

BOROUGH COUNCIL PAYS AWARDS

The Borough Council held a special meeting Saturday night for the purpose of winding up proceedings relative to the claims presented by Margaret Schuster and three other property owners on Mill street for damages sustained by the change of grade when the new pavement was laid on that thoroughfare. President Gibson was in the chair. Other members present were: Reifensnyder, Vastine, Boyer, Gosser, Law, Dietz, Sweisfort, Magill, Jacobs and Hughes.

The assessment of damages was made last February, the following persons being the viewers: George W. West, J. H. Brugler, Samuel Weckheiser, Jno. W. Sweisfort, R. J. Pegh, and O. B. Sweitzer.

Damages were assessed as follows: Margaret Schuster, $850; Frances Hartman, $500; Joseph Sperring et al., $554; Mrs. Cousart estate, $175.

Council excepted to the report of the viewers and proceeded to appeal. It looked for awhile as if the whole matter would have to be settled in court. Council finally agreed to pay the amount of damages assessed, deducting what might be due for the Borough for sidewalk and street paving.

On this basis, it seems, a settlement was effected and the special meeting of Council Saturday night was held for the purpose of paying the awards. In addition to paying the property owners after making the proper deductions, costs amounting to $76.80, covering the fees of viewers, Sheriff, &c., was ordered paid to Prothonotary Vincent.

Fountain Turned Off.

The water was turned off at the public fountain yesterday and from now until spring it will be out of commission.

The fountain has been a fine success at its present location, accomplishing in the fullest the noble mission that the members of the W. C. T. U. had in view when they presented it to the Borough. It was a favorite watering place for horses and yesterday afternoon after the water was turned off several teams were observed to turn toward the empty basin and horses and driver alike seemed disappointed to find the fountain dry.

Flowers for the Holidays.

The fine green houses at Castle Grove are now radiant with roses, carnations and other treasured blooms in season about the holidays. Heavy shipments are made daily to New York and Philadelphia.

The green houses are a source of great delight to our townpeople, some of whom may be seen at Castle Grove every day. All are courteously received by Mr. Gotter, whose expert eye and rare skill as a floriculturist are so eloquently attested by the varied and abundant product of the green houses.

They Want Rural Phone.

A meeting was held in C. F. Styer's Hall, West Hemlock township, Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a local league of "The American Society of Equity" and to consider the establishment of a rural telephone line to connect with the Danville system.

Must Vote in February.

Deputy Attorney General Fleitz decides, in an official opinion delivered to State Commissioner Hunter that all townships in Pennsylvania desiring to receive 15 per cent. of the amount of their road tax from the State next year must vote affirmatively on this proposition at the coming February election.

Mr. Fleitz decides also that under the general supervisors' act, passed by the last legislature, the supervisors must serve without compensation, but may be reimbursed for traveling expenses; that no supervisor can act as road master, and that the act is general in its terms, applies to all second-class townships in the State, and all local or special laws relating to the election of supervisors or the management and control of township roads in conflict with this act are repealed by it.

WILLIAMSPORT BOY SEEKS ADVENTURE

Walter Pineau, a fifteen-year-old boy of Williamsport, who, armed with a large revolver and a box of cartridges, in emulation of a dime novel hero started out on a career of adventure in this city, suffering the indignity of being disarmed and spending nearly two days in the lock-up. He was released yesterday noon and permitted to return home.

On Friday evening the boy appeared before Officer Voris and asked whether it would be possible to secure lodging in the "Station House." He was disposed to say little about himself except that he was in need of a night's lodging. He was accommodated and permitted to seek such rest as he could find on the hard benches of the bastille.

On Saturday the officer began to think that a boy of such tender years roaming over the country constituted a circumstance that demanded investigation. The boy was accordingly seized when among his body he was discovered under his clothing was a belt to which was attached a holster or leather case in which was contained a .32-caliber revolver.

The officer asked the boy what he meant by carrying concealed deadly weapons. The answer was that traveling alone out on the country roads he was apt to be overtaken by highwaymen and he wanted some means of defense. The officer discovered that the revolver was empty and he asked the boy where the cartridges were. He replied that he had none. He was next asked how he expected to defend himself without cartridges in case he should be attacked. "Oh, I would draw the pistol, and put up a bluff," was the reply.

The boy insisted that his name was Walter Pineau, the son of Joseph Pineau, of Grand street, Williamsport. He admitted that he had been reading novels and that he started out on Thursday proceeding to Reading. On Friday morning he went to Bloomsburg, where he spent the day. He seemed undecided as to his future movements.

