

SOLOMON DERK'S STRANGE RIDE

Among the visitors to this city yesterday was Solomon Derk of Shamokin, a man who in a remarkable way illustrates that bodily infirmity, even though the most grievous affliction, need not necessarily embitter a man to the world and cut off his capacity for enjoyment.

Solomon Derk is seventy-eight years of age. In addition he has not walked for twenty-two years, being a victim of paralysis and disabled from the hips down. He is a very interesting person and a very capable man, who is now being transported by a covered wagon and employing a driver to take him wherever he wishes to go. Thus he is able to enjoy many an extended trip out among the green fields and over the country roads that he knew in early life, visiting old friends by the way.

Yesterday he passed through Danville in his comfortable bed-wagon on his way to Moresburg, where Mr. Derk said he knew the Moser family and would call upon them. The wagon was in charge of George O. Aman, a Condemner of the Tenth Ward of Shamokin. They left Shamokin yesterday morning and arrived in Danville via the free ferry about 11 o'clock. During the short sojourn in this city Mr. Derk found time to renew acquaintances with several friends. The old man lying on his couch became very reminiscent and dwelt with animation upon the more active days of his life when he served an enlistment in the 10th Regiment in the Civil War or made his living as a single-maker in the woods of Columbia and Northumberland counties.

Mr. Derk spent many years of his life in the vicinity of what is known as the "Derk Settlement" lying between Millville and Pine Summit, Columbia County. He was a famous single-maker in the days when shingles were worked out by hand. When in his prime, he said yesterday, he built up great records in the woods. It was his boast that more than once he had taken a tree growing in the woods, cut it down and worked out 1000 shingles, all in one half a day.

Mr. Derk does not like Shamokin. He says the town is "too noisy" and the object of his visit to Moresburg is to see whether he can not rent a house at that place. Failing at Moresburg, where he thinks he would also like to live.

Solomon Derk lying on his bed passed through Danville nearly two years ago. He was then on his way to Watsonstown to visit some old friends.

A Representative Amusement Enterprise.

The Sig. Sautelle and Welsh Brothers Combined Railroad Shows and Menagerie, which is carded to appear here shortly has never defaulted in a single promise to pay or to please. They have kept in the middle of the road, and have never departed into by-paths. They have stood like a beacon light for many years, and are grand in leaving the best of everything. Its performers are a galaxy of stars; its animal actors a high class of brutes learning its tents among the largest and best equipped; its parade one of the most novel and elaborate; its menagerie one of the most complete collections of rare and wild beasts in the world, and its ensemble the finest of all latter day shows. This big union of shows will exhibit at Danville Tuesday, May 16th.

Juniors Play Ball.

A game of base ball was played on the Mill Mill grounds Saturday between the Third Ward Juniors and the Second Ward Juniors. The score was 21 to 10 in favor of the Third Ward.

NEW BUILDINGS ARE COMPLETED

The rebuilding and many alterations on foot at the stove works are practically completed. The new additions give the plant quite a changed appearance on the exterior, while on the inside in addition to the increased space there are improved facilities and rearrangement of departments that will add to convenience and indirectly assist in improved showing.

The annex to the foundry was the first portion completed. The floors are all in shape and now moulders are being employed as fast as they arrive. From some eighty, at present employed, the number will be increased to a hundred or over. As at present arranged there is no more commodious, better ventilated or better lighted shop in the country. To facilitate work and make it easier for the moulders a trolley system is contemplated and will probably be installed very soon to convey the iron from the cupola to the various floors. Instead of being laboriously carried by hand to the remote end of the foundry, the heavy ladles of molten metal will be suspended from an overhead trolley and pushed along with scarcely any effort.

The capacity of the mounting room has been doubled by the addition of another story. Several new moulders have already been employed and more will be taken on later. The second story in the mounting department is one of the most desirable apartments about the whole plant, being well lighted, airy and decorated with a coat of whitewash. Several new machines have been installed in the mounting room while every department is being enlarged to keep pace with the increased capacity of the moulding department.

About a year ago the offices were removed from the first story to the second floor. Among other changes that followed, the supply department, presided over by William Flick, has also been removed from the first story and is now installed on the second floor of the main warehouse adjacent to the offices.

As a result of the enlargement and the improved facilities the product of the plant will be increased by at least one-third.

To Deliver Memorial Address.

Goodrich Post, No. 23, G. A. R., is gradually perfecting arrangements for Memorial Day.

