

NEW METHOD OF SOLICITING

The Soldiers' Monument Committee from now on will adopt a new method in the soliciting of funds. The solicitors have carried the house to house canvass to what they consider the limit, having approached as many heads of families as possible. The large number that they were unable to see are men employed at our various industries, working either on day or night turn. The object now is to meet these men and the following plan has been decided upon.

If agreeable to the management the committee will visit the men at the various works in town, selecting as far as possible the noon hour or some other period that will interfere little or not at all with the work.

The Danville Store and Manufacturing Company was the one to take the initiative in the matter and the committee was given full permission to enter the works. The committee has already canvassed several departments of the Store Works, but it has the foundry yet to see. The noon hour will be employed during some day this week in soliciting from the moulders.

The committee is much gratified at the success attending this method and see in it a solution of the whole difficulty of raising money needed for the Soldiers' Monument. They have hopes that those in charge of the other industries of town will follow the example of General Manager W. A. Seehler and graciously permit the solicitors to see the employes at the works, which is about the only time that many of these capable and generous fellows can be seen by the committee.

Hon. James Foster, President of the Soldiers' Monument Committee, states that it was decided at the last meeting to print later on the full list of contributors to the monument found in the daily newspaper.

MINOR MATTERS OF INTEREST

During yesterday afternoon while things were very dull out of doors and the rain drops pattered drearily on the window pane a few old timers gathered around Commissioners' Clerk Horace Blue and began to talk over old times. Somebody wanted to know what became of the deer that used to be kept on the Court House lawn when the ground was enclosed with a high picket fence of iron. Another wanted to know how long ago the deer were removed.

Now the general Commissioners' Clerk is not only an authority on County government, on politics and the laws governing election, but he also has a rich fund of other information on hand. Coming back to the deer, he said, they were an attraction about the Court House until about 1890, when they were sold. They were there for many years. During the interval two little fawns were added to the number and grew up to maturity.

In 1876, the old buck, known as "Colonel," met a tragic death. The story is a remarkable one, but Horace vouches for its truth. It was late in the fall—the day after the election. The news had just reached the Court House that Samuel J. Tilden was elected. It is a tradition that at the very moment when the result of the election was announced the buck, always contented and at peace at the Court House before, with a single bound leaped out of the grounds and escaped.

Another matter but it is a fact that the big buck on that day leaped over the high fence and escaped to the woods. The old fellow did not enjoy his freedom very long. The next day he was shot by Clinton Yorks, a farmer of Rush township, who mistook the buck for a wild deer and did not find out his mistake until some time later. The deer, it was discovered, had struck the pickets in trying to clear the fence and had injured himself pretty badly.

The fair season brings into this section of the state an influx of thieves, pickpockets and shoplifters. They have become a nuisance and a curse, and the several fair managements ought to organize to break up the business. There is an epidemic of petty thieving in the wake of every fair, merchants are annoyed and suffer serious loss by the depredations of shoplifters, and the invidious pickpocket is a constant menace to those who attend these annual exhibitions. The apprehension of a few of them by a force of detectives would tend to keep them away. A move in the right direction has been made, however, by the Bloomsburg Fair Association, in securing the services of two Pinkerton detectives who will be on the lookout for any operations by this class of thieves.

One of the finest corn crops ever known in the State is being husked now, and farmers are chucking over the immense yield. The corn has all been cut and the appearance of the frost did not catch anyone napping. The reports from all over Montour and neighboring counties are generally of a fine corn crop and other products of the autumn looking well. The apple and pear crops are beating expectations in some parts where the frost dropped and the potato crop is a fine one. Pomplings are reported good.

Birthday Party.
A party was given at the home of William M. Heddens, West Mahoning street, Friday evening, in honor of the 62nd birthday of Mrs. O. Sweney. Refreshments were served and a most delightful evening spent. Many presents were received. Those present were: Mrs. Peter Mottern, Mrs. Charles Hemery, Mrs. Lloyd Cashner, Mrs. Jennie Mottern, Mrs. M. J. Ing, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. A. H. Haupt, Miss Hoats, Mrs. Persing, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mottern and son Marvin, Mrs. Heller and daughter Bertha, Miss Amanda Shearer, Mrs. W. A. Arthur Heddens and Miss Beulah Heddens.

