Grain and grass are looking very fine. The outlook for good crops of both have not been so good for severspring crops. They have been delayed somewhat by the late rains making it too wet. No oats have been sowed yet. However, if the weather should prove favorable, there will be a large area sown this week.

Trees are pushing their buds, and it will not be long until they will be covered with blossoms.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were genuine winter days. There was a strong, cold wind during these days and the snow flew as freely as in midwinter. On Monday and Tuesday mornings the ground was covered white with snow. What the result will be in regard to fruit trees, etc., it somewhat difficult to ear but it is ready heard in the land.

The clising of the careet of Joseph Jefferson will cause a pang of sorrow it somewhat difficult to say, but it is likely that no injury has been done, as the buds are not very far advanced.

Russell Biddle went to Williams a severe attack of the pneumonia dur-ing the winter and his recovery was very slow, and his physician decided that this operation must be had to save his life.

Mr. John Mingle's barn was burned on Monday. All the farming im-plements and stock were saved but his feed and straw were destroyed.