When the boy was placed in the lock-up he wore a hat. When the officer called upon him Saturday he found him wearing a cap. He was taking things very coolly, making himself as comfortable as possible.

The officer asked him where his hat was and following directions found it in one of the other cells. The finding of the hat however, resulted in another discovery, more important. Under the bench carefully secreted was a box of .32-caliber cartridges, to fit the pistol.

The boy was disarmed, after which, while he was detained in the lock-up, the officer called up the Williamsport Chief-of-Police, gave a description of the adventurous lad and asked if he was wanted. The answer was that the boy should be held until noon yesterday, when unless Williamsport was heard from it was suggested that he be disarmed and turned loose. Assuming that the boy told the truth and his home is in Williamsport, the authorities there had plenty of time and data to work on but it seems nothing came of their investigations.

National Guard and its Doings.

Two officers of the Twelfth Regiment, Battalion Adjutant Duffield and Lieutenant Baker, of Company D, have been appointed privates on the new State police force. Lieutenant Baker will not accept, but Lieutenant Duffield has gone to his troop headquarters to report. This will mean a vacancy in the office of battalion adjutant since the two forces are liable to be on duty at the same time and for the additional reason that it takes the officer not only out of the bounds of his command but out of his brigade.

In the election held in Company G last week that company followed the lead it made some time ago and went outside of its own ranks to get the man it wanted. Lieutenant White has taken hold as though he meant business.

Four weeks from tonight the spring inspections will begin with Company D on the floor. No orders have as yet been issued from Harrisburg nor has it been announced what officer of the army will make the inspection for the War Department.

The Third Regiment, beginning with January 1, will pay its members fifty cents for each drill they attend and impose a fine of $1 for each drill missed. Settlement will be made quarterly. The experiment will be watched with interest.

An effort will be made to have Congress pass a law regulating who may wear the army uniform or modifications of it. At present every time a corresponding change is made in various organizations and also in the hotel bell boys and similar employees.

Ranks as the Highest Grade by Doctors.

The safest wine to use is Spear's Port Grape Wine. It ranks above all others for medicinal purposes; it is a diuretic and tonic. For weakly and aged persons it has no equal, being made from a rare grape.

HARRY QUINN FOUND DEAD

Harry Quinn, an employe of Foust Bros. was found dead at the Germania Brewery Monday morning.

The deceased had been employed at the Brewery on and off for some years and was well known about town. For the use of the employes the proprietors keep a sleeping room furnished on one of the upper floors of the Brewery. This room for some time past has been occupied by Quinn.

Monday morning when J. W. Shutt, another employe, appeared at the Brewery about 7 o'clock the deceased had not arisen. Mr. Shutt went up stairs to see what was detaining the man and found him still in bed. He took hold of Quinn, shook him and told him it was time to get up. The man seemed so sound asleep that Shutt roused him.

"All right then; you can sleep awhile longer," after which he went down stairs.

A short time afterward another employe went up stairs and tried to arouse Quinn. The discovery was then made that the man was dead, although the body was still warm. Dr. Barber responded to a call, but of course there was nothing that a physician could do. Death was undoubtedly due to heart failure.

Justice of the Peace W. V. Oglesby took the matter up, but after visiting the brewery and making an investigation he felt convinced that death was due to natural causes and that an inquest was not necessary. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of George W. Root, where it was held pending arrangements for burial.

The deceased was thirty-six years of age. His parents are dead, but he is survived by one brother, James Quinn, whose whereabouts are not known, and two sisters, Miss Kate Quinn, and Dora (Mrs. Weaver), both of whom reside in this city.

Use All Money at Once.

Deputy Attorney General Fleitz has advised Highway Commissioner Hunter that, in building roads with State money, he need not confine himself to using any one county's appropriation for the year only. The money appropriated by the Legislature was for a period of four years, and Deputy Fleitz says that to facilitate matters, Commissioner Hunter may use a county's entire appropriation at once, in his discretion, but that he must allow no county more than its pro rata share of all of the money.

It will be recalled that Dauphin county lost its share because of objections to proposed improvements in Swatara, Washington and Lower Paxton townships.

Entertained Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Billmeyer entertained a number of friends at their home near Washingtonville on Saturday evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Showers and daughter Mary, Mr. and Mrs. William Unstead and daughter Hazel, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Boyart and daughters Margaret and Jennie, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Unstead and son Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Billmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. William Runyan and son Guy Albert, Miss Nellie and Bertha Billmeyer, Henry Unstead, Russell Unstead and Thomas Bitler. The guests were entertained with music after which refreshments were served.

