A meeting of the coal operators of all these states has been called to take place November 32ad at Chicago, when plans will be completed for the great-est lockout in the history of the world. This arrangement is intended to crush the United Mine Workers of America

There exists among the Western Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio and Illineis coal operators an agreement known as the interstate agreement, whereby the operators annually meet the United Mine Workers of the varfous districts and settle on a mining rate for the year. The anthracite coal operators are unwilling to deal with the miners' union, and have about 3), 00 miners employed in Eastern Penn sylvania under individual contracts.

All the wage scales in these states expire April 1: in fact, nearly all the scales of the country expire or that date. It is to meet this crisis that the meeting has been called in Chi-cago next November. The miners are getting better wages than ever in the history of the industry, taking work-ing facilities into consideration The interstate price is based on 85 cents per ton for soft coal mined and run h and one-quarter screen Some of the Western coal operator want this reduced to 70 cents a ton and the miners will meet with this proposal in January at the wage con-ference. The eastern operators will not be represented at this January gathering. It is believed that the miners rep resentatives will refuse to accept th reduction, and the mines will be clos ed down until one side or the other i

As a result, the authracite querators have begun piling up coal, and will fill their docks at both ends of the lakes, and will load every boat, barge and scow obtainable with coal betwee now and April 1. The operators have reached an understanding whereby n contracts are to be accepted for coal between now and April 1 for delivery after April 1.

cuffed, was in charge of Chief-of-Police Mincemoyer, while Sheriff George Maiers followed with George Crossley, who although a prisoner, was not charged with jail breaking but was wanted as a witness

The hearing was conducted by District Attorney Ralph Kiener. The information was read, and the men arraigned were asked whether they had anything to say, whether guilty or not guilty, at the same time the usual precaution being taken to remind them caution being taken to remind them of their prerogative in the matter and to warn them that what they said might be used against them. All three of the men—Sees, Halderman and Bar-rett—pleaded 'Not Guilty.''

Sheriff George Maiers was the first witness sworn. He decribed the at tempt to break jail as printed in these columns Tuesday morning, emphasiz-ing the fact, that it was only in Sees' and Halderman's cell that he found any of the bars sawed. George Crossley the principal wit ness, followed the Sheriff. George who is held on a charge of assault and battery, was out a couple of days last week on his own recognizance to at tend his mother's funeral. On Satur tend his mother's teneral. On Saturday he had resumed his place behind the bars. Being sworn, George testified that he knew of the attempt made by Sees, Haldenman and Barrett to escape. He related how the saws came in through the rear window. Sees, Halderman and Barrett, he said were all three in the plot to escape. He was quite sure, however, that Barrett had coes in chasing the hobby horses around coes in chasing the hobby horses around and keeping up music on the hand organ as it was in pumping water or dragging the road plow.

The most sensational part of Cross The most sensational part of Cross-ley's testimony occurred when he ex-plained the purpose to which the heavy chair leg, secreted above the cage door was to be applied by the prisoners in their attempt to escape. It was a part of their plan that Cros ley was to play off sick—that was all they asked of him. Taking advantage of the liberty accorded them Sees was to be out in the small corridor between the cells cleaning up things.

Crossley's agonizing cries were to summon the Sheriff, who unsuspectingly was relied upon as was his wont to unlock the cage door and enter. At this moment, according to Crossley Sees was to seize the club and dea Sees was to seize the clob and deal the Sheriff a blow upon the head, after which the official was to be dragged back into the cage by the men, who had sawed their way out of the cells; the cage door was to be relocked and safe beyond the possibility of discovery and pursuit the prisoners were to walk out of jail.

This part of the testimony will be received with a great deal of surprise, as Sees at the hearing of Seitz and Hahn, arrested as confederates a week ago, disclaimed all connection with the attempt to break jail and gave testimony, which was instrumental in olding those two for trial. Beyond his plea of "not guilty" Barrett maintained a silence during the hearing. He frequently shifted his position to use the spittoon behind him and as the hearing proceeded rose hearing. Halderman was of a much more excitable disposition and was inclined to talk.