STATE BOARD APPEALED TO

Dr. P. O. Newbaker, President of the Board of Health, was interviewed yesterday on the subject of the old canal, which occupied so much time his attention at its last session. His attention was called to the action of Council requesting the local Board of Health to take cognizance of the unhealthy condition of the old water way and to lay the matter before the State Board of Health.

Dr. Newbaker stated that already on two occasions the local Board of Health had declared the old canal a nuisance, which seemed to be the limit of their action. In the present instance the local Board have gone further and forwarded a communication to the State Board of Health, apprising that body of the action of Council Friday night and asking for enlightenment as to what further action would be advisable in the premises. A reply is awaited with a good deal of interest.

It seems pretty evident that from now on the canal matter will be agitated pretty vigorously. The nuisance in the vicinity of Mill street is bad enough, but it is no comparison to conditions which exist at the upper end of the Borough, where the bottom of the canal is filled with sewage which impregnates the atmosphere all along its course. A member of Council is authority for the statement that at the next term the old canal will be returned to court as a nuisance by the constables of each of the wards by which it is intersected.

Child's Narrow Escape.
The fourteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Aten, D. L. & W. avenue, has been in an exceedingly critical condition since Monday afternoon as the result of having swallowed corrosive sublimate, a violent poison. Nothing but the administering of emetics and the timely arrival of the physician saved the child from a horrible death.

On Monday afternoon the child's mother had occasion to open one of the closets of the house. While she was handling some of the contents of the upper shelves her little daughter, folding at her feet got hold of the bottle of the deadly poison on the lower shelf. Before the mother realized what had occurred the child had placed the bottle to her mouth and swallowed some of the contents.

Corrosive sublimate has a harsh irritating action on the body tissue, and the child instantly began to suffer from the dose. Mrs. Aten called in some of the neighbors and a quantity of milk and whites of eggs were administered as quickly as possible. Dr. Paules responded to a hurry call and found the child in a very critical condition, during which it remained all night. The effect of the poison was to ulcerate the throat as the result of which the little one nearly strangled.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Paules stated that the child was better and he believed that it would recover.

Dunn's Favorable Report.
Dunn's Weekly Review prints the following favorable report in the current issue:
"Favorable trade reports still predominate and there is no anxiety regarding the future. Higher temperatures checked retail distribution of heavy wearing apparel and other seasonal merchandise, but preparations for unprecedented fall and winter trade continue without diminution. Speculators are noted in commenting on real estate transactions, building permits, bank exchanges and railway earnings, and failure statistics for the third quarter show a very low commercial death rate. Industrial activity increases, a large tonnage of new business assuring full time at the steel mills still further into next year; foot wear shops show much heavier shipments than in 1904, and the textile factories are well engaged. Better crop news weakened cotton and grain prices slightly, but there will be enormous profits to the growers even if quotations go still lower. No serious weakness is feared, no matter how large the production, owing to the interest of exporters. Latest reports of railroad earnings in September show a small gain of 7 per cent. over last year's figures, and foreign commerce New York port provided an increase of $3,178,260 in imports, and a gain of $22,591 in exports as compared with the same week of 1904."

Bloomsburg Fair.
The Columbia County Agricultural Society will hold its 51st annual exhibition on October 10-11-12 and 13. From all indications the coming fair will eclipse all former ones. An attractive speed program has been arranged as follows: Wednesday, October 11, 2:15 P. M. Exp. 2:27 Trotting and 2:40 class for County horses. Thursday, October 12, 2:15 P. M. Exp. 2:17 Trotting, 2:31 Pacing and free for all county horses. Friday, October 13, 2:10 Class, 2:22 Trotting and 2:30 Pacing.

Free attractions will consist of Parker's Trained Dogs, White and Lamb Art Acrobats, and Tessor on Wire and Trapeze, making six acts, daily in front of grand stand.

The Poultry department will be a show in itself.

All are most cordially invited to continue contributing to the success of the Fair by exhibiting the products of the Farm and Household.

