

Will be at 303.
Has the grip got you?
Movers are packing up.
St. Patrick's day on Friday.
March is on its good behavior.
Don't knock, but boost always.
Early housecleaners are at work.
The old fashioned winter has loosened.

It will soon be time for that tired feeling.
Wearing of the green will soon come to the front.
Inauguration pneumonia victims throughout the country are now answering the summons. The harvest has been a large one.

People on the lowlands at Bloomsburg are prepared to move at a moment's notice, though the river's rise is very slow.

The Intelligencer is the best local paper in Montour county.
This sort of weather makes the baseball fan yearn for the good days-a coming.

We are only a few paces now from the threshold of spring, and signs are apparent.

The man who lets fresh air into his sleeping room drives out pneumonia.

The Legislature is getting in shape to finish its work early in April.
Eggs are very plentiful at the stores and are sold at twenty cents per dozen.

Over 900 conversions during the year in the Williamsport district of the Central Pennsylvania M. E. conference, with 27 charges to hear from, is a most gratifying showing.

Sanbury is preparing for a big time on Old Fellows' day and will probably realize all it anticipates.

It is time now for the ground hog to "let up".
Good roads will improve the value of the farm properties through which they pass.

Base ball fever will soon be catching.
Remember the No. 303.

The Intelligencer is at your service as a news or advertising medium. We await your commands.

May will be a month of great doings in Williamsport. There will be among other things, a big Congressional convention, the Knights Templar convalesce and Barnum's show.

After St. Patrick's day it will be time enough to talk about spring.
The ice has been getting gorgons in places.

WANTED 10 men in each state to travel, tack signs and distribute samples and circulars of our goods. Salary $75.00 per month. $3.00 per day for expenses. KUHLMAN CO., Dept. P., Atlas Building, Chicago.

Wyoming county reports that the peach buds have not been damaged by the hard winter and that the prospects are good for a large crop of the fruit.

Without fail at 303.
Mr. M. L. Sheep, of Jerseytown, gave us a short ride behind his spirited, dashing charger on Saturday, while in our city on business.

Seranton, Pa., March 15.—The depth of snow near Gouldsboro compelled Tax Collector M. H. Heller, who filed his bond in court to day, to take a route coming to this city that required nine hours. The trip by the accustomed route is made in an hour.

Rev. Joseph Hunter, pastor of the Berwick Presbyterian church, has received a call to a large church in Newark, N. J., at a salary of $2,400 a year, free rent of parsonage, six weeks vacation each year and the congregation to pay the expense of his removal. He has accepted.

The Intelligencer has a class of circulation that makes advertising in its columns rich with results. It has, too, a quantity of circulation at rates that mean great profit to the person using the paper.

Don't fail to be at 303.
When the Russian giant, 9 feet 3 1/2 inches in height, made his first appearance at the London Hippodrome, recently, he was introduced to the audience by Mme. Chiquita, whose height is nineteen inches.

AT PRIVATE SALE.—A good brick house, frame barn and lot containing 1/2 of an acre, on Church street, Washingtonville borough, formerly owned by Miss Tyerman. Inquire of M. L. SHEEP, Jerseytown, Pa.

The most attractive sale papers you see throughout the country are printed at this office, and the charges are no more than you pay elsewhere for inferior work. If you are thinking of having sale and want it advertised RIGHT, have your bills printed by us. Get our prices; see our work, and you will go nowhere else. We give you a free notice in the paper.

Thousands Upon Thousands.
Of letters from all parts of this country and Europe, testify to the beneficial effect of Speer's Port and Burgundy Wines for invalids and weakly persons. The Speer N. J. Wine Co., of Passaic, are the oldest wine growers in this country. The General Office is at the Vineyard, Passaic, N. J.

The Washingtonville Entertaining Club.
The Washingtonville Entertaining Club will give an entertainment in Heddens Hall, next Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Methodist church. An excellent program has been arranged. Wagner's orchestra will furnish music.

New Watch Box.
A new watch box was installed at the Mill street crossing of the D. L. & W. Saturday. The new structure, which is ornamental in design and fitted with modern conveniences, is a great improvement over the shanty it replaces.

Our Country
CORRESPONDENCE

Written expressly for THE INTELLIGENCER
By our Rural Friends.

SCHUYLER.
Mr. Editor.—We are having genuine March weather this far this month, despite the appearance of blue birds and robins. The thermometer has arranged from 2° below to 32°.

Coming at 303.
Pottsgrove Items.
Muddy roads.
Mr. Benton L. Marsh, of Milton, made a business trip to this place on Thursday.

Mr. Edward Taylor has moved to Mexico.
Mr. Edward R. Dyer, operator at Groviana, called on friends Wednesday evening.

Miss Anna Lose, of Watsonville, is visiting friends in this place.
Mr. J. G. Reed has moved on his farm near Milton and expects to start farming.

Miss Myrtle Gibson entertained a number of young friends at her home on Friday evening.
Mr. Geo. Buss and sister, Grace, of McEwensville, was seen in our town on Sunday.

There is quite a number of public sales this spring in the surrounding country. Mr. E. M. Haunty, our townsman and auctioneer, is kept busy every day this month.

Judging from the number of people who expect to move this spring in our village and surrounding country, there will be a stirring time. Nearly every tenement house around about will be occupied by a new family and still there is a demand for houses. This looks well for Pottsgrove.