Conference to Meet at Milton.

The twelfth annual session of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the United Evangelical church will be held in the First United Evangelical church, at Milton, on March 1, 1906. It will continue about one week.

SPECIAL POLICE AT POST OFFICE

Danville is to have a special policeman, who will be on duty at the Post Office, where there is a great deal of confusion and disorder caused by the boys and others who loiter about the corner, taking advantage of the regular officers, who of necessity are often called to other parts of town.

Post Master Harder had taken the matter up with the Councilman and Friday on motion of Mr. Reifensnyder it was ordered that S. M. Waite, janitor at the Post Office, be sworn in as a special officer for duty at that corner, to act without compensation.

On motion of Mr. Reifensnyder it was ordered that the Secretary be instructed to request the Borough solicitor to notify Mr. Koch, President of the Danville & Bloomsburg Street Railway Company, that unless the trolley company furnish a bond, according to the ordinance granting them a right of way the Borough will proceed to allow the franchise.

Mr. Vastine reported that the two policemen of the Borough had received new overcoats. The spick and span appearance of our two officers was commented on.

Treasurer Ellenbogen presented a statement of finances to date, which showed a total cash balance on hand of $6,120.06.

On motion of Mr. Jacobs an order was drawn in favor of the Woman's Benevolent Association for $73, representing the interest on the Josiah Wolf bequest.

On motion of Mr. Gosser it was decided to sell the old canal bridges on the cluder tip, which have no value except as scrap, retaining girders for use in the Borough. Price quoted was that scrap iron has reached the top notch of valuation.

The following members were present: Gibson, Reifensnyder, Vastine, Sweisfort, Boyer, Gosser, Jacobs, Dietz, Law, Fenstermacher and Hughes.

MINOR MATTERS OF INTEREST

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS.

The pupils of the public schools of town are looking forward with pleasant anticipation to a week's vacation between Christmas and New Year's. During the present week much attention has been given to the preparation of a Christmas program, which will be rendered in some of the schools before closing tomorrow.

IN KEEPING WITH CHRISTMAS.

With a prize turkey guarding entrance to the door and the interior gaily decorated with holly and trailing pine the howling alley in common with other establishments about town presents an aspect quite in keeping with the spirit of Christmas. A wreath of holly is hanging at each window in full view from the outside while all about the chandeliers and along the walls are graceful festoons of trailing pine, which sets the interior off in fine style.

LADIES' DAY.

Ladies are at all times welcome at the Bowling Alleys, where ample seating capacity has been furnished in full view of the fascinating game. As a general thing the ladies understand their prerogative and in increasing numbers they are dropping in daily to see the players. One of the proprietors yesterday stated that so many inquiries are made by the gentle sex concerning the privilege of playing that immediately after the Holidays a "Ladies' Day" will be inaugurated at the Alleys.

Peoples Bank Directors.

The stockholders of the Peoples Bank on Friday elected the following directors: J. H. Cole, O. F. Ferris, John A. Ellis, H. B. Shultz, Thomas H. Benfield, John Doster, Jr., J. E. Smith, David Thomas and Samuel Lowenstein. The directors chose for their officers, J. H. Cole, President; John Doster, Jr., Vice President and J. B. Watson, Cashier.

INTERVIEW WITH DIVISION ENGINEER

G. J. Ray, Division Engineer of the D. L. & W. Railroad, met with some representatives of the Borough in this city yesterday for the purpose of seeing just what way the municipality and the Railroad Company might co-operate to bring about an abatement of the nuisance of bad drainage, which makes the bottom of the old canal, owned by the D. L. & W. people, very objectionable and a menace to the public health.

The conference lasted for nearly two hours, with Engineer Ray on one side and Engineer Keefer and Councilman Gosser, Boyer, Sweisfort and Vastine on the other. The matter was carefully gone over in all of its bearings, Mr. Ray explaining what the owners of the canal are willing to do in the premises and the members of council making clear their attitude, which showed an unalterable opposition to the proposition so much discussed—that the Borough fill up the canal, after the D. L. & W. Company, at its own expense, slugs pipe along the bottom.

Several of the Borough representatives were interviewed, who stated that nothing had been accomplished and that things stood practically where they were before. These facts were borne out by an interview with Engineer Ray at the Monitor House, although the fact was clearly revealed that the D. L. & W. people do not wish to maintain a nuisance in our town and now that the filling proposition has fallen through will proceed to remedy the evil on a new basis.