Hadley's Moving Pictures.
The most recent moving pictures will be seen here Saturday night when Edwin J. Hadley gives his entertaining exhibition. The pictures will cover a wide range of subjects including the funny "chases," which are so popular with theatre-goers. Mr. Hadley needs no introduction, as he has, in the past delighted hundreds of them with his well shown pictures. He will give the performance at Armory Hall, under the auspices of Company F.

The ministers of Shalom have inaugurated a campaign against sin. They will find plenty to do.

MATTHEW LAW'S SUDDEN DEATH

Matthew Law, an old and nearly life long resident of Danville, died suddenly from heart failure while sitting on the barber shop of Edward S. Young, at Sunbury.

For the last year or so the deceased was living with his daughter, Mrs. Edward Keefe, of No. 215, Awt street, Sunbury. He paid his last visit to Danville about July 24, spending a few days with his son, Joseph, on Hemlock street.

Mr. Law, who was eighty years of age last July, left the home of his daughter at about 9:30 o'clock in his usual health, and when he arrived at the barber shop, he appeared to be in a fatigued condition. He was assisted into the shop by a stranger, when he began to struggle for breath. Mr. Young immediately summoned Dr. H. M. Becker, who lives nearby, but it was too late.

When the doctor arrived, the last spark of life had fled.

The deceased was a soldier in the Civil War, and served with distinction in Company K, 173 Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers.

He is survived by nine children, as follows: Joseph and Daniel, of Danville; Matthew of Milton; Mrs. Katherine Hamilton, of Reading; James and Robert of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Philip Deck, of Schuylkill Haven; and Martin and Mrs. E. E. Keefe, of Sunbury.

Leaving for Burnham.
Arthur Dietrich and family will move to Burnham tomorrow, where for several months Mr. Dietrich has been filling a position with the Logan Iron and Steel Company. Mr. Dietrich was formerly connected with the Reading Iron Works in this city as inspector and shipper.

EXPRESS COMPANY ROBBED OF $100,000

PITTSBURG, Oct. 11.—The startling discovery was made late yesterday that the Adams Express Company had been victimized to the extent of $100,000, supposedly through the peculations of an employe.

The following official statement of the affair is given the press for publication:
"At 4:15 p. m. Monday, October 9, a bank of Pittsburg, Pa., delivered to the Adams Express Company at their office at 6210 Wood street, Pittsburg, a package of currency containing $100,000. Of this amount $80,000 was in $100 bills, $10,000 in $50 bills and the remainder, $10,000, in $5, $10, and $20 bills. The $10 and $50 bills, issue of the Farmers' Deposit National Bank, of Pittsburg, and the Bank of Pittsburg, N. A., were, in the main, entirely new; some had been slightly used. The $5, $10 and $20 bills were old currency. The package containing this large sum of money was consigned to a bank in Cincinnati."

"This package was received and receipted for by Edward George Cunliffe who was then acting in the place of the regular money clerk, who was ill. "Cunliffe left the office at the usual time last evening and this morning, when he failed to report for duty, a hurried examination was made of his department and it was learned that about $1,000 of funds entrusted to his care were missing. General Agent Hiner, of the Adams Express Company, immediately called in detectives and placed the matter in their hands. Later developments brought to light the fact that in addition to the $1,000 missing the bank package containing the $100,000 had not been received at the money forwarding office at Union station, this city.

"Inquiries made at his residence, 314 Lucerne street, West End, Pittsburg, showed that Cunliffe arrived home at the customary time last evening and, after changing his clothes, had his family go to bed, saying to his wife that he was going out for the evening and nothing further has been heard from him.

VICTIM OF RAILROAD ACCIDENT DIES

Injuries sustained, as the result of a railroad accident, caused the death of Jesse Fetter, aged 21 years, of Winfield, at the Mary M. Packer Hospital in Sunbury, Tuesday night at half-past nine o'clock.

Fetter had business to transact in Lewisburg, Tuesday afternoon, and hitched up a colt to make the trip. At the Reading railroad crossing near Bucknell University, Lewisburg, which point was reached at about half past three o'clock, the colt became frightened at an approaching passenger train, and Fetter's efforts to control the animal, resulted in both the horse and driver landing on the railroad track in front of the engine pilot.

