Northumberland and Montour have a population of 106,437. They can be made into one district without vio-lence to the constitution. Lycoming, Sullivan, Columbia and Montour at present comprise a senat-orial district. With Montour dropped. the other three counties would have a population of 127,693, a little more than 1,000 in excess of a ratio. Centre, Union, Suyder and Mifflin are adjoining counties, with a total population of 100,950, and would make a fairly compact district. Juniata. Perry and Cumberland would form as compact and as cou-tiguous a district as could be found in the state, outside of a single county. They have a population of 92,561. This is less than four-fifths of a ratio, but it is difficult to carve out a more populous district in this section of the

The First Chapters of "Masqueraders" and Five Christmas Stories in the Xmas Number of the Sunday North American

The North American promises some thing decidedly out of the ordinary in mas edition of the Sunday paper. The management has secured six Christmas stories by the best-known authors and will also begin the serial publication "THE MASQUERADER." by Katherine Cecil Thurston, the novel that has been praised by all of the critics as the greatest that has been vritten in the last ten years.

The short stories are: "A Stolen Chris mas," by Mary E Wilkins Freeman; "Davy's Christmas," by Annie Trombull Slosson; "Solomon Crow's Christmas Pockets," by Ruth McKnery Stnart." A Learner of the Christmas Pockets," IcEnery Stuart;" A Journey in Search of Christmas," by Owen Wister: "At Germanna, D. Owen wister; "Au Engineer's Christmas Story," by John A. Hill, and "The Christmas Gifts of Thaddens," by John Kendrick Bangs. The front cover of the magazine is said to be the fluest head of Kris Kin-gle ever printed in a newspaper. There is a poem by Peter H. Doyle that the young folks will be reciting at the holiday entertainments.

All the magazine articles and comics will be full of the Christmas spirit, and one page that will be thoroughly practical is that which tells about th cost of the Christmas presents that are bought annually in the big cities. The edition will be limited, owing

The Buzzards Let Loose About 8 o'clock Saturday night pedestrians on Mill street were mystified and not a little alarmed by a series of unseemly sounds proceeding from K. G. E. Hall, made up of discordant yells, which might have suggested the frenzy of wild men. It was all explained a little later when fifty-six members of the order were seen to file down the narrow stairway and proceed to the City Hotel, where a banquet was the next thing in order.

On this occasion, however, it was not distinctively the Golden Eagles that was creating all the furore, but the less dignified birds known as the "Buzzards," who form a side degree of the Golden Eagles.

Saturday night was the date selected for a gala occasion, when all the Buzzards were let loose. The first thing in order was the initiation of four candidates, which means substantially that four members of the Golden Eagles were brought over to roost with the Buzzards. It was during this un-ique process that the unseemly noises were heard from the street.
