NEXT GOVERNOR.

On these days of political commotion all parties turn their gaze in the direction of strong men to steer the ship of state.

Representative Win. T. Creasy has been mentioned. David T. Watson is said to have the support of the Democrats of the western counties...

There is no lack of suitable men in either of the two great parties. The main difficulty is not to name fit men, but to secure the consent of fit men to the use of their names.

Russia is going to decorate her soldiers who took part in the war with Japan—these of them who were escaped decoration by the Japanese.

A dozen words of cheer and encouragement spoken to a struggler in life's battle are worth more to him than the most glowing eulogy, after his battle is ended.

A bill has been introduced in Congress making gambling unlawful in the Territories. One to make gambling illegal on the planet Jupiter would prove about as effectual.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER has been mysteriously missing for over a month, yet the police throughout the country have not been notified to look out for the lost man. Isn't it funny?

THEY'RE determined to keep the Longworth name before the people out in Ohio. Now Attorney General Ellis, of that State, has launched a boom for his candidacy for Governor.

COLONEL GUFFEY seems to have selected David T. Watson, an eminent Pittsburg attorney, as his choice for candidate for Governor, but it appears, however, that Mr. Watson has not made his selection known.

ONE VERY sure sign that spring is approaching is the fact that the days have increased more than one hour in length since December 21st, when winter set in. And from now until June 21st they will grow at the rate of two minutes a day.

STANLEY FRANCIS, one of the partners of Harry Lattimer, of the Storey Cotton Company, has sold his residence in Phila for $3500, subject to a mortgage of $6500. The house is a three-story structure, with garden and porch. Evidently he did not care to keep house any longer in such large and commodious quarters.

A STREET car conductor out in Seattle knocked down a five-cent fare; was discovered, tried, convicted, fined $75 and lost his job. In Oregon a couple of fellows stole a million dollars' worth of timber and land; we discovered; not convicted; not fined, and sent to the United States senate. There's a difference, you know. Better play safe and be a big grafter.

A BAR of true justice means much to a community in allying crime, and the man of "back-bone," who so fearlessly ascends the throne of henkery to the evidence, and justly adjudges the criminal for his misdeeds, is always admired by the good citizens. Hon. Chas. S. Staples occupied that elevated position in our county court on Monday, and the manner in which he conducted the same was the topic of conversation in all sections of our town. He is a man of sturdy qualities and admired for his bravery in trying to do the most good for the many at their least expense. Before a number of our citizens he remarked, before leaving town Tuesday morning, that he was much gratified with the kindly feeling our citizens here him. It has been hinted that he stands a fair chance for the appointment to the unexpired term of the late Judge Robt. Little.

A REMARKABLE RECORD. The death of Judge Little of this district, creates a vacancy that will be filled by the governor. The appointee will serve until January 1, 1907, when he will be succeeded by a judge elected in November. The district has a remarkable record. The successor of Judge Little will be the third appointed judge during a period of less than twenty years. Judge Elwell, who was the most distinguished of the Columbia jurists was serving his third term when he resigned on account of ill health, and ex-Judge Hinkleley was appointed to succeed him. Judge Kleker was subsequently elected, and died during the last year of his term. Ex-Judge Herring was appointed to fill the vacancy. At the ensuing election Judge Little was elected and his death creates the third vacancy in as many terms.

Young Mr. Longworth is being boomed for governor of Ohio and for United States senator but no one has heard him for some time.

ACCUSED OF BLACKMAIL

Perry County Man is a Prisoner of Uncle Sam.

Harrisburg, Feb. 26.—J. C. Gordon, of New Bloomfield, Perry county, left here today in custody of Deputy Marshall Samuel Lapp, for Saratoga, where he will be tried in the United States Court on the charge of using the mails for black-mailing purposes.

He is also accused of burning two mills belonging to Perry county farmers, as a sequence of his alleged black-mailing letters. This accusation awaits disposition in the Perry county courts after the Federal tribunal gets through with the accused man.

W. J. Rose, a post office inspector, alleges that Gordon wrote threatening letters to J. L. Toomey, of Perry county, warning him that his flour mill would be burned if he did not pay over $250. Toomey did not heed the letters and the mill was burned. He then notified the United States Post Office authorities. Gordon was arrested at McKees Half Falls.

LEGAL.

