

WERE MARRIED IN READING

The many friends in this city of Miss Vesta Williams, formerly of Danville, will be much interested to learn of her wedding to J. C. Potts, which took place in Reading on Monday morning. The bride is the sister of Mrs. W. A. Schell, market square, and a daughter of W. D. Williams, formerly superintendent of the Mahoning Rolling Mill, this city. With her parents she removed to Pottsville several years ago. The following account of the wedding is taken from the "Pottsville Republican" of Monday:

A quiet wedding took place at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the parsonage of St. Barnabas Episcopal church, at Reading, when Miss Vesta Williams and J. C. Potts, both prominent young people of Pottsville, were made man and wife. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. B. May, rector of that church, and formerly assistant rector of Trinity Episcopal church, of town. In attendance were a number of the relatives of the bride and groom. After a wedding dinner they departed on an extended wedding tour to points of interest and upon the conclusion of their trip will return to Philadelphia, to make their home.

The groom is the eldest son of the late Capt. W. W. Potts and of Mrs. Eliza Potts, and is well known and respected by a large number of Pottsville friends in which town he has always resided. Until about a year ago he held a responsible position in the paymaster's department of the P. & R. O. & L. Co., and resigned to accept a position with Swift & Co. at Philadelphia. Since going to that city he has met with excellent success and has received several promotions. He is a member of Pulaski Lodge, F. & A. M., of the Pottsville Lodge of Elks, of which he was Leading Knight, prior to his removal to the city. During the Spanish war he served in the Fourth Regiment as a member of the drum corps in the Porto Rico campaign. In the National Guard since the war. In was for several years bugler of the Eighth Regiment and was promoted to the Brigade staff in the same capacity with the rank of sergeant.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Williams, of North Third Street. She is the possessor of many talents, notably among which is a wonderfully fine contralto voice which has attracted considerable favorable comment not only in the county but in Philadelphia, where she is the soloist of a professional quartette in the Broad and Oxford street Presbyterian church. Miss Williams participated in a leading role in most of the amateur musical productions in Pottsville, her personal beauty adding greatly to the effect of her rare vocal talent.

The wedding was witnessed by a number of relatives from Pottsville. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit and was attended by Mrs. Lillian P. Bowen, as matron of honor, and the groom by S. N. Potts, as best man. The young couple received numerous presents from their many friends and all join in extending to them their heartiest congratulations.

NO DATE SET FOR INSPECTION

The County Commissioners yesterday received a communication from John E. Stott, secretary of the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings, Harrisburg, which would seem to indicate that the inspection of the new river bridge is giving the Board no special concern at present and may be still at some distance in the future.

The communication, which came un-solicited, had enclosed with it a newspaper clipping containing a report of the joint meeting of County Commissioners held at Danville, copied from the Morning News of the 12th inst., which stated that a reception appropriate in its nature was contemplated for the Harrisburg party on the date of the inspection and that a committee had been appointed to wait upon the Governor to determine whether or not he would be present and to obtain some other information relative to the inspection.

The communication was in reply to the newspaper clipping and read as follows:

Harrisburg, Pa., April 17th, 1905.
County Commissioners,
Danville, Pa.

"I beg to inform you that before the Danville bridge can be inspected the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings, first must have notice from the engineer that the said bridge is completed; when that notice is received the inspectors appointed to inspect the said bridge are first confirmed by the Court and then the Board will set a time for said inspection, which time you will have due notice of.

JOHN E. STOTT, Secretary.

May Use Three Hooks.

The following from Monday's Harrisburg Telegraph will be of interest at this time:

"The Legislature just ended made no change in the law relating to fishing for trout," said Fish Commissioner Meehan today. "And those who go out to catch the speckled beauties I believe that is what you call 'em'—need have no apprehension that there have been changes. A man can catch but fifty trout in one day, and if he catches any more on that day he pays ten dollars for each one over the fifty. These stories of big trout catches will tend to keep you from catching any more than you can use. You will hear of how a man whipped a stream and in a few hours caught a couple of hundred trout. That is the kind of a story this department investigates, and if found true the offender is hauled up for violating the law.

"Last year we hunted down a story from Altoona to the effect that two men had caught several hundred trout in one day, and discovered that the big catch originated in the nimble fancy of an Altoona reporter and we took that gentleman before a justice of peace and made him take a oath that he would never again tell a lie like that and put the department to trouble.

"No trout less than six inches long can be legally caught and a fisherman must throw back into the stream any trout that he catches smaller than that. As to fishing for trout on Sunday, that is a matter that has not yet been thrashed out in the Superior court, where it now is. A law passed in 1870 forbade Sunday fishing, but it is a question whether the new law of 1901 did not repeal it, and the court now has it under consideration.