The engineer tried to stop the train but the intervening distance was too short and Fetter was caught under the wheels, sustaining terrible injuries. Both of his legs were ground off, and he was otherwise badly injured. The colt was instantly killed and the engine was derailed.

Fetter was taken to Sunbury and taken to the Mary M. Packer Hospital in the ambulance, where he was skillfully attended by surgeons and nurses, but his injuries were of such a serious nature that their efforts to thwart death were of no avail.

The remains were shipped to the home of the victim's parents at Winfield, where the funeral will be held on Friday morning at ten o'clock. The Patriotic Order Sons of America of which the deceased was an active member, will conduct the funeral.

D. H. S. FOOT BALL TEAM DEFEATED

The Danville H. S. foot ball team was defeated Saturday afternoon at DeWitt's Park by the team representing the Bloomsburg High School, in a hard fought game that reflected upon the local eleven nothing but glory.

Danville played their opponents to a standstill throughout both halves, it being in the last few minutes of the second half that Bloomsburg was able to score, and then by reason of a little hard luck coupled with a slight misjudgment on the part of the Danville team in rushing the ball when a kick might have taken the pig skin off of dangerous ground.

Both the offensive and defensive playing of the High School team surpassed the fondest hopes not only of the coaches, but of the players themselves. They did not know how strong they were. During the first few minutes of play Bloomsburg seemed to gain ground at will, but the stage fright soon wore off, and the D. H. S. line was practically impregnable. After this it was only by end runs that Bloomsburg could consistently advance the ball.

Some hard practice will be given the team this week, and an endeavor made to eliminate the faults shown in Saturday's play.

Birth and Death Record.

After January 1st, of next year, every birth and death in the state of Pennsylvania must be reported to the officer in charge of the district where it occurs and certificates issued by the authorities.

The late assembly appropriated $20,000 for the establishment of a central bureau of vital statistics to be under the supervision of the state board of health and have charge of the state registrar of births and deaths. The state will be divided into registration districts, one for each city, borough and township. The new department will relieve the assessors of a portion of work, as heretofore they have attended to the registration of births and deaths, receiving a fee of five cents for each one.

A state registrar, a medical practitioner for at least ten years will be at the head of this department, and a local registrar will preside over each district. All deaths must be promptly reported to him and no one can be interred until a death certificate has been issued, giving the name and address of death, parents' names and addresses, etc. Each birth must also be reported and a certificate issued. In case of plural births a certificate must be issued for each child. The local registrar provides all blanks and receives a fee of 25 cents for each birth and death recorded. The state registrar gets a salary of $5,000 per year with $8,000 for four assistants and $5,000 for incidental expenses.

BRITISH SHIP SUNK BY FLOATING MINE

TOKIO, Oct. 11.—A telegram from Moji says that the British steamer Loho struck a floating mine on September 30, ninety miles east of the Shanten light house, and was sunk. Fifteen of her passengers and crew are missing, two of whom are European engineers.

The German steamers Emstrav and Hans Wagner were seized by the Japanese yesterday off Funan and Nishito respectively. The steamers were bound for Vladivostok and it is alleged were carrying contraband of war.

Dr. Patten Moves to Danville.

Dr. R. S. Patten, of Washingtonville, yesterday moved to this city taking up his residence in the Bowerly property on West Market street. Dr. Patten's practice in Washingtonville will be taken up by Dr. Snyder, of New Columbia, of whom the Milton Standard has the following to say:
"We are exceedingly sorry to learn that our doctor is going to move out of our town. Dr. Snyder has built up a large practice here and is well liked. He certainly understands his profession."

Residence Painted.

George S. Tilton has just completed painting the residence of William M. Heddens, West Mahoning street. The colors employed are French grey and silver grey and the effect is much admired.