QUEST. Is it lawful to give a permit for the burial of the remains of a child which is found dead in the morning, after having been put to rest on the previous evening in apparent good health?

ANS. In case of any death occurring without medical attendance, it shall be the duty of the undertaker to notify the registrar of such death, and when so notified the registrar shall inform the local health officer, and refer the case to him for immediate investigation and certification, prior to issuing the permit. Provided, that when the local health officer is not a qualified physician, or when there is no such official, and in such cases only, the registrar is authorized to make the certificate and return from the statement of relatives or other persons having knowledge of the facts.

Timely and Valuable Suggestions. Many people, especially women, suffer from what in general terms is called "nervousness." Among all forms of treatment none has even approached in success the intelligent use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., which promotes an easy and natural action of the digestive organs and imparts tone to the nervous system.

Women in Metal Work.

A SERIES of articles on "Arts and Crafts Industries" is begun in the March NEW IDEA WOMAN'S MAGAZINE with an account of the making of jewelry and designing in metal, in which work it appears many women are now not only engaged but successful. Some charming pieces are shown in the work of Miss Jane Carson of Cleveland and others, including brooches, watch fobs, lamps, jewel boxes, tongue etc. The writer, Miss Delia Austrian, is very optimistic concerning the outlook for women in this craft. "There are other women," she says, "in the East and West who are doing artistic work in metals and in the fashioning of jewelry. They are one in the opinion that this work gives delight and worthy remuneration to such as possess talent and perseverance. They say that there was a time when a strong prejudice was felt against women craft-workers, and that Americans preferred to buy their jewelry in Paris instead of patronizing the artists of their own country, but that this is no longer the case. American women want artistic and able work, and because these workers possess the talent and perseverance needed, they have won recognition and are enjoying the fruits of their efforts."

Death of Mrs. John Marshall.

Sarah E. wife of John M. Marshall, West Market street, departed this life yesterday morning after a long siege of illness. She was nearly a life-long resident of Danville, a generous, kind and much-sorrowed woman, whose death was missed not only in her own household, but throughout the community.

Mrs. Marshall was 64 years of age. A sad circumstance connected with her death was the fact that only last fall along with her husband she moved into the cozy family residence on West Market street, just then completed. She was taken ill in the early part of November, only a week after moving. From the middle of November until her death she was confined to her bed. During this whole period her sufferings were intense. Death came to her relief at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The deceased is survived by her husband, one son, George A. Marshall, of Baltimore, and one daughter, Mrs. Charles G. Clond, of this city. She is also survived by three brothers, Samuel Kelley, of Mooreburg; William Kelley, of Unityville, and B. F. Kelley of this city. A half-sister, Mrs. Alvorna Kline, of Benton, also survives.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from the late residence. Interment will be made in the Lutheran cemetery.

There Are 31,319 Schools in State—Total Cost of Maintaining Them Was $28,565,457.15.

Harrisburg, Feb. 26.—The annual report of Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, now in the hands of the State Printer, shows that there are 2561 school districts in the State, outside of Philadelphia, and 31,319 schools. The scale of wages for women teachers shows an average increase of $3.46 per month; for men, $2.79 per month. Figures for Philadelphia are not included in the foregoing statement.

Sportsmen say that trout will be more plentiful the coming spring than for many years. Two reasons are given for this condition—the rigid enforcement of the fish laws, which have permitted fish to multiply, and the mild weather.

HURRY UP THAT HERO REWARD

Captain Custo Tells Donors He's in Haste on That Mortgage.

Pittsburg, Feb. 14.—Manager Wilnot, of the Carnegie Hero Fund, today received the following letter: Dear Sir—Your kind favor of the 1st inst. received upon my return home, for which I thank you. As you are aware, there is a mortgage on my property and the sooner I pay it off the less interest I will have to pay. Therefore, I most sincerely accept your kind offers.

I cannot find words to express my thanks to you for such a magnificent reward, as it never once entered my mind that I would ever get anything. In fact, it is only the lives of the people who were imprisoned on the wrecked Cherokee that I had in mind. Let me thank you again, and may God bless you!

STRICT JUSTICE FOR BOYS

Tempered With Mercy, Judge Lindsay Finds It Most Efficacious. Judge Lindsay, of Denver, who was in Phila. in connection with juvenile court matters, after inspecting Girard College, expressed himself as more than pleased with the conditions surrounding the boys there. "In dealing with boys," he said, "I have always found that their misdeeds are either the result of thoughtlessness or bad influences. It is very seldom the boy himself is bad—thoroughly bad, I mean. In Court I never deal with a youthful offender in public if I can help it. A private hearing, almost in form, as it were, accomplishes far better results."