Mr. Ray said that he was not in a position to say just what the railroad company would do in the premises, but he felt sure that they would cut out the drainage nuisance without delay. For instance if the Hospital for the Insane is discharging sewage or waste water from the laundry into the canal a notice will be served on the institution forthwith to discontinue the practice. The same will hold good in the Borough, where several industries make the canal a receptacle for their waste matter and individuals make it a common dumping ground.

The engineer related, how during a brief visit to Danville last summer he observed a man, presumably in business near by, dumping several buckets of the most disgusting looking fifth right over the side of Mill street culvert into the canal. Such practices are very too common. The canal company will adopt some practical means of dealing with offenders in the Borough as well as outside, who pollute the canal; and as the result of it all the engineer foresees a much better state of affairs as pertains to the old water way for next summer.

Mr. Ray understands that the proposition to fill up the canal came primarily from the Board of Trade and was never in favor with council; nevertheless he thinks it a perfectly feasible plan and is sure that notwithstanding the cost—that of some seven thousand dollars—the Railroad Company stands ready to carry out its part, that of sinking the pipe. He thinks Council overestimates the burden entailed in undertaking to fill up the canal. He feels sure that the Railroad Company will give the Borough all the time it wants, if ten years or longer. By co-operating in this way, beginning with a square each side of Mill street, one small section of the old water way at a time could be obliterated and a constant source of trouble and annoyance removed for all time.

Mr. Ray said he could confidently say that if the old canal is ever filled up it will have to be done by the Borough. There is no reason why the railroad people should be anxious to have it filled up. As owners they will clean it out; they will stop the drainage of sewage and other impurities into it, but they will not fill it up.

Birth Day Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Bigler Meyer entertained a party of young people at their home on West Mahoning street, Friday evening, in honor of their son Orville's eighteenth birthday. Those present were: Misses Rhies Hoffman, Elsie Bennett, Nora Cromley, Jennie Woodsie, Edna Meyer, Gertrude Linker, Mae Meyer, Mabel Yeager, of Milton, Beaver Hollowbaugh, Harry Latimer, Earl Woodsie, Alvin Spaide, Edward Priker, Grover Mincomeyer, Edward Linker and Roy Vangilder.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS OF NORTH'D COUNTY

The school directors of Northumberland county met in annual session in room number two, Sunbury, Wednesday morning.

The meeting was called to order at 10:30 o'clock by H. P. Ranp, of Turbotville, vice president of the association. After the reading of the minutes by Secretary H. W. Armstrong, of McEvensville, the election of officers was called for, but it was decided this should be done at the annual meeting in January.

O. C. Fuller, of Lewis, the president of the association, being absent his address was necessarily omitted.

General business being in order the time for the annual meeting was fixed for the last Thursday in January, 1906, to be held at the subject "What Effect Will Recent School Legislation Have Upon the Directors." Mr. McCloghlan, of Rush, was next called for on the subject "What Effect Will Recent School Legislation Have Upon the Directors." Mr. McCloghlan being unavoidably absent the subject was discussed in general by members present. High school tuition and vaccination receiving the most attention.

Prof. Preston W. Serach then delivered a masterly address, beginning by asserting his special interest in Northumberland county as his father was born in that county. He dwelt especially on the country school, stated there was nothing in the city school could compare with the country school, if the latter was properly organized; the city gained much of its strength from country acquisition; self reliance in the country school as compared with the dependence pervading city school pupils; if conditions of buildings, surroundings and often teachers were the same, country schools would be infinitely better than city schools; teachers should be selected on merit only and not because of family influence or similar circumstances; directors should perform the duties required without fear or favor; good school houses should be maintained and the director should be the leader of public sentiment favorable to good buildings, good teachers, salaries sufficient to induce good men to enter the teachers' profession. Prof. Serach delivered one of the most practical, terse and pointed addresses that has been heard in recent years on a similar occasion.

After some more remarks by the members on the vaccination question the roll was called and between 50 and 60 were found present.

Found $75 Pearl in an Oyster.

A Lock Haven man, Harry A. Weindorf, while eating oysters at his home Thursday, felt a hard substance in one of the bivalves which he had placed in his mouth. This proved to be a beautiful pearl which experts claim to be worth at least $75.00.

Weindorf had paid twenty-five cents for the half-dozen "raws" and now wishes that he could make as good an investment of all his money.