RICHARD SANG ANTIBELIUM SONGS

The following extract is from a letter written by George W. Ward of Philadelphia and printed in the "Record and Star" of Washington:
"Well, I want to thank you and all the boys up your way for the splendid manner in which you entertained my son, Ellsworth, and myself while on our trip over the Reading road, particularly Comrades Bower, Martz, Albright, Baker, Eggert and Montague. We certainly had a good time. Our stay of one day in Danville was well enjoyed, for under the patronage of Richard we saw and paired that town, and can now assure the boys that Richard is not a 'has been.'"

Through his invitation we spent the evening with two lady friends and were splendidly entertained by them singing and playing on the piano many of the wayback songs of our childhood as well as army days, among them being "Seeing Nellie Home," "Old Dan Tucker," "Last Rose of Summer," "Tramp, Tramp," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," etc. Richard also sang two or three antebelium songs and accompanied a little lot of a girl on the piano and banjo while she sang. Then at Tamagus, Mrs. Martz, in the absence of Joe, entertained us a couple of hours with a historic description of Tamagus, and had a realistic display of the fire companies of the town for our benefit.

We certainly did enjoy seeing the volunteer firemen "Jump Her Boys," as in our boyhood days we had so often done with the Rev. Aug. Hoop of Saratoga. Of course, it was all new to Ellsworth, as he never knew anything but paid firemen, as we have in Philadelphia, and I really thought his hair was a brighter red as he saw the firemen of Tamagus "Whooop-er-up" in true volunteer style. We met Joe Martz on our way home at a station some miles above Tamagus, and he says he intends to go down to the "crater" with us this month. Joe, you know, is one of the old reliables in anything pertaining to the Second Heavy.—George W. Ward."

John A. Beaver's New Hotel.

The Puerto Rico Eagle under, "date of September 17th, prints an article relating to John A. Beaver, formerly of Danville, that will be read with interest by Mr. Beaver's many friends in this city.

Mr. Beaver has been at San Juan for three years, and has acquired an enviable reputation as a hotel manager. His hotel, Los Palmas, is one of the finest in the West Indies, and is the mecca of tourists.

The article, which is printed in Spanish and English in the Eagle follows:
"San Juan, September 17.—Mr. John A. Beaver, proprietor of the Hotel Los Palmas, for several weeks has been negotiating to acquire the lease of the Hotel Olimpo property. He expects to receive definite word from the owners in Spain by the next mail, and if he can secure the property he says he intends immediately to renovate the establishment and have it ready for occupancy on December first.

"It is Mr. Beaver's plan to run the establishment on American principles, and as no other hotel has ever been conducted thus in Puerto Rico, it will be a marked innovation. There are 56 rooms in the hotel and these are to be furnished new throughout. The kitchen is to be converted into a billiard hall, the yard is to be cleaned up and the grounds made as attractive as possible. And, what is perhaps more important, the cuisine is to be under the direction of an experienced chef who will be brought from New York.

"Mr. Beaver, if he receives favorable advices from Spain, will leave for New York at once to purchase the furniture. He will continue Las Palmas.

"The steamship companies are also preparing for a rush this winter, and it is probable that more tourists will visit the island than ever before."

The Hadley Pictures.

Edwin J. Hadley's moving pictures, unquestionably the best, are to be seen at Armory Hall Saturday night under the auspices of Company F. A feature of the Hadley exhibition is the steadiness of the views shown. Instead of dancing and jerking and thus tiring the eye to gaze upon them, the Hadley views are practically flutterless. This alone is a great recommendation, but there are so many other superior features that the Hadley exhibition practically stands alone in a class all by itself.

MRS. GEISINGER ENTERTAINS CHOIR

The Geisinger homestead on Center street, Saturday evening, was the scene of one of the most brilliant and enjoyable affairs ever held in Danville the occasion being a dinner given by Mrs. A. A. Geisinger in honor of the choir of the Mahoning Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Geisinger entertains the choir each year, and the affair is always anticipated with a great deal of delight, but this year Mrs. Geisinger not only surpassed her previous efforts, but entertained her guests in a charmingly pleasant manner that has seldom if ever been equaled in Danville.

All the arrangements for the dinner were placed in the hands of John B. McCoy, and in the elation of the function was clearly discernable the touch of his master hand.