Rev. W. R. Whitney, of Bloomsburg, has been invited to deliver the memorial address in the cemetery on Memorial Day. Invitations have also been extended to the local clergymen to speak during the ceremonies in the cemetery, each one limiting himself to a particular topic as has been customary in the past. The Keystone quartette will render appropriate music on the occasion.

An invitation has also been extended to school children to join the parade to the cemetery and a large number of these are expected to respond favorably. As on previous years the girls will wear white dresses with red and blue sashes; the boys will carry flags.

The beautiful ceremony of casting flowers on the graves of the local sailors who fell during the war will also be observed. This part of the ceremony will take place on the river bridge.

Fly screens, fly paper, flies and fly tins for the entire speckled beauties, is the order of things just now.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES FALLING OFF

The gymnasium classes of the Y. M. C. A. are falling off in attendance during the inviting Spring weather, which makes life out of doors more agreeable. Naturally summer sports loom up in the distance.

During an interview with Physical Director Carpenter yesterday it was learned that the gymnasium closes about June 1st. After that the regular sports will be resumed and the place of indoor exercise laid to rest.

The lawn tennis club has already been organized for the Summer with W. V. Oglesby, Esq., president; Professor U. L. Gordy, Secretary, and C. V. Amerman, Esq., Treasurer. The old grounds on West Mahoning street have been leased for the season and the courts have been placed in excellent condition. The first game will probably be played today. The tennis club while not under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. is yet connected with it in the sense that no one can become a member of it that does not belong to the Y. M. C. A. It is very popular and affords in the aggregate an immense amount of wholesome recreation.

Although the question of grounds is undecided, yet the outlook for a good season's sport at base ball in connection with the Y. M. C. A. is very promising. The Association expects to be able to maintain two teams, made up of skillful players.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. classes last year got lots of sport out of their swimming excursions in the river. Some seven members who had not acquired the art learned to swim very expertly under the instruction of Professor Carpenter. Swimming classes, therefore, will be organized this season just as soon as the water becomes warm enough for the sport.

The cross country walks will also be resumed after the gymnasium closes. These early morning strolls taking in seven to ten miles last season were much enjoyed by and proved very beneficial to business men and others occupied during the remainder of the day with their work.

Workman's Bad Injury.

Roy Livingstone, a young man who from Maine, employed in installing machinery at the power mill at Catawissa, met with a bad accident yesterday. While working about one of the machines his hand was caught in the belt and all the fingers severed.

GRAND JURY SUS-TAINS EXCEPTION

Now that the river bridge is completed and will be thrown open to the public a week hence it becomes a matter of importance that the approach be fixed up in good shape at the earliest possible date. As a matter of fact a great deal of work remains to be done at each end before persons can drive on or off the bridge with anything like ease or safety.

The Danville approach will have to be paved to conform with Mill street, of which it is a part and this expense, it is generally conceded, will have to be borne by the county. A good deal of work will be involved as in addition to the necessary grading a retaining wall will have to be built on the west side in line with the wing wall of the bridge.

On the south side, however, the problem is a much more complicated one and here is an actual hold up. It will be recalled that the viewers appointed by the Court reported in favor of the county building the two long retaining walls, leaving the township to bear the expense of filling up. Later the Court made a decree declaring the retaining walls to be a county improvement, the expense of building to be borne by the county as are county bridges and the like.

The County Commissioners, however, filed exceptions to the viewers' report and to the Judge's approval. In order to satisfy the Commissioners the court permitted the matter to go before the Grand Jury at the next term, instructing that body that in the premises the order of the court to build the wall would have to stand. The Grand Jury, however, sustained the Commissioners' exceptions and that is the status of the case at present.

How long the hold up will last is not known, but in view of the fact that the court has declared the approach to be a county improvement it is regarded as a certainty that the County Commissioners will have to carry the Charles Chalfant, attorney for the township, will move to strike off the exceptions and an effort will be made to carry the work under way at the earliest possible date.

Birthday Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Appelman entertained a number of young people at their home in Valley township on Saturday evening in honor of their daughter Alice's birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Conway and son Leroy, Misses Laura, Rachel, Alice and Emma Fenstermacher, Jennie Cornelison, Rebecca Appelman, Anna Murray, Rebecca Quigg, Ada Edna, Mary Beyer, Nora Cooper, Edna Lewis, Margaret Payne, Margaret Nephew, Winnie Beyer, Ada Conway, Iona Hendricks, Hannah Fry, Julia Geringer, Susie Keiser, Messrs. Harry Marr, Samuel Umstead, William, Charles, Frank and Horace Appelman, Clyde and William Roberts, Bert Olson, J. L. Miller, Frank and Eugene Fry, Oliver Cope, Luther Forwalt, Arthur Lewis, William Parker, Warren Fenstermacher, Raymond Beyer, Jesse and George Hendrickson, Myron Beyer, Freeman Robbins, Herbert Hendricks, George Hart, Ed. and Lorenza Delate, Roy and William Ertstadt.

