In the seventh address of the series being delivered in Association Hall General Secretary William D. Lan-master took as his subject Sunday afternoon "Athens — Where Paul Preached." The talk proved to be no less interesting and instructive than did the preceding addresses. During the course of the meeting hiss Emma Gearhart rendred two solos with pleasing effect. Miss Buth Gearhart was the accompanist. Mr. Laumaster said in part: "The pilgrims to the World's Sunday School pilgrims to the World's Sunday School Convention sailed for some time on the Aegean Sea, that part of the Medi-terranean which lies between Greece on the West, European Turkey on the North, and Asia Minor on the East. Its length is about 400 miles and its greatest width over 200 miles. We en-tered the harbor of the Pirano-the part of Athens five miles from the city through a marcow channel be. city, through a narrow channel be tween the breakwaters, on March 25th. Here we remained for two days and a half, making frequent trips in small sailing boats from our ship to the dock, from whence we proceeded by train to Athens the capital and largest city of Greece.

'The harbor at Pirano, where our boat anchored, is a beautiful place, and was filled with sailng vessels, men of war and boats of every description. A veritable network of masts, spars, sails and flags of all nations were seen and inspiring picture. As usual we had not been long in the harbor before our vessel was surrounded by merchants from the city, who came to offer their wares for sale to the tourists.

their wares for sale to the tourists. After a description of the boats, the people on shore, the cars and the ride to Athens Mr. Laumaster spoke as fol-lows of the city itself: "Modern Ath-ens is a beautiful city, and delightful-ly located. Some of the streets are broad and the sidewalks of proper width, but as a rule the streets and sidewalks are narrow. Marble is used extensively and there are many beauti-extensively and there are many beauti-ful buildings composed entirely of marble. The stores, bazaars, hotels and markots are, in most respects, like other places, except that the wares offered for sale are the products of the panel. There are the products of the people. There are telephones, electric lights and street cars drawn by horses bitched three abreast. Horses and donkeys are the burden bearers.'' Mr. Laumaster gave vivid descrip-tions of Athens and of the many places donkeys are the burden bearers." Mr. Laumaster gave vivid descrip-tions of Athens and of the many places of historical interest in the vicinity of the city. "The Stadum, or race conree" he said "was laid out in 330 B. The managers of the Barnum & Bailey Show announce that the par-ade will be abandoned this year, but a wonderful exhibition of daring will be given on the circus grounds free, short-ly before the opening of the doors. This new policy is to be commended, after he had hit the ball. Roberts hit a neat no over the left fielder's head for three bags. Sunbury had n) long hits that counted.