"It will be lawful to catch trout only with rod, hook and line. Any other way is illegal. No nets can be used in taking trout. The question has been raised as to whether more than one hook may be used on a line, and we are inclined to think that the use of three hooks is legal, and we have so instructed our wardens, so that there will be no arrests made for using more than one hook."

Money Transfer Business Extended.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has extended its money transfer business to foreign countries. The local Western Union office will accept money to be transferred by cable to points in Great Britain and Ireland, France, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Sicily, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Russia in Europe, Turkey in Europe, Rumania, Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece, Corsica, Sardinia, and all other countries in Europe. They also transfer money to Alaska, Cuba and the Philippines.

GENERAL COXEY A BANKRUPT

An exchange prints the following: "General" Jacob S. Coxe, formerly of Danville, he of "Army" fame, is now in the midst of bankruptcy proceedings, but calls it merely an accident. His debts are $285,000, but they are not much higher than in his first failure, and he emerged from that triumphantly. He can do it again, he says. Coxe is a man of real ability, but somewhat erratic. His object in marching the "great unwashed" to the capitol grounds was to make a demonstration in favor of good roads. He said that that he was just ahead of the times.

Today one of the greatest universalities in the rural districts is the "Good Roads" agitation and in every State hundreds of miles are being built by the taxpayers. Coxe spent all of his money in this crusade and went broke but not for long.

On one of his farms he found a great deposit of silica and he started to mine it and sell it to the glass makers. He prospered and with his profits built a $250,000 steel mill. This, too, was a success.

Coxey recently made costly additions to his plant, and his present trouble is due to the fact that he could not get enough ready money to meet his heavy indebtedness; He is not cast down—no Coxe.

Meet With Generous Response.

Hon. James Foster, Chairman of the Soldiers' Monument Committee, yesterday stated that the solicitors are reporting very satisfactory progress. At least one more additional large subscription is in sight, while the masses are responding in a way that reflects well upon their liberality and patriotism.

The solicitors, it seems, have been the most active in the Third Ward where canvassing is nearly completed. It is this ward which seems to form a criterion, nearly every person approached subscribing something. All that is required is for the people of the other wards to do as well and the Soldiers' Monument will be assured.

In the Second and Fourth wards the solicitors have not carried the work so far, but the results have been most gratifying. In the First Ward the solicitors have done the least work, but Mr. Foster states that from now on the committee will push canvassing and the residents of this part of town may expect to be called upon during the present week or next.

Annual Literary Contest.

The annual Literary Society contest between the Lincoln and Garfield Societies of the Danville High School, will be held this year on the 29th of May. Odd Fellows to Sunbury.

Local Odd Fellows are preparing to go to Sunbury in large numbers on Wednesday, April 26th and will take a prominent part in the parade. Joseph H. Muckey has been re-elected grand secretary of the lodge in Pennsylvania, he having no opposition. The only contest was between Rev. B. H. Hart, of Harrisburg, and G. R. McGlathery, Philadelphia, for grand ward. The returns from a big majority of the lodges of the state give Hart a big majority, that cannot be overcome.

Normal Examinations.

Beginning Wednesday, June 14, the annual examination of the graduating class of the Bloomsburg State Normal School will be held. The board of examiners has not yet been appointed.

A FORGOTTEN WELL UNCOVERED

A forty-five foot pole, belonging to the United Telephone and Telegraph Company at the Heddens House stood right on the line to be occupied by the curbing required in connection with the new pavement to be put down in Mill street and it was ordered to be removed Monday. It proved nearly an all-day job for the linemen. The plan adopted was the usual one of digging another hole alongside the pole nearer to the buildings and when a sufficient depth had been attained to force the pole, heavily loaded with wire, over into the hole where it would be over the way of the curb.

In attempting to sink a hole yesterday a curious discovery was made. A depth of several feet had been attained less than a yard away from the pole when an opening appeared under the digging implements and one of the men remarked they were in good luck, they had just uncovered an old post hole, which could be reposed with little difficulty. A "post hole" it proved to be indeed, one that could have nearly swallowed the big pole and several others like it. The opening was an old well, which having served its day and generation in the early days of the town was covered over some time in the past and the spot from time to time filled up as required by the improvements on the street.

The well was found to be securely walled up and so far as could be determined by the linemen was very deep. The opening was re-covered and another spot alongside the well selected for the pole.

Men of advanced years who have lived in Danville all their lives seem to have no recollection of the well, which undoubtedly was maintained in connection with the Union Hall hotel in the earlier part of its history. It would not be strange if the old well passed out of use fifty years or more ago.

A Fatal Encounter.

An episode which occurred in the Kentucky Mountains and one that is causing much newspaper comment, is a raid on a band of moonshiners that terminated in a thrilling and fatal encounter. The fight was a terrific one, and although the rugged mountaineers put up a desperate struggle, those who were not killed were captured by the daring sheriff's deputies.

This combat between brave and fearless men takes place nightly with such realism as to appear to be life itself at the Lyman H. Howe Moving Pictures. Howe's Moving Pictures will appear in this city on Saturday, April 29th.

