The opening of the trout fishing season is fixed by law to commence on the 15th of April. This year that day falls on a Sunday, and the State Fish Commissioner has decided that no trout may, therefore, be caught until the following day, which will be Monday, the 16th. Anyone catching trout on Sunday subjects himself to a double fine, one of $25 for fishing on Sunday and another of $10 for having in his possession fish caught out of season.

OVER THE PRECIPICE.

A Tragic Adventure in a Blizzard in the Antarctic.

Here is an adventure in the antarctic regions taken from Captain Robert F. Scott's "The Voyage of the Discovery." Nine men are returning from a sledge expedition in a blinding snowstorm: "An unusually violent squall prevented us from seeing even one another. I immediately ordered a chain to be formed at right angles and extending across our track, each man keeping in touch with the rest, with the idea of intercepting Hare, who was missing, when he came on. We shouted and blew whistles, and while this was going on Evans stepped back on to a patch of bare, smooth ice and shot out of sight immediately. Thinking the sledge to be one of the short ones so common in the folds of the hills, Barnie sat down and deliberately started to slide in Evans' track. In a moment or two the sledge drove steeply and sootily on to a patch of ice which left him no power to control his movements. He whipped out his clasp knife and dug it into the ice, but the blade snapped off short and failed to check his wild career. In a flash the ice changed to snow, which grew softer until, in a smother of flying particles, his rapid flight was arrested and he stood up to find Evans within a few feet of him. "A third man joined them in similar fashion: "Realizing the impossibility of ascending again by the way they had come, they started to descend, but within four paces of the place at which they had been found to rest they found that the sledge ended suddenly in a steep precipice, beyond which they saw nothing but the clouds of whirling snow. Even as they recoiled from this new danger and dimly realized the merciful patch of soft snow which had saved them from it, a yelling dog flew past them, clashing madly in the eye slope, and disappeared forever into the gloom he came from. The six others eventually moved on until they, too, found themselves on an awkward slope: "Their leader suddenly saw the precipice beneath his feet and far below, through the wreathing snow, the sea.

"Another step would have taken him over the edge. He sprang back with a cry of warning, and those behind him, hearing it, dug their heels instead into the surface, and, with one exception, were saved in stopping.

What followed was over in an instant. Before his horror-stricken companions had time to think poor Vince, unable to check himself with his soft fur boots, had shot from among them, flashed the sledge, and disappeared. "Vince was never seen again, but Barnie, the first missing man, staggered back to the ship two days after the others, remembering nothing between struggling to a patch of rock for shelter and waking thirty-six hours later covered with snow.

THE MAN ON FOOT.

In Stamboul He Has No Rights as Against the Horseman.

One of the peculiarities in Stamboul is the insolent demeanor of the horseman to the footman. Many times daily you will see some rascal of a cabman trying to drive down a well-dressed man on the street. The drivers rarely take the trouble to shout as they approach the pedestrians. It was often filled with wonder at observing the meekness with which well-dressed Turks on foot submitted to such treatment from shabby Turks on carriage boxes. Even when no injury was done to such a pedestrian, he was often outraged with mind. Stamboul must be an unpleasant place in which to live. Were cabmen in our country to treat pedestrians so recklessly there would be many cases of assault and battery, and I think some money among the Johns.

One day I saw a uniformed Turk picking his way across the street, using his saber as a walking stick. A carriage suddenly dashed down on him, and its driver, after nearly running over him, hurried at him in volleys of what sounded like choice Turkish abuse. The uniformed Turk retorted not. He scraped the mud off his uniform, struck his saber under his arm and waded ashore. In our country a man with a saber would have used it to strike the driver's back. By this you see that the Turks are lacking in spirit—far from it, but apparently it would seem to be the custom of the country that the man on foot, as against the man on horseback, has no rights.—"A Levantine Log Book," by Jerome Hart.

Cat Medicine.

The ancient physicians had a firm belief in the healing powers of different portions of the eye probably from some confusion existing in their minds with regard to its own nine lives. One of them gives as a valuable recipe to cure fevers two pints of water mixed with three drops of oil taken from the ear of an ass and certain parts of a cat's digestive organs.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours: a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it rains your water is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fills every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and seeping pain in passing it, or back effects following liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day and sleep many times during the night. The relief that the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., One of Swamp-Root Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this genuine offer in this paper.

BAILEY'S RATE BILL TALK SWAYS SENATE

Washington, April 10.—What was universally agreed among Senators of both sides to have been the greatest speech delivered in the Senate for many years was made today by Mr. Bailey, Democratic Senator from Texas. Not even the Senators who disagreed with it in principle failed to pay tribute to its merit as a speech and a legal argument.

Virtually the whole House of Representatives deserted their own chamber and came over to stand up in the Senate. General admission to the Senate galleries was suspended, and admission was by card. Long before the hour for Bailey to speak the galleries were filled and great crowds were standing outside all the doors. After a while the doorkeepers opened the doors so that those outside might hear something.

No one talked about anything else but the speech all the evening. Senators were gathered in knots discussing it after the Senate adjourned.

Carving a Name.