The guests, fifty in number, were all seated at one table. The decorations, beautifully arranged in a color scheme of pink and green, were of carnations, roses and similar. A folk orchestra furnished delightful music during the evening.

During the dinner James Scariet, Esq., responded to a toast on behalf of the choir, gracefully expressing the appreciation of the members to their hostess.

The guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Stewart, of Lincoln University; Rev. Robert B. Jack, Mrs. Alexander Jack and Miss Jack, of Harrisburg; Miss Clark and Mr. Lindsey, of Pittsburg; Miss Elsie Hicks, of Espy; Rev. and Mrs. James E. Hutchinson, of Danville; Mrs. James G. Gandy, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Huckleby, Mr. and Mrs. David Sheehar, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. James Scariet, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyb, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Doster, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Stock, Mr. and Mrs. William L. McClure, Mrs. Emma McHenry, Mrs. J. E. McCoy, Miss Estelle Stimpington, Miss Sue Coit, the Misses Cal, Ella and Anne Lyon, Miss Lizzie Russell, Miss Josephine Cousar, Miss Margaret Ammerman, Miss Sara Vanne, Miss Julia Raup, Miss Bertha Weller, J. E. Moore, Frank Conzart and Walter Russell.

No New Cases, But Two Deaths Yesterday

NANTICOKE, Oct. 11.—The epidemic at this place seems to be getting under control as there were no new cases reported today. There were two deaths reported but they were of long standing when admitted. One of the patients was in a hopeless condition when taken in a few days ago. John Szymanski and Stanley Tamna, those as stated above were old cases when admitted, are the deaths reported.

Nicholas Horn was admitted today but this case also is old, having been affected three weeks. This leaves the epidemic without a reported case for the last thirty-six hours.

Dr. Johnson, in an interview today, expressed the most sanguine hopes that the dread malady has been checked. The doctor emphasized the fact that the epidemic had taken a good hold when he took charge and that it takes time to wipe out a contagion that has been allowed to flourish so long.

TRACKMAN WAS PAINFULLY WOUNDED

Painfully wounded by a revolver bullet, Charles Richards, a Philadelphia and Reading track walker, was found along Blue Hill above the Northumberland bridge by a south bound freight crew.

The victim was taken to the Sunbury Hospital, where the wound was dressed by the surgeons in charge. While the wound is quite painful, no serious results are anticipated.

Much mystery seems to surround the shooting, a number of different stories as to how it occurred being afloat. The victim and his wife, who was formerly Ida DeHaven, affirm that it was an accident. They both say that Richards was handling the revolver when it was accidentally discharged.

Members of the train crew who discovered the body of Richards say that the woman, who was the only other person on the scene at the time, remarked that she had been on a little fishing expedition with the victim, that only a little accident had happened.

Other stories which are stoutly denied by both parties, hint at a quarrel between the two.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF VALUABLE HORSE

A valuable horse belonging to Emanuel Bogart, a farmer of Fishing-creek township, was yesterday morning found dead in its stall surrounded by most peculiar circumstances. About two o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Bogart arose and went to the stable intending to drive to Berwick. As the weather was somewhat threatening, he decided to postpone the trip and returned to bed for a while. Everything about the stable appeared in normal condition.

About 4 o'clock, he arose again, and going to the stable, was shocked to discover a valuable young horse, one of a black driving team, lying on the stall floor surrounded by blood. On a close examination he also found that the other three horses in the stable were suffering from some unknown trouble. Dr. J. W. Mather, a veterinarian of Berksburg, started for the farm about 7:30 yesterday morning.

A young son of Mr. Bogart's, who came to Peleertown yesterday morning reported that the dead horse was found with a gash through the top of its month, apparently a knife stab. In this same locality about six weeks ago, a horse valued at $600 and owned by Parvin Fritz, was poisoned by Parvin green, by unknown parties, a quart of the poison being found in its stomach.

Pigs, chickens and turkeys owned by Mr. Fritz had previously been poisoned previous to the horse incident. Some time ago a new buggy in the barn of William Unangst was totally destroyed by mutilation. The parties concerned are not known to have any suspects.
