

Danville Intelligencer

Established in 1828.

Is it possible that we will have nobody announce for the office of Associate Judge on the Democratic ticket? There is a first-class chance for a good man for that office. Come forth, and assert yourself, somebody. You may hear more of us later.

Pine weather.
Pleasant May days.
Bad on the peach blossoms.
The hot wave period will soon be in order.

Busy days these for the energetic man with the hoe.
The swish of the cap't buster is still heard in the land.
The man who has been waiting for the May snow storm might as well hang up the shovel.

The Intelligencer is the best local paper in Montour county.
The idle man is a rarity these days, unless it be that he is idle from choice.
Williamsport is preparing to do her best for the Knights Templar.

Visitors from all over the country to the historic battle field at Gettysburg will learn with sorrow that Capt. L. M. Minigh is critically ill, the result of a paralytic stroke sustained several days ago. He has been a guide on the battlefield for many years.

Scientists advise people to kill the early mosquitoes and thus shut off the production of millions more. Therefore slap the mosquito and think of a million.

David Wintersteen, Sr., of near this city, was in to see us yesterday and renewed his subscription to the Intelligencer.

Job Printing of all kinds properly executed at reasonable prices, at the Intelligencer Office.

Thirteen new rural mail routes, making thirty-two in all, will be established in Lebanon county on June 1st.

The encampment of the Sons of Veterans of Pennsylvania, which will occur at Milton during the week of June 10th, promises to be a great event. From twenty-two to twenty-eight hundred strangers will be the guests of the town.

WANTED 10 men in each state to travel, tack signs and distribute samplers and circulars of our goods. Salary $75.00 per month. $3.00 per day for expenses. KUHLMAN CO., Dept. P., Atlas Building, Chicago.

Spot fever has broken out at Catawissa, and two people are suffering from the malady.

Happy is the man who does not have to face the terrors of spring house cleaning.

One by one the straw hats come out of the storage closet.
May flowers are now endeavoring to grow forth their brightest colors.

The Intelligencer has a class of circulation that makes advertising in its columns rich with results. It has, too, a quantity of circulation at rates that mean great profit to the person using the paper.

The tailors are very busy just now. The lateness of the Spring season has caused the trade to come in a rush.

We still continue to give the Great American Farm Journal to all our subscribers who pay in advance. Think of it. Two papers for the price of one, and only $1.00, too.

A chorus which will probably be the largest he has ever heard, is to be organized to sing for President Roosevelt when he comes to Wilkesbarre on August 10, to make the address to the Mine Workers and the delegates to the Catholic Total Abstinence Union.

Work was started Monday by contractors Barry & Caldwell on the preliminary work prior to building the substructure for the new spans of the Catawissa bridge and for raising the spans already there.

The big free street parade promised by the Sig. Sautelle and Welsh Brothers Combined Shows is said to be noticeable for the display of beautiful horses and ponies. Over two hundred fine specimens of horse flesh are carried by the show.

WANTED—MEN AND WOMEN in this and adjoining counties for home or traveling work, representing and advertising the Wholesale and Educational Departments of a old established Manufacturing House. Salary $3.50 per day with expenses advanced. Rig furnished when necessary; position permanent; references exchanged. Address: Bieng Brothers & Co., Home Dept., Chicago, Ill. 5-5-705

Madam Paul Hartman and son, Edward Baldy, of Paris, France, are the guests of her sister, Mrs. I. H. Jennings, on West Market street.

Several days ago an Intelligencer reporter was informed by one of Danville's representative physicians and surgeons, that the health of the people of the town was indeed excellent.

The Busy Plan's Garden.

Most busy men leave their garden early in the morning and get back late in the evening. But they generally have one or two hours of daylight and Saturday afternoon in which they can find health, pleasure and profit, by digging it out of the front and back yards. The only reason many men do not have fine lawns and gardens is because they are too busy. Here are some suggestions for those who desire to work small city lots.

Let the front some climbers will be wanted to drape and shade the porch or veranda. For a south side or end the Virginia Creeper will give a dense shade, and there is nothing better for the purpose; on the north east or west, may be planted Clematis paniculata or C. Jackmanni, and Hall's Honey-suckle is very desirable. If the house is a brick or stone the Japan Ampelopsis or Boston Ivy can be planted at the base of the wall and it will quickly furnish a large space with its shining green foliage if the house is a wooden one the same vine can be planted to run in the foundation wall and be kept restricted to that. This produces a very pleasing effect.

There is no room at the front of the lot for large trees, but near the corner most remote from the house may be planted an Althea or Rose of Sharon, or a Japan Quince. The rest of the front is free—merely the lawn. Opposite the middle of the house and on the far side of the lot near the line may be a little group of flowering plants, such as Weigela roses, Spiraea and Hardy Hydrangeas, these will give bloom from early to late.