When asked what advice he would give to parents, he said: "Strict justice, tempered with a great deal of clemency, will invariably be found more efficacious than any amount of discipline. Justice—that's what they want—and grown-up boys, too. It's a pretty scarce commodity, though."

Badly Crushed by a Wagon.

Michael Gallagher, son of Edward Gallagher, steward of the Conyngham-Centralia port house, located in Locust township, Columbia county, fell beneath the wheels of a wagon loaded with a ton of coal, the front and rear wheels passing over him, fracturing the sternum, or breast bone, and four ribs on the right side, the accident occurring Tuesday evening.

The boy who is only seven years of age, had run from his home to meet the poor farm wagon, driven by one of the employees, and loaded with coal, meeting it about an eighth of a mile from his home. The wagon was moving slowly when the lad attempted to step on it. In doing so he slipped in front of the front wheel. This passed over his body as did the rear wheel. He was picked up unconscious and did not regain consciousness until after he had been taken home.

Dr. Winterstein, of Namidia, was summoned and arriving at the stevedore's home found the stevedore fractured, together with the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh ribs on the right side. As yet it is impossible to state whether the lad sustained any internal injuries, no symptom of such having as yet, however, been manifested.

Give a Concert for Patients.

The Crusade Commandery Quartette of Bloomsburg gave a concert at the hospital for the insane Tuesday evening. A large number of popular selections were rendered, and all was very much appreciated by the audience. The latter departed only at the proper time, and acted in a very orderly manner.

GIRL ASSASSIN'S TALE STIRS RUSSIAN WRATH

She Tells Story of Torture After Killing Police Chief.

HAILED AS A "SECOND CORDAY"

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—Great wrath has been aroused by the publication of a letter from Mile. Spiridonova, the seventeen-year-old girl who shot M. Luzhensky, chief of the secret police, at Tamboff, in which she describes brutalities to which she and her self-sacrifice in executing the sentence against M. Luzhensky, who was detested on account of his cruelty in suppressing the peasant disorders, she has been made one of the heroines of the revolution and is called a second Charlotte Corday.

The letter says that after the shooting of Luzhensky, whose bodyguard of Cossacks did not save him from five well-aimed bullets, Mile. Spiridonova was knocked down and beaten with the whips of the Cossacks and rifle butts. She was dragged by her hair down stairs to a sleigh by the Cossacks, taken to the police station, undressed and put into a damp, cold cell, where she was subjected to eleven hours of torment in order to force her to reveal the names of her accomplices.

The newspapers demand the instant trial and punishment of the two officers, whose names are given; but the vengeance of the revolutionists will probably anticipate official action. The Russ also condemns the organization, "which sent this child on such a mission."

Mile Spiridonova is now in a hospital in a serious condition. Her skull is fractured in two places, one eye is injured and her body is a mass of bruises from head to foot.

The newspapers demand the instant trial and punishment of the two officers, whose names are given; but the vengeance of the revolutionists will probably anticipate official action. The Russ also condemns the organization, "which sent this child on such a mission."

GORKY PREDICTS REBELLION

Says Another Revolt is Bursting Into Flame in Russia.

London, Feb. 25.—Maxim Gorky has issued a virtual proclamation in the form of a letter in which he declares that another rebellion is at hand in Russia. This letter was written to H. M. Hyndman, a leader among the Social Democratic elements in England. He says: "Comrades! The conflict against mean oppression of poverty is a conflict for the liberation of the world from that net of coarse contradictions in which all men are fiercely and impotently struggling."

"In Russia a revolution is bursting into flame. The Russian proletariat is struggling consciously for the political freedom it urgently needs and that it wrung the manifesto of October 30 from the Government by its own strength. They tell you this manifesto was an act of the Emperor's free will; the truth is, it was a trophy of the people's victory."

"Ever since October 30 Witt's Government has been frankly and openly provoking the Russian people and attempting to give an anarchic character to the Russian revolution by setting nationality against nationality, class against class, country against town and village against village."

"But the Government made a bad mistake, and the fruits of its error will be bitter."
