Many Uses for Engine.

The Borough traction engine proves to be a pretty useful piece of machinery. It is indeed quite surprising how different uses it can be put to. dug. It was soon found that it could be used to an advantage as a steam plow in breaking up the hard macad-am on streets that were to be paved. There was also work for it to do in operating the stone orusher when it erete needed in street paving. Yesterday the old engine's sphere of useful-ness was enlarged by being made to as-sist in digging the sewer extension on Lower Mulberry street. It could not go down into the trench, it is true, but was used to excellent advantage in was used to excellent advantage in cutting through the course of cinder and iron stone which forms the road-bed, dragging the plow backwards and forwards over the same spot ontil a deep furrow was formed, below which it was easy digging. By means of the engine yesterday the sewer took a big stride forward, the ground being brok en as far as Pine street.

A MENTAL PUZZLE.

nn Attack of Illness. Speaking of instances of double con-ciousness, Mental Science notes the following case:

The patient was a girl, twenty-two years of age. She suffered from some affection that may have been menin-gitis, but this is not known positively. She then developed agute maniagal exarrection that may have been meningitis, but this is not known positively. Sike then developed acute maniacal excitation. During this illness the patient presented some remarkable changes of personality—such as are seen in hysteria. The author does not term the curious maniferstations by this name, but describes some nine or more different varieties of personality manifested by the patient that are quite interesting. Thus the patient had spells of blindness, deafness, paralysis, etc. The most interesting of these manifestations, because the least easy to explain, was the patient's ability to draw the full figure of a nurse, etc. during her spell of blindness. To convince himself that this was the actual case the author held a book between the patient's eyes and the sheet of paper on which she was drawing or put his hands before her eyes while she was drawing without in any way interfering with her drawing. Her sense of touch was highly sensitive during that period; she could detect a line drawn across her drawing paper, dates written at the ton of her drawing paper.

A Servile House of Lords.

When King Henry VIII.'s name was spoken in his presence in the house of lords every peer prostrated himself with Aslatic servility. An entry in the records of the house gives the substance of a speech delivered by the chancellor on Jan. 16, 1541, in which the king's goodness and wisdom are articled, and it tells us that whenever his majesty was mentioned, "which his majesty was mentioned, "w happened often," all the lords p trated themselves, bowing to ground as one man.

Force of the Future.
Cut off the future, and man is the most timid of creatures. The demonst and dragons are too terrible for him to face and attack. But spread before to face and attack. But spread before him the illimitable future, and he will dare all things, certain of victory at last. Any night, however filled with weeping, can be endured by one who knows that joy is coming in the morn-

A FAMOUS STAR GROUP.

A FAMOUS STAR GROUP.

The Constellation Orion is Legend and Literature.

The constellation Orion is mentioned in the literature of all ages. In Egypt it represented Horus, the young or rising sun, in a boat surmounted by stars, closely followed by Sirius, which was shown as a cow. It has also been found sculptured on the walls of Thebes 5,000 years ago. And on the men of that early time it shone down from the same position and with the same brightness as it does on us today, a striking example of the unchangeableness of the heavens.

From the days of the early Hindoos to the present the constellation has for to the present the constellation has for some reason borne always a stormy character. Allusions to its direful influ-ence are found everywhere among the classic writers. Thus Milton wrote:

It Reminded Him.

The best remedy against a lapse of memory is the piece of thread tied about the finger. But there is a well authenticated case of a man whose wife tied a piece of thread around his finger in the morning to remind him to get his hair cut.

Establishing homes for aged mem ers, now being promoted in Western Pennsylvania, received the commenda tion of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum at Atlantic City on Thursday. The executive committee was given power to change the laws order to legalize the homes. The council condemned the "branch" order which use the title Arcanum to obtain members, and the council will give close attention to the formation of these associations in future. The New York delegation wanted the $1,000 benefit abolished, but the resolution was voted down. Failure also followed a plan for changing the time of payment of dues. A memorial resolu-tion was adopted in regard to the death of General Fitzhugh Lee, who, at the last meeting of the Arcanum greeted the delegates and presented the presiding officer with a gavel made from wood from the historic James town church.

ENGLISH SOCIETY WOMEN.

Caustle Comment on Their Love of Drugs and Liquor.

A prominent London journal prints the following indictment of the habits of many English society women: "A generation back it was among the lower classes we found intemperance rife, and then it was the beer of the people which supplied the means; to-day we find intemperance rampant from the highest to the lowest, the vehicle being alcohol, impure and simple, vile concoctions labeled indifferently brandy, whisky, gin. Our wearled, jaded votaries of pleasure seek temporary recuperation from these impure sources; then, when their day is done, they resort to their sulphonal, trional, morphia or what not in the vain hope of a night's good rest.