On the back lot may be planted some hardy climbing vines, or if not they will be covered by foliage or shrubbery. Around the lines of the back lot, sides and end, make a garden border for hardy shrubs and flowering plants. This border may be a uniform width of four or five feet, but the straight lines will look somewhat stiff so, instead of running the line of the border straight, make it waving, running in and out, in easy, gentle curves, making the border from four to seven feet in width and there will be from seventy-five to a hundred feet of it in length, according to the size of the lot. Here are to be planted flowering shrubs and hardy flowering plants. Your nursery man will tell you what is best suited to your climate. The rest of the ground is to be kept an open lawn.

One of the Japanese poems translated, read as follows: "My darling, I cannot live without thee."

Weep no more, my little darling, I beg thee;
Weep no more, for I'll return to thee,
Dry thy eyes, although the sea divide us;
Sweet words of love shall reach thee
Yet far from me."

George W. VanGilder, who died in Trevorton and was brought to this city for burial, was consigned to the grave in the Lutheran cemetery yesterday forenoon. The funeral took place from the residence of W. H. Jones, street, at 10 o'clock and was largely attended.

The services were conducted by Rev. E. B. Dunn, pastor of the United Evangelical Church. The choir of the same church was present and sang several selections.

The pall bearers were members of Goodrich Post No. 23, G. A. R., survivors of the 132nd and of the 19th Regiment, in both of which the deceased served during the Civil War. Representing the 132nd Regiment were David Ruckle, O. B. Switzer and Thomas Jones; other pall bearers, survivors of the 19th, were: Walter DeShay, William Wallace and G. W. Jackson.

The deceased was laid by the side of his wife who preceded him to the grave fourteen years ago.

The following relatives from out of town attended the funeral: William VanGilder, East Orange, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas VanGilder, and daughters Francis and Mamie of Northumberland; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. VanGilder, sons Thomas and Calvin, and daughters Lulu, Ruth and Carrie of Trevorton.

Getting New Business.
The old-fashioned idea that it would be contrary to the ethics of banking for a conservative financial institution to make a public bid for new business through newspaper advertising has been pretty effectively exploded. Bank advertising is almost as common nowadays as shoe or grocery advertising, and equally effective. The Philadelphia Record cites the experience of the Commercial State bank of Grand Island, Nebraska, as typical. By four years of dignified publicity it has built up a volume of deposits equal to that which it took a competitor 20 years to accumulate. It is an easy to influence people in the disposition of their savings as it is to guide them in their spending.

PAIR OF JAPANESE WERE FOUND DEAD

NEW YORK, May 10.—Side by side in the morgue a Japanese woman and man lie dead today. The man has a bullet wound behind the left ear and the woman has a wound in her breast and another in her head.

The names of the dead pair are unknown but the police are convinced that the man shot and killed the woman and then committed suicide in the Dry Dock hotel where their bodies were found.

They registered there as "Myron Lewis and wife, New York," yesterday morning. In the killing the woman the Japanese man killed her but extinguished it with his bare hands, burning himself severely. He then ended his own life.

Poet and philosopher was the Japanese and from verses and quotations from Hazley and Spencer he and his pocket it is believed that he and the woman may be the victims of a love tragedy. Some of the poems were written in English, German and in Japanese.

One of the Japanese poems translated, read as follows: "My darling, I cannot live without thee."

Weep no more, my little darling, I beg thee;
Weep no more, for I'll return to thee,
Dry thy eyes, although the sea divide us;

Lovelessness in Wash Fabrics

The beauty of the new Wash Goods brings them in such popular demand that they no longer take second place where a nice costume is wanted. The designs are so neat and the colorings so dainty and fine silk threads are interwoven in such a myriad of fanciful ways that one can hardly help believing that they are only cotton—the imitation of silks and wool goods are the prettiest ever brought out—then too they are goods—serviceable kinds we say for they will wash and do up again without losing their beauty.

A Few Facts Concerning the Sig. Sautelle and Welsh Brothers Combined Railroad Shows.

The superb scenic displays exhibit by the Sig. Sautelle and Welsh Brothers Combined Railroad Shows this year and who will appear at Danville (weekly, May 16th, present a most striking contrast to the popular priced tinted exhibits of other combined shows of the day. Never before have so many new novelties of the highest merit been brought together in one thing; it is an entire space within the enormous canvas being fairly alive with a myriad of new displays, novel performances and thrilling exploits of such positive originality and daring as to give this department of their show a new character. Not only in point of size, merit and novelty do the Sig. Sautelle and Welsh Brothers entertainments excel, but the system upon which their shows are conducted is keeping with the superior character of the features presented. From the time of the arrival of the first advance courier announcing the coming of the show, to the departure of the train after the accomplishment of its exhibit, there is observed a system of rigid regularity, a strict, honest and moral deportment in all things. A big free street parade is one of the selected attractive sights to be given at 10 a. m. on the day of the performance.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.
All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys every ten minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do this, and the waste or impurities remain in the blood, and cause kidney trouble. Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It is used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists.