Comly.
The roads are in a bad condition now—spring is near.
Sadie, the little daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fry, is ill of pneumonia.

Miss Myra Lowe spent Sunday with her parents.
Miss Beatrice Probst passed through this place Monday evening.

We were so glad to hear that the young people enjoyed themselves at the Granger's ball last week.
Mr. William Mingle spent a few days with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris attended church at McKees Heights on Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watson made a business trip to Exchange last week.

Mr. John Yagle, of Exchange, called at James Probst's on Sunday evening.
Wait for 303.

Mrs. Elmer Lowe and son, Elwood, of McKees Heights, were business visitors in this place on Monday.
A number of people from this place attended the funeral of Philip Litchard on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meuges, of Paradise, spent Sunday with Mr. Roscoe Ellis and family.
Paul Meuges and bride, of Turbotville, spent Sunday afternoon with Edward Phillips and family of this place.

We are glad to learn that our young friend, Russell Biddle is recovering after a severe attack of typhoid pneumonia.
Mr. Charles Steiner purchased a fine new roadster. That is right, Charles, take the girls out riding in the good old summer time.

Mr. James Jarrett, of Exchange, is assisting his uncle William, in the blacksmith shop this week.
Mr. Ralph Irwin spent a few days

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

Wait for 303.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidneys will break down and vital organs will be broken down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quite by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to often during the day, and get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It starts the highest priced and most wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You can get a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it. Write for it to-day. Name—J. G. Reed, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE CURVED BALL.
It is the Atmosphere Which Causes It.
Most any ten-year-old youngster can curve a ball, even though he does not know how he can do so except that the leather must be held in a certain way. Possibly a half dozen of the major league writers know something about the science of the curve, but comparatively few understand why they can produce their "benders." The Scientific American gives the following as the scientific explanation of the matter:

"The pitcher in the field tells us that the ball curves because he gives it a twist, but scientifically this will not do. Why will the twist make the curve? If a ball were thrown in a certain direction and if the force of gravitation were not at work the ball would continue on in a straight line forever. Some force of resistance is then at work when a ball is made to deviate in a curve from its straight path.

As the ball is thrown, the air is compressed and is forced into a vacuum in an exhausted receiver of an air pump it will drop like a shot, but if it is dropped out in the air it will go down irregularly and slowly, shifting from side to side.

"It is the atmosphere which causes the ball to curve. Bearing in mind that the atmosphere is a compressible, elastic gas, we find that when the ball leaves the hand of the pitcher with a rapid rotary motion it impinges upon a continuous elastic cushion, and this moderate resistance, or friction, changes its course in the direction which is given to the rotary motion. Take an outshoot of a right handed pitcher. He impresses upon the ball a rapid centrifugal rotary motion to the left, and the ball goes to the left because the atmosphere, compressible and elastic, is packed into an elastic cushion just behind the ball by the swift forward and rotary motion, and the friction, which is very great in front of the ball, steers it in the direction which it is turning."

A NOTABLE MEETING.
Held in the Interest of "Woman's Rights" in 1701.
The first recorded public meeting in the interest of "woman's rights" was held in the town of Medford, Mass., in 1701. The gallery of the church was occupied by the young unmarried people of the congregation, one side and one half the front gallery being given to the young men, the other side and the other half being given to the young women. But when the church was the eventful year the young men were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this was not to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter. The church was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery.

The young men of the day were bitterly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the meeting of the church, the young men of the congregation were given the entire front of the gallery as well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

BOX OFFICE TRICKS.

THE BERTH OF A THEATER TICKET SELLER IS NOT A SECURE ONE.
Why the Man Who Sits Behind the Wicket Must Be a Good Judge of Human Nature—The Art of "Dressing" a Light House.

To the average theater goer the man who sits behind the wicket in the box office and sells tickets seems to have no other business on earth. True, he has to answer many fool questions and deal with many fool persons who are often ugly because others with more foresight have picked up early all the good seats. He has to handle diplomatically the woman who wants dollar seats for 75 cents and with the other fellow who wants "first row, center," after the play has begun and that has been sold for a week ahead. But all these things seem but his share of the minor ills of earth. Outside of them apparently his job is what is generally known as a "snap."

But the man in the box office has other things to consider besides tickets. True, that is where he comes in contact with the general public, and that is all that is usually thought about his duties. But at the same time he is serving the public he is working for two masters behind the scenes, the proprietor of the house and the manager of the attraction, and he must serve them equally, while their interests sometimes conflict sharply. Furthermore, he must serve them as against the public if need there be, and he keeps him hustling to hold his job to do it too.

The man behind the wicket is a good man if he can make you buy a seat that costs you more than you intended to invest to see the particular "show" he has in a playhouse or "shows" in the parlance, be they opera, comedy or vaudeville. Now, most men think they know what they are going to get when they visit a theater, and they especially have their own ideas, psychologically speaking, they are stronger minded than the house treasurer. Then they do get what they want, and he never questions it. But the average man is not. The treasurer in the box office is an occasional act on the man's part. Hence he is fortified for the public, and the latter is not for him, and so when the people step up, especially if it is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.

How does he do it? Largely by the power of suggestion. He implies that the seat he is offering is better than any other, or he puts the question as to what price seat by asking you about the higher ones before he mentions the lower ones, and when he does refer to the latter, at your suggestion, he is rather late and there is something of a rush, a clever ticket man can easily get the extra price out of them for a higher selling ticket.