There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and nucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. INLAND BATHING.

It Furnishes One of the Sensuous Delights of Existence.

Quiet inland bathing offers you no extravagant opportunities to be a poseur. If the water is warm, you loli in it at your ease; your mind is soon stupefied by the sensuousness in which you are infolded; the interest of your sleepy eyes does not extend beyond the gentle ripples that widen away from the slow, submerged strokes of your arms. your arms and flap them down through the water like a pair of sweeps. It is only a fired sort of effort, and finally. In the supreme abandonment of indolence, you lay your head back—far back—until the water creeps up about your eyelids. You stretch out legs and arms motionless and lie, breathing tranquilly, sensible of no other movement in the world than the slight flux and slip of the water upon your heaving chest. Then may you realize perhaps something of the lark's sensation when, with wings outspread, it hangs suspended between earth and sky. He who has never thus suspended himself dily in still water, with fathoms below him and infinity above, has not experienced one of the sensuous delights of existence. VICTOR HUGO'S HOUSE.

He Was Not Its Owner, and For a Very Good Reason.

The house in which Victor Hugo died in Paris was in the avenue which bears his name and close to his statue.

Arsene Houssaye in Les Annaies says that he never addressed a letter to him in any other fashion than—

To Victor Hugo,
At His Avenue.

Yet the house itself had a modest appearance. Its chief charms were a beautiful garden, with great trees and a delightful fountain, and the extraordinary richness of its furniture.
The house did not belong to Victor Hugo. It had been built by the Princess de Luignen, and Hugo findle cess de Lurignan, and Hugo finally tried to buy it from the princess. To his amazement she asked £30,000.

The lady smiled. "That is nothing considering," she remarked pleasantly considering, she remarked pleasantly, "Considering what?" demanded the still bewildered poet, "Think, master. This little house has had the incomparable honor of having been lived in by Victor Hugo." The master smiled in his turn as he replied, this time without a trace of bewilderment:

Mania For Suicide.

A Russian correspondent was talking about Siberia.

"In that strange land," he said, "the strangest thing is the suicidal tendency of the Chukchees, Among the Chukchees, actually, suicide is one of the most common forms of death.

"The Chukchees live in northeastern fiberia. They are small and copper colored. They dress in skins and ride reindeer. Tallow and raw kidney are their chief delicacles. In every Chukchee house hangs a death coat.

"A Chukchee doesn't kill himself by his own hand. He appoints his nearest his own hand. He appoints his nearest relatives—his wife, son or daughter—to do the deed. And the delegate never rebels, never declines this sad and ho

Don't make any mistake, but remember the rible task.

"Innumerable are the causes of sui-cide—jealousy, unrequited love, an in-curable disease, melancholy, poverty, curable disease, melancholy, poverty, and so ou.

"I knew a man who was prosperous and apparently happy. Suddenly a desire for death seized him. In three moons,' he said, 'I will go home to my fathers.' And he calmly settled his affairs and at the appointed time bade his wife to knot a cord about his throat and his two sons to pull upon the cord till he should be strangled. He died, they told me, joking.

"The death coat which hangs in every Chukchee house has a hood. It is for use in suicide. The hood hides the facial contortions of the dying.

"There are Chukchee families wherein suicide is hereditary, wherein it is a point of honor for the sons to kill themselves, a natural death being regarded in such families as disgraceful and scandalous, a sign of the most unpardonable cowardice.

NEW PRODUCT

The Danville Stove and Manufacturng Company has added something en tirely new to its already extensive line of stoves. The latest addition is a range embracing all the latest attach-ments and is regarded as the most com-plete cooking apparatus ever put on the market. It is in colonial finish to meet the growing demand for plain ness and lack of ornamentation, which holds good in the matter of stoves a well as in other lines of furniture. Incidentally, the new stove will be manufactured by J. F. Tooley, who will operate the well eqiupped little foundry, East Mahoning street, which until the first of the present month wa until the first of the prese at month was run by John Hooley, now filling the position as general manager with the Thatcher Furnace Company, of Newark, N. J. Mr. Tooley will devote his foundry largely if not exclusively to the manufacture of stoves for the Danville Stove and Manufacturing Company, whose business has outgrown the capacity of its plant. Mr. Tooley will be able to turn out a maximum of 12 stoves per day and this imum of 12 stoves per day and this imum of 12 stoves per day and thi steady help will materially when the first material sesses the other and larger plant to fill its orders Mr. Tooley is known as an enterprising and a capable man and it is much to his credit that rather than see any one thrown out of employment he should be willing to go so far out of his way and assume new responsibilities in order to keep the little foundry running. Harry Hooley, who is very capable and well experienced in offi work, will take charge of the book and assist Mr. Tooley in the ma nent.

Aided by the smaller plant the tota product of the Danville Stove and Manufacturing Company will be some 130 stoves per day. Flasks are already being made for the new line and these will be turned over to Mr. Tooley yet during the present week and next Monday at the latest his foundry will start day at the latest his foundry will star The new stove of the Danville up.