Provisional Agreement.

The Kiag Bridge Company, through their representative, and the Clinton County Commissioners, have reached a provisional agreement in the matter of the Dauphin County court in the matter of the petition which will be presented to that court by the county looking forward to the reconstruction of the bridge by the state, in accordance with the provisions of the "Road" bill recently signed by the Governor, which applies to the Millville bridge conditions.

FOR THE CARE OF THE INJURED

The first "Hospital" car on the Lackawanna railroad went into service Friday last on the Bloomsburg division. It is a model of its kind and will be stationed at Kingston. In case of accident it can be easily moved to any point and the victim or victims of an accident removed to their homes in comfort.

This new car for the injured is under the personal supervision of Dr. R. H. Lake, district surgeon of the company.

This car has formerly been used as a passenger coach, but has been remodelled, painted and tastefully arranged in a light yellow, and varnished so that it presents a cheerful appearance without and within.

On either side of the car, near the center, is a sliding door, through the injured being received.

There are steam heat attachments, a high pressure brake, and every convenience for making the injured as comfortable as possible. There are six upholstered couches, covered with black enamel cloth, with pillows of the same material. Each bed is affixed firmly to the floor, each being two feet six inches in width, by six feet six inches in length. There is a space of about one foot between each. A number of stretchers are also provided, simple in construction, yet most useful, for the unfortunate victim of a railroad or mine accident is moved but once from the time of the injury until he is placed upon his own bed at home or in the hospital.

At one end of the car is a commodious cupboard, in which are kept medicines, surgical appliances, while directly opposite is a stationary wash stand and above it is a water cooler. At the other end of the car is located four coach seats.

There are numerous ventilating windows near the ceiling while the usual windows of a passenger coach are arranged along the sides the entire length. The car was built under the supervision of master car builder R. F. McKenna, in the Scranton shops.

The work of rendering systematized first aid to the injured in that section originated several years ago with the Lackawanna road, and this outfit for the maintenance of the hospital car is another step toward perfection of this necessary work.

The car also is furnished with the necessary cards of instruction, so that anyone will know what to do until the physician arrives.

EXPERT PRESENTS HIS REPORT

Our readers will be glad to learn that the Borough electric light plant, which was passed upon by an expert, is a pronounced success. W. Irwin Chevney, of Philadelphia, who during a three days' visit to this city recently subjected the plant to a most rigid test has presented his report.

Addressing the members of the Electric Light Committee Mr. Chevney states that he finds the engine to conform with the specifications in every respect; it has ample horse power to do our work at 65 pounds boiler pressure; the regulation of speed is first class and the engine is doing its work in a very satisfactory manner.

He finds the generator for capacity, heat limits, speed and efficiency to be all within specifications. The switch board, exciter, regulators and connections are all in good shape; the workmanship is good and the whole job is safe and conforms to the specifications.

On inspection the lines were found in good condition and the work is being well done. The arc lamps are steady and free from noise as possible.

Mr. Chevney made a few recommendations that relate to some details. Summing up he said: "On the whole your engine, generator, switch board, regulators, lamps and lines are in good shape, the work has been well done and will compare very favorably with any similar plant installed either as municipal or private plant."

Rev. Bryner Transferred.

Presiding Elder Amos S. Baldwin has transferred the Rev. Charles W. Bryner from the Washingtonville charge to Buckhorn, to take effect on once. The Rev. John A. Miller, of Watsonstown, a local preacher, will supply the Washingtonville charge. This is according to the Presiding Elder's original plan at the Conference, but as Mr. Bryner's people at Washingtonville so strongly urged his return and a possible new parsonage being somewhat conditioned upon his remaining, the Bishop reappointed him to that charge. Presiding Elder Baldwin has made constant efforts since adjournment of Conference to provide a suitable pastor for Buckhorn charge, but has not been able to do so except by the above change. The Rev. Mr. Bryner is a popular and successful minister and Buckhorn charge is very fortunate to secure his services. He will probably move to the parsonage at Buckhorn next week.