An unusually early Spring must have occurred in the North seas, as scores of big bergs are reported in the Atlantic on the route between New York and England.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS' BIBLE CLASS

The regular monthly reception of the Thomas Beaver Boys' Bible Class of the Y. M. C. A. was held in Association Hall, Tuesday, with an attendance of nearly four hundred persons, one hundred and sixty of the number being members of the class. The audience was the largest of the season and taxed the hall to accommodate the crowd.

The program was in charge of Mrs. T. J. Rogers and Mrs. Jesse Shannon, who deserve credit for the way in which they conducted the exercises. Mrs. Emma McHenry was the accompanist for the Bible Class, and Mrs. Wesley Morrill accompanied those who took part in the entertainment.

The program was opened with singing by the Boys' Bible Class, followed by reading of the Scriptures by Mrs. Jesse Shannon and prayer by General Secretary William D. Laumatter. After another song by the boys there was a very fine drill given by girl members from the South Danville schools, taught by Miss Pfahler and Miss Campbell. This was a very fine feature and was enjoyed by all present.

W. J. Rogers gave a recitation in German dialect, which struck a responsive chord in his hearers. Two delightful vocal solos were rendered by Miss Corabel Hendrickson. A piano duet was a pleasing number, executed by Anna Edmondson, Phoebe Curry, and Mary Rogers, after which followed a vocal solo by Miss Bertha Rudy. The closing number was a violin solo by George Wildsmith.

The entertainment was a success in every way, and was enjoyed by every member of the large audience.

Social and Musical.

A cobweb social and musical was held at the First Baptist church on Friday evening. It was largely attended. The program, which was extended, was as follows:

Piano Duet, "The Swan Lake Dance," Miss Miles and Seidler.

Solo, "The Whisper," Miss Bertha Evans.

Cornet Solo, "Oh Golden Land," Miss Edmondson.

Drill, "The Doll's Lesson," Eight Girls.

Solo, "O Thou Sublime, Sweet Evening Star," Mr. Russell.

Recitation, "Selected," Mr. Rogers.

Solo, "Burst Ze, Apple Buds," Miss Edmondson.

Piano Solo, "The Valley of the King," Miss Jenkins.

Solo, "Faces in the Firelight," Mr. Herrington.

Recitation, "Selected," Mr. Rogers.

Doet, "As Pants the Heart," Mrs. Sober and Mrs. Lonsberger, Miss Miles accompanist.

TROLLEY TRACK ON E. MARKET STREET

Following the arrival of a car load of tools for the Danville and Sunbury Street Railway, several contracts for material and machinery were let by that company on Saturday; other contracts will be awarded today.

In order that the trolley company might be in a position to begin work on Friday evening a conference was held by the trolley people and the Streets and Bridges Committee of Council composed of Amos Vesting, G. F. Roysnyder, Arthur Dietrich, J. H. Boyer and J. R. Hughes, at which some very important details as to the right of way and location of the track were settled.

The question of a right of way was practically disposed of at the last meeting of the Borough Council when a communication was received from the Danville and Sunbury Street Railway Company stating that the Danville and Bloomsburg Electric Railway Company by its intention, dated February 23, 1905, had conveyed all its rights, title and interest in its route and franchise to the Danville and Sunbury Company. The route as designated lies from a point opposite the State Hospital down Market street to Mill, thence South on Mill to and across the river bridge, through Gearhart township and Riverside.

The communication stated that the Danville and Sunbury Street Railway Company received said subject to all conditions, stipulations and restrictions as the ordinances to the Danville and Bloomsburg Company designated.

The communication was accepted by Council and placed on file. In the purchase of the portion of the route designated the Danville and Sunbury Street Railway Company secures the right of way through that part of our Borough. The only matter left for Council to adjudge was the location of the track on East Market street, where the thoroughfare becomes too narrow to follow the custom and lay the track in the middle of the street.

The matter was fully discussed, Friday evening, and the outcome was that on East Market street the track of the Danville and Sunbury line should be laid in the middle of the street until a point a short distance above the Washington Hose House is reached; where the thoroughfare narrows down to twenty-four feet, the track is to take the north side of the street, which it will follow to the upper end.

That the upper part of East Market street is too narrow to permit laying the track in the middle was a fact quite apparent from the first and it was a mooted question with the residents who live on the north side of the street. The Committee on Streets and Bridges was largely, if not solely influenced by the fact that the water pipe lies on the south side of the street. It is obvious, therefore, why the Committee preferred to leave that side of the thoroughfare open.

The Danville and Sunbury Street Railway has undergone some change in officers. Charles P. Hancock succeeds C. O. Yetter, Esq., as President of the Company. Isaiah Hagenbuch still remains Secretary and W. A. Heiler, Treasurer and General Manager. The Board of Directors also remains the same.