I wrote my name upon the sand, And I wrote it on the waves that ran; But soon, alas! the restless sea, Had washed my feeble lines away. I carved my name upon the wood, And, after years, returned again; I missed the shadow of the tree, That stretched of old upon the plain. To solid marble, next, my name I gave as a perpetual name: An earthquake rent it to its base, And now it lies forgotten with the dust. All these have failed. In wisest mood I turn and ask myself, "What then?" I'd would have my name endure, In characters of living light, Or kindly deeds and actions wrought, And these, beyond the touch of time, Shall live immortal as my thought. —Horatio Alger.

You Have Often Seen Women.

With marked blueness or paleness of face, vitiated appetites and a craving for unwholesome food. These are signs of disordered liver, and the trouble must be corrected or worse results are sure to follow. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy dispels liver disease. Husbands and fathers cannot afford to treat this matter lightly.

Exchange Pick-Ups.

Mr. Editor—Spring is coming slowly but surely. Some farmers have commenced plowing.

Jno. Yeagle left Monday for the Bloomsburg Normal, where he will take a teacher's course.

Roscoe Mohr transacted business at Montourville last week.

Wm. Dildine and wife spent Sunday with the former's parents at White Hall.

Mrs. Jacob Holdren and Mrs. Eighow, of White Hall, visited at Houghton's one day last week.

F. B. Kilia is shaking with his many friends, after an absence of a year in the West.

Mrs. C. J. Yeagle spent last week with her parents at Watsontown.

Two more new houses are being added to our town.

A saw mill has been installed in Dildine's planing mill, making another industry. That is what our town wants plenty of industries and then the people will find the town.

S. J. Dennen is building a 'phone line to connect with the Peoples Telephone line at this place.

Mr. Frank Smith and family spent Sunday in our city.

Miss Marshall and friend, of Williamsport, visited at Wm. R. Mills' last Sunday.

Mrs. George Marshall, who has been sick, is better at this writing.

Miss Jennie Treon is seriously ill of measles.

A Car and a Wheelbarrow.

Wm. C. Ford, the Green, visited England in 1908 William Hill, hired Sayes Court, the manor house of Deptford, for use as his court and palace, near the King's dockyard, where he proposed to instruct himself in ship-building and to work as a shipwright. During his tenancy the czar every morning either wheeled his favorite Menzikoof or was himself wheeled in a barrow in every direction over the cherished beds, walks and borders, tramping all into one general wreck. A path was broken through Mr. Evelyn's famous and almost impregnable holly hedge, which was 400 feet long, 9 feet high and 5 feet thick. In short, he did so much damage during his three months residence from January 20 to April 21 that Mr. Evelyn had as compensation £150 from the government.

AN EASTER PICTURE OF HIGHEST MERIT

Lithograde in Ten Printings With The North American.

An Easter picture that fits the occasion is one of the timely features provided for the delectation of buyers of the Sunday North American for April 15. Nearly all of the articles and pictures in the paper for Easter Sunday breathe the Easter spirit, but the one that will appeal most strongly is a handsome lithograde of a little girl surrounded by rabbits—the child's Easter animal.

To give to the artist a full and perfect expression of his work, the printer have done the picture in ten printings, getting into the composition every shading of color that can be produced by mechanical means. The result is a delicate, finished reproduction, even more attractive than the wonderfully faithful original.

The Gilson picture series will be continued on Sunday, April 22. The circulation of the Sunday North American has increased over 30,000 copies in the last sixty days. Next Sunday will be larger than ever. See your news dealer and place your order now.

Comly.

Mr. Editor:—As Comly hasn't been reported for a long time, I will give a few happenings. Some of the readers of the Intelligencer said that the Comly writer must be dead, for they haven't seen any news in the paper from this place for a long time.

The rain Monday and Tuesday makes us think that spring is here. The grass and wheat is beginning to look green. Plowing will soon be in progress.

Mr. F. S. Peeling is kept very busy, as he has just received a lot of spring goods.

Thomas Watt has been busy the last week. He is the Assessor.

Quite a number of the people of this vicinity have moved. Hope they all like their new homes.

James Watt is setting posts for a new fence.

James Probst, who has been on the sick list, is slowly improving.

F. S. Peeling has built another warehouse. He means business.

The first day of May the new mail carrier will start to carry the mail from Comly to Turbotville again.

The schools around here closed last Thursday.

Quite a number of the farmers are hauling their phosphate.

The roads were beginning to dry off nicely but the rain has again made them bad.

Lizzie Kerstetter spent Tuesday abroad.

Mackin Plotts is preparing to build a new barn this summer.

Ira Shade had the misfortune to lose a horse.

Misses Edith and Murtie Marr spent Saturday with friends at Otawata.

John Smith and wife, of Light street is visiting friends around this place.

John Snyder, who has been working on the Western Union Telegraph line, spent a few weeks at home.

The Watts, carpenters and apprentice, are kept busy.

Alice Smith, of the Danville hospital, is spending a week or more with her brother and mother of this place.

Since J. S. Schooley has moved Comly Court has been going back. He was one of the Judges and it seems that he is no one as suitable for the office. James Watt and J. S. Schooley both served their offices very far away. April 9, '06.

When the Thunder Rolls.

Excellent authorities agree that in a thunderstorm the middle of a room is much the safest place in a house. A carpeted floor or one covered by a heavy rug is better to stand on than bare wood. It is well to keep away from chimneys and out of cellars. In the open air tall trees are dangerous
