the First Dappins church has born very good fruit and at the morning service Sunday seventeen young people received the hand of Christiau fellowship.

The new members, all of whom were under thirty and the majority of whom were under twenty years, were receiv ed by baptism during the last two months. The services welcoming them into the church Sunday, during which the Lord's Supper was observ-ed, was most impressive thoughout. Rev. Sherman preached an appropriate sermon, founded on the 8th and 9th verses of the third chapter of Auts "And he leaping up stood and walke and entered with them into the temple walking and leaping and praising Go and all the people saw him walking and praising God."

The Scriptures were very aptly applied in the sermon. A saved person is in the position of the lame man of the text in that he is healed in the name of Jesus. Like the lame man he ought to be joyful and to use his new strength and devote his new life to praising God; also he ought to show this to the world.

The members of the First Baptist church are much gratified at the show-ing made along all lines. Flattering as was the accession to membership yesterday there are still more converts has prospered financially, meeting all its obligations and paying off some floating debts.

terday morning, eleven hours and a half, the new engine and dynamo went plodding along without any variation at the rate of two hundred and fifty-seven tevolutions per minute. The plant is certainly a beauty and it is gratifying that the new machinery has made such a fine record on the initial night. Loafing about the light plant is not plant. A good many persons dropped in at the plant last evening and Tuesday evening, but they were held up in the boiler room and were obliged to content themselves with what they could see from a distance.

At that point it will connect with the Sunbury and North-umberland road, which will give Mil-ton and the Upper End direct connec-tions with the county soat. When the Danville and Sunbury line and Farm-er Kulp's Shamokin extension are com-pleted to Sunbury, as they are likely pleted to Sunbury, as they are likely to be this summer, we will have direc trolley con munication with Danville Bloomsburg, Berwick, Shamokin, Mt. Oarmel, and Ashland. Superintendent Mountney is now engaged in securing the right of way in Chillisquaque and Point townships, and the prospect so far as the work has gone is most encouraging. Work on the line will be commenced as soon as the right of way has been secured and will be pushed rapidly to completion. It is expected to have the road fluished and in good running order before thir time. This extension will necessitate the culargement of the power house and the installation of additional power and machinety. A new car barn will have to be built, which will cover the entire lot owned by the company on Locust street, where the present barn is locat-ed. Cost of County Courts. The Danville Morning News points out the cost of the county court held there this week. There were five comnonwealth cases, which cost the coun monwealth cases, which cost the coun-ity $176.85. an average of about thirty-five dollars each. The grand jurors cost $186.82 and the traverse jurors $160.86. constables returns cost $17.50 and criers and tipstayes cost $16.60 for the week. These figures read like count expenses in the good old days of our grandfathers, when there was no graft. We have not the figures at our com-mand but we imagine it costs this county from $3,000 to $5,000 a week to conduct a criminal court, and it is Savidge's recent ruling, that lopped off a big item of coats in dismissed cases.—Milton Standard.

TWO ALARMS

OF F.RE There were two alarms of are Tues-day forenoon. In each case the blaze was discovered in its incipiency and the damage done was comparatively alight.

The first alarm was sounded by the Friendship engine house about nine o'clock, the blaze occurring in the rectory of Christ Episcopal church. The Friendship boys were promptly on the ground but there was some difficulty in locating and getting at the fire, which was behind the wainsteading the directly under the chimney and coting directly under the chimney and was detected by the smoke which forced its way into the kitchen. The warmscoting was ripped off when an old-fashioned fireplace was discov-ered, which had been boarded over, the wainsoting on the inside being pro-tected with tin. Soot had dropped down from the chimney above and in time formed quite an accumulation which Tuesday morning ignited from sparks which fell down from the pipe of the kitchen same.

of the kitchen range. A few buckets of water sufficed to extinguish the fire and the damage nad to be abaudoned. About 11 o'clock the second fire alarm was sounded. The blaze on this oc-casion was located in an out kitchen on the premises of James Dailey, an ironworker, situated at the rear of the Frove Presbyterian church, along the

The building which contained a cook stove, a table, an oil can and several articles of clothing, tools, &c., was practically destroyed. It stool within ten feer of the main dweiting, a neatly painted commodious frame structure, and that the fire did not communicate to the latter is due to that timely warning sounded by the locomotive and prompt action on the part of the firemen. The general opwas set on fire by sparks from a pass ng engine. Neither Mr. Dailey nor his wife were at home when the fire occurred. Mr. Dailey was out of town, while Mrs. Dailey had left for Mill street on an errand a short time before the fire oc
